KAISER A BENEFACTOR, VON HERTLING INSISTS

Text of His Speech Makes Disavowal of Conquest.

"The Tribune" this morning prints the text of the address by the German imperial chancellor, Count von Hertling, before the Reichstag on Monday. It is given as cabled last night by the Associated press. Earlier reports of the speech were fragmentary and disconnected.

VON HERTLING'S ADDRESS.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 26.—Following Chancellor von Hertling's address to the reichstag:

"The reichstag has a right to receive an explanatory statement in regard to the foreign situation and the attitude of the government concerning it. I will meet the obligation arising therefrom, even though I entertain certain doubts as to the utility and success of dialogues carried on by ministers and statesmen of belligerent countries.

Refers to Runciman.

"Mr. Runciman in the house of commons recently expressed the opinion that we would get much nearer peace if, instead of this, responsible representatives of the belligerent powers would come together in an intimate meeting for discussion. I can only agree with him that that would be the way to remove numerous intentional and unintentional misunderstandings and compel our enemies to take our words as they are meant, and on their part also to show their colors.

"I cannot, at any rate, discover that the words which I spoke here on two occasions were received in hostile countries objectively and without prejudice. Moreover, discussion in an intimate gathering alone could lead to understanding on many individual questions which can really be settled only by compromise.

Calls Belgium a Menace.

"It has been repeatedly said that we do not contemplate retaining Belgium, but that we must be safeguarded from the danger of a country with which we desire after the war to live in peace and friendship becoming the object or the jumping off ground of enemy machinations. If, therefore, a proposal came from the opposing side, for example, from the government in Havre, we should not adopt an antagonistic attitude, even though the discussion at first might only be unbinding.

"Meanwhile it does not appear as if Mr. Runciman's suggestion has a chance of assuming tangible shape, and I must adhere to the existing methods of dialogue across the channel and ocean.

Discusses Wilson's Principles.

"Adopting this method, I readily admit that President Wilson's message of Feb. 11 represents, perhaps, a small step toward a mutual rapprochement. I therefore, pass over the preliminary and excessively long declarations in order to address myself immediately to the four principles which, in President Wilson's opinion, must be applied in a mutual exchange of views.

"The first clause says that each part of the final settlement must be based upon the essential justice of that particular case and upon such adjustments as are most likely to bring a peace that will be permanent.

"Who would contradict this? The phrase coined by the great father of the church, Augustin, fifteen hundred years ago—'Justitia fundamentum regnorum'—is still valid today. Certain it is that only peace based in all its parts on the principles of justice has a prospect of endurance.

Bartering of Peoples.

"The second clause expresses the desire that peoples and provinces shall not be bartered about from sovereignty to sovereignty as if they were mere chattels and pawns in a game, even the great game, now forever discredited, of the balance of power.

"This clause, too, can be unconditionally assented to. Indeed, one wonders that the president of the United States considered it necessary to emphasize it anew. This clause contains a polemic against conditions long vanished, views against cabinet politics and cabinet wars, against mixing state territory and princely and private property, which belong to a past that is far behind us.

"I do not want to be discourteous, but when one remembers the earlier

PETROGRAD IN PERIL; TROTZKY MAY BE OUSTED

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Petrograd reports that there has been a disagreement in the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates regarding the evacuation of Petrograd, and that the retirement of Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevik foreign minister, is imminent.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT
[SPECIAL CABLE TO CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 26.—The Japanese minister here learned today from Japan's Petrograd embassy that it will leave immediately for Harbin and that the United States and entente legations will leave Russia entirely.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—The state department was advised by Ambassador Francis today that yesterday the German army was only eight hours' march from Petrograd and that he was preparing to leave the Russian capital with his staff.

The message, which was sent by way of Peking, said Mr. Francis would join the Chinese and Japanese diplomats, also preparing to leave. It did not refer to plans of the European diplomats.

Unofficial advices received here from London said the British and other entente embassies had also made preparation to flee.

Arrangements have been made to move the Americans in Moscow to Samara, 500 miles to the east. No immediate occupation of Moscow by German troops is expected, but it was thought advisable to move the Americans.

"REVOLUTION IN PERIL."

PETROGRAD, Feb. 26.—An official proclamation issued today, calling upon the people to defend the capital, says:

"In spite of the fact that the government has accepted the peace conditions imposed by the German and Austrian governments, the imperialist assassins are nevertheless continuing their monstrous advance into the inner provinces of Russia. The cursed minions of William and the German Kaledines, together with the White guards, are advancing again and shooting the

120 FOE CRAFT BROUGHT DOWN ON WEST FRONT

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Seventy-five enemy aircraft were brought down by the Royal Flying corps on the western front from Feb. 1 to 22 inclusive, according to an announcement today by the British air ministry.

In the same period thirty-nine enemy aircraft were driven down out of control and six enemy aircraft were brought down by anti-aircraft defenses and infantry.

Against these 120 machines of the enemy, says the statement, twenty-eight of the allies' are missing. The weight of bombs dropped during the month to Feb. 22 was sixty-five tons.

On the Italian front, since the arrival of the British airmen to the present time, fifty-eight enemy machines, principally German, have been destroyed. The British losses for the same period were eight.

Many hostile machines, the statement adds, have been driven down out of control.

BARE HEAD AND BLUE BIRDS AS SPRING HERALDS

Arrival of spring in Highland Park has caused residents to quit worrying about the coal supply.

Frank Green, the village ice cream man, took his hat off for the season. The oldest residents can't remember when Frank guessed wrong about the season. When spring comes he discards all headgear and goes bare-headed and bald-headed until winter.

The few persons who felt that Frank may have acted hastily this year had all their doubts swept away during the afternoon when Dr. Baker Hamilton, running back to his office after luncheon, announced that he had seen a flock of twenty bluebirds.

"These little birds never make a mistake," the doctor said.

RUSH TROOPS TO QUELL IRISH

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The outbreak of lawlessness in County Clare, Ireland, it is announced officially, made necessary Sunday the sending of additional troops to the county to assist the police. County Clare has been declared a special area under the defense of the realm act, which is tantamount to martial law.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Recent statements in London newspapers of all shades of political belief that lawlessness was spreading alarmingly in the west and south of Ireland, were supplemented today by the Times' Dublin correspondent.

The law is ignored in Clare, Sligo, Roscommon, and Mayo, the correspondent says. The police are in daily conflict with lawbreakers.

The telegraph wires have been cut and trees are thrown across the roads daily to hinder the movements of troops and police. Farms are being seized in the name of the Irish republic.

Stop Export of Pigs.

Dublin is particularly startled over the successful attempt of the Sinn Fein to stop the exportation of pigs, which the Sinn Feiners declare it is their intention to continue.

The general belief, the correspondent says, is that the police and troops have received orders to avoid conflicts with lawbreakers, but that if this was intended to preserve the Irish convention atmosphere it has failed lamentably.

Irish Convention Forgotten.

The state of the country now is so serious that the people are wholly absorbed in this and have forgotten the very existence of the Irish convention.

The correspondent concludes by saying that if a national government were established tomorrow it would be compelled to begin its functions with a system of coercion.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The Stockholm correspondent of the Morning Post says the Swedish foreign office states that a number of Finnish White guards who were captured without arms have been murdered, and that owing to these outrages the British, American, Spanish, and French consuls, on the initiative of the Swedish consul general at Helsingfors, have addressed a protest to the newly established Socialist government at Finland.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The municipality of Reval, captured Monday by the Germans, has published a manifesto declaring the independence of Esthonia, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Petrograd. A provisional government of citizens has prohibited participation in the Russo-German war.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The newspaper Nash Viek of Petrograd, a Reuter dispatch says, declares that when the Germans were seven versts from Reval they sent emissaries to the town, who announced that in view of the declaration of Esthonian independence, the Germans were coming as guests, not as conquerors.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The war office report on aerial operations tonight says:

"Twelve hundred bombs were dropped Monday night. The chief targets were airdromes south of Ghent, west of Tournai, and in the neighborhood of Courtrai."

GERMANS HIT PERSHING LINE NORTH OF TOUL

Americans Repel Attack Like Veterans.

(By the Associated Press.)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Feb. 26.—Three American soldiers were killed and nine badly "gassed" in two formidable gas attacks made by the Germans on the American positions in the Toul sector early this morning with projectors.

The enemy also heavily bombarded the American batteries with gas shells, but without result.

Only the excellent preparatory training in quickness by the American troops prevented the projector attacks, the first experienced by them, from causing more casualties.

Attacks Ten Minutes Apart.

The attacks were made within ten minutes of each other and were directed at a certain wood. Seventy-five 8 inch shells of 80 per cent gas and twenty high explosive shells were fired from German minenwerfer.

The flight of the projectiles was traced through the air, the gas shells bursting in the air and the high explosives detonating when they came in contact with the earth. Large fragments of shells flew from both missiles.

The gas caught some of the men before they were able to adjust their masks and overcame others while they were asleep in dugouts.

U. S. Guns Retaliate.

The American artillery Monday retaliated against the German artillery, which had been shelling them, but which, notwithstanding the intensity of the fire, did no damage and wounded only one man.

The Americans began by shelling Mont Sec, where buildings were destroyed. They also effectively shot up a large working party in a dugout, from which cries for help were heard. The enemy today concentrated his fire on a certain town within the American lines.

The weather cleared today and there was much aerial activity. Several fights in the air occurred over and behind the American line, and in addition the American anti-aircraft guns were firing all day long.

Enemy planes attacked a sausage balloon in which an American captain was acting as observer. The balloon was hauled down hurriedly without having been damaged.

HOW AMERICANS WENT OVER TO FIRST RAIDING VICTORY.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
[Copyright: 1918: By The Tribune Company.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Feb. 26.—The "zero minute" was 6:30, and they went over the top with the early morning light in their faces and determination in their hearts. The day was Saturday, Feb. 23. The place was the Chemin des Dames sector. The occasion was the first allied raid on the western front in which the American soldiers participated as such. The German first line trenches and a batch of prisoners was the dual objective, and it was more than accomplished.

In the absence of any official information from the American expeditionary forces intelligence department, fifteen correspondents who were not permitted to observe the Chemin des Dames raid are indebted for this cable information to Frank P. Sibley, the mail correspondent of the Boston Globe, who brought the details to these headquarters and gave them to the American public in the name of his paper.

STOP PRINTING RATHOM'S EXPOSE OF GERMAN PLOT

"In accordance with a mutual agreement between the World's Work and John R. Rathom, editor of the Providence Journal, the World's Work will discontinue the publication of the series of articles entitled, 'Germany's Plots Exposed,' written by Mr. Rathom."

The New York World says:

"The articles written by Mr. Rathom for the World's Work were widely heralded as affording a complete exposé of German intrigue and propaganda obtained at first hand by the author. The first article appeared in the February number of the periodical. Following its appearance the attention of the government was directed to some of its statements. An inquiry was made by a committee.

The World claims to have information that the administration suggested that the articles be discontinued.

CITY HALL MEN LOSE AT POLLS; LUNDIN BEATEN

Mulvihill Goes Down at Primaries; Also De Priest.

The Thompson-Lundin city hall administration suffered crushing defeat at yesterday's aldermanic primaries. Wherever Thompsonism was an issue, direct or implied, the voters banged the heads of the city hall candidates. It was a field day for the loyal support of Uncle Sam and the war he has on his hands.

The Seventh ward nominated Guy Guernsey with a plurality of 1,551 over William F. Mulvihill, an assistant corporation counsel, who was the only aldermanic aspirant in the whole city who dared to get into the open as an avowed pro-Thompsonite.

Lundin Loses Precinct.

Fred Lundin and Ald. Michaelson, the mayor's recognized council spokesman and floor leader, lost their own ward, the Thirty-third, where Albert O. Anderson gave a knockout to J. Walter Nielsen, the city hall's entry.

Anderson's majority was 689 and Fred Lundin lost his home precinct—the Seventy-first—for Nielsen by a margin of two men's votes.

In the Second ward, where the city hall, in the last hours before the polls opened, took the open in behalf of Oscar De Priest, the indicted Negro ex-alderman, Maj. Robert R. Jackson was nominated by a margin of 292 votes after one of the most blood-curdling political contests ever fought in the Black Belt.

The blight of Thompsonitis that Ald. Frank J. Link's managers were able to hang upon Clyde I. Backus—though hotly repudiated by Backus—served to swing the balance against Backus in the Twenty-fifth ward, and Ald. Link was renominated with a lead of 1,471 votes.

Only One Victory.

The city hall machine was permitted to pick a crumb of comfort in the Thirty-first, where Smoke Inspector Reid won out with his candidate, Charles A. Nicholls, who defeated Ald. Pegram by 183 votes. Nicholls, a former cog in the Deneen organization in this ward, was said to have the support of a big section of the Deneen forces in this, the home ward of the former governor. Eleventh hour efforts to line up the Deneen Republicans for Pegram failed. He is the only sitting alderman to have been defeated for a renomination yesterday.

Some Other Results.

The Withall organization in the Twenty-ninth ward, formerly with the Deneen people and later lined up with the city hall, nominated Richard Farrell over Ralph G. Hunter, running independently of the Republican factions, by 299.

Thomas J. Healy and the Deneen organization in the Thirtieth ward won with Otto H. Teschner over Deputy Coroner Michael G. Walsh by 573 votes. The Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth are heavily Democratic wards.

The city hall can claim a victory in the Fourteenth, where the organization candidate, backed by Committeeman Todd, defeated Todd's own brother by 956 votes. The Democratic Eleventh had a neighborhood row, which was won by John C. Kruse, backed by the Barrett neutral organization.

Sullivan Men Control.

Every sitting Democratic alderman was renominated, and the Sullivan regulars as a general rule were in easy control of the Democratic nominations all over the city. Ald. John H. Bauler in the Twenty-second had the hardest tussle. Ald. Bauler defeated State Representative Frank J. Seif Jr. by only 107 plurality in a five cornered fight.

Barney Grogan suffered another defeat in the Eighteenth at the hands of the organization led by Assistant State's Attorney Michael F. Sullivan. Sullivan's candidate, Maurice F. Kavanagh, was nominated over Martin Walsh, the Grogan starter, by 1,551 votes. Kavanagh was supported stoutly by the Municipal Voters' league.

Ald. John A. Richert, chairman of the council finance committee, who had been led to believe that he had trouble on his hands, showed a final plurality in the Fourth ward of 2,247. He had the backing of the regular organization, led by Democratic County Chairman James M. Dailey, and the active support of the independent vote in the ward that was stirred up Saturday by the M. V. L.

Mulcahy Is Winner.

The regulars in the Fifth ward, with State Representative Robert J. Mulcahy as their candidate, found themselves up against a real fight made by Frank A. Mulholland, who had the support of the M. V. L. and the Harrison interests. Mulcahy won handily with 962 votes to the good. The friends of Ald. Thomas A. Doyle evidently went along with Mulcahy and made good on the arrangement whereby Doyle becomes a candidate for the legislature.

Ald. Krumdick had the tightest kind of a fight in the Eleventh, forced by former Ald. C. F. Pettkoske, complicated by a split within the regular Democratic organization. Krumdick won by only 173 votes. Ald. McNichols in the Tenth, Ald. Horne in the Thirteenth, and Ald. Smith in the Fourteenth, all regulars, were renominated without trouble.

Surprise in Fifteenth.

In the Fifteenth, Clemens L. Wroblewski, independent of factions, surprised the talent and came up from behind, defeating Anthony J. Conrad, preferred by the regulars and indorsed by the M. V. L.

Ald. Stanley Kunz, who is lined up against the Sullivan regulars at this time, won the Sixteenth for his candidate, John A. Piotrowski, who also carried the indorsement of the M. V. L. Piotrowski's plurality was 2,244. Mrs. L. Kadow, the only woman candidate in Chicago yesterday, was running in this ward. She got 140 votes, ninety-five of which came from women and forty-five were cast by men.

Ald. Byrne in the Twenty-ninth and Ald. O'Toole in the Thirtieth were renominated by sweeping pluralities. The regular organization in the Thirty-first, led by Assessor M. K. Sheridan, had no difficulty in defeating former Ald. Henry P. Bergen. Moran's lead was 1,799. The Walsh regulars in the Thirty-second won out without a tremor with E. J. Tobin.

The fight made by Frank M. Padden in the Thirty-third, with the encouragement of the M. V. L., did not materialize sufficiently to worry the Crowe-Sullivan regulars, who nominated Christian Hede by 483 votes. The regulars nominated Joseph Hopp in the Twenty-fifth and James L. Doherty in the Twenty-seventh.

Rainey Sweeps District.

John W. Rainey, former clerk of the Circuit court, was nominated hands down for congress in the Fourth congressional district, where a successor to the late Congressman Charles Martin will be elected in April. Rainey's total was 7,666 to 2,785 cast for former Congressman James T. McDermott.

The woman's vote had a decisive influence in only one ward contest. Ald. Bauler would have been defeated by State Representative Seif had it not been for the women. Seif led Bauler by four votes of the men voters, while Bauler's majority over Seif in the women's totals was 111, giving him the nomination by 107 plurality.

In every other contest, the winner had a lead both of men's and women's votes.

The figures on the total vote cast were not available last night because the police returns failed to carry any totals in those wards where there were no contests.

SAY EVIDENCE PROVES PLOT; 26 I. W. W. HELD

Portland, Ore., Feb. 26.—Evidence seized by the United States marshal's office Saturday night in a raid on the Portland headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World disclosed the existence, according to officials, of a plot of destruction throughout the northwest.

The proof of the alleged conspiracy was made public here today at the preliminary trial in Municipal court of the twenty-six men arrested. Some were held for federal investigation, others were sent to jail for ten to thirty days, and several were released.

Letters seized by Charles W. Robinson, special government agent, disclosed, officials stated, a plan to disorganize and do damage in lumber camps in the northwest where spruce is being turned out for army and navy airplanes, and thus to upset the work of the Loyal legion organized by Col. Brice P. Disque, United States corps, spruce production division.

Kendall Beaten for Justice in Oak Park After 20 Years

For the first time in twenty years, Arthur J. Kendall was defeated as a candidate for justice of the peace in the village of Oak Park. W. Stevens Lewis had 1,392 votes, against 1,196 for Kendall, in the primaries yesterday.

The vote on candidates for village clerk was:

H. N. Leedaman, 1,017; W. M. Henderson, 892; S. L. Ayres, 844, and Arthur H. Furlong, 727.

The vote on trustees for two years was:

Herbert S. Nelson, 2,512; G. W. Pyott, 2,444; James L. Fyfe, 2,333.

Miss Mathews is the first woman to be named for the library board.

George Walker won the nomination for town supervisor for a term of one year, James P. Willing for the position of town assessor, and G. W. Gale for the office of town collector, all without opposition.

M. V. L. PLEASED AT RESULTS OF DAY'S BALLOTING

BY SAMUEL ADAMS.

[President Municipal Voters' League.]

The Municipal Voters' league feels gratified at the results of today's primaries. In spite of the difficulty in getting the public to give its attention to local matters on account of the war, the voters who went to the polls generally discriminated well.

The league is particularly pleased at the renomination of Alderman Link, who triumphed over a hot and often unfair attack, and of Ald. Richert, who was prevented from making an active canvass by the pressure of work in his committee.

Praise for Democrats.

We are glad that Aldermen Krumdick, Smith and McNichols won out, thus showing that their wards appreciate the value of good council service. Alderman Bauler's renomination is due to his improved voting record.

As to the men who have not yet served in the council, the league wishes especially to congratulate the voters upon the nomination of Guy Guernsey of the Seventh and Albert C. Anderson in the Thirty-third, Republicans. The Democrats have done well in nominating Kavanagh in the Eighteenth, Moran in the Thirty-first, and Piotrowski in the Sixteenth ward.

Lundin Power Gone.

The whole city is to be congratulated that former Alderman De Priest was defeated in the Second ward by Maj. Jackson, whose record in the legislature and general reputation promise well.

The defeat of Mulholland in the Fifth and of Padden in the Thirty-third ward is to be regretted; they are capable men of notable political independence.

The results show that the power of the Thompson-Lundin organization to undermine the council by primary fights against the best candidates of its own party is gone.

AMERICAN JEWS ENLIST TO FIGHT IN HOLY LAND

New York, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—The spirit of David still goes marching on. Under the Shield of David 100 young Jews today took the soldiers' oath and entered the Judean battalion of the British Royal Fusiliers regiment for service in Palestine. The party will leave tomorrow for Boston, where they will join 100 more of their creed. Later they will sail overseas. Other detachments will be organized to follow them across.

The volunteers, most of whom were Russians, had the assurance of the recruiting authorities that they would be assigned to separate units fighting in the vicinity of Palestine in order that they might back up Britain's attempt to win a homeland for the Jews.

Each volunteer wore a brassard around his right arm—it contained the Jewish six pointed star, with the word "Zion" inserted in the center, and above was the legend in Hebrew, "Jewish battalion." The colors were blue and white and the whole was a reproduction of the Shield of David.

The detachment will join 5,000 Jews who had entered Jewish regiments in England. These soldiers are to be the nucleus of a great Palestine army made up of Jews.

PALMER DECLARES FOES TAKE U. S. ARMY SERIOUSLY

New York, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—"The German staff, which is not a poor judge in such matters, was not bothered by our talk of 100,000 aeroplanes in Europe in six months, or by resolutions, or by speeches," Maj. Frederick Palmer declared in a paper read for him tonight before the New York Electrical society.

"If the reports which come to us from France are correct," the paper continued, "the German staff takes the new American army very seriously because we are building this army on sound lines.

"A thoroughly considered program between Washington and France is being worked out. We are not preparing for a few divisions in France, but for fifty, seventy-five, and 100.

"If Hindenburg piles up 500,000 casualties in another Verdun against the western front, that will be the end of him, as it was of Falkenhayn, and there will be no hero to take his place in German public admiration."

Maj. Palmer, who is attached to the intelligence section of Gen. Pershing's staff, prepared his paper before he returned to France last week.

One Arrest During Day Made for Repeating

Robert Gilmartin, who said he lived somewhere on Archer avenue, was arrested yesterday for "repeating" in the Eleventh precinct of the Fifth ward. He was booked under a section which in case of conviction carried a fine of $1,000 or one year in prison or both.

Gilmartin is said to have first voted in his own precinct in the Fifth ward and to have been challenged when he gave the name of Hopkins or Kennedy at the Eleventh precinct polling place. He was allowed to take a ballot and then he was arrested.

NO EARLY END OF WAR, VIEW OF BONAR LAW

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, spoke confidently of the progress of the war at a luncheon today presided over by Lord Northcliffe. Lord Northcliffe said he had studied the coming of the war for twenty years and was not afraid of the German bluff. The Germans had not succeeded in driving the people of the British race or the race coming from across the Atlantic out of anywhere, he declared.

Mr. Bonar Law said it was obvious the war was not going to end soon.

"Germany's conduct in the Russian negotiations," the chancellor added, "shows that she still is determined to carry out the policy with which she entered the war—the conquest of neighboring territories and peoples."

GOMPERS AND BRYAN DEBATE LIQUOR ISSUE

Labor Leader Blames Prohibition for Conditions in Russia.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 26.—For more than five hours today a crowded audience in the room and galleries of the assembly chamber of the state capitol heard men of international reputation argue for and against the ratification by the New York legislature of the federal prohibition amendment.

William Jennings Bryan led the prohibition forces. His principal opponent was Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who was seconded by former United States Senator Bailey of Texas.

Legality Is Attacked.

Mr. Bryan declared prohibition was vital to the success of the United States and its allies.

Mr. Gompers asserted that in the present crisis the people of the country had enough to do in the fighting line by opposing the central powers and that their attention from this most important subject should not be diverted.

Says It Wrecked Russia.

Cheers from the wets and laughs from the drys greeting Mr. Gompers' assertion of his belief that "the conditions in Russia today are primarily due to enforced prohibition."

"Aren't we asking about enough of Germans and Austrian fellow citizens," Mr. Gompers asked, "to be loyal and give their support to this government against the countries of their own birth or the birth of their parents without injecting at this time a question of regulating or prohibiting their normal habits?"

Mr. Bryan was loudly cheered when he arose to speak. There was a query from the gallery of "why did you quit the cabinet?" but this he ignored.

BAKER BLAMED FOR BOND SALES FALLING OFF

Bankers have had to bear the burden of taking over thousands of dollars' worth of Liberty bonds sold on the $1 a week plan and never paid for by the subscriber, was the complaint voiced at the meeting of the Cook County Bankers' club last night. The remedy is to increase the initial payment to $10, it was urged.

M. A. Traylor, president of the Live Stock Exchange National bank, asserted that too many bankers looked at their profit column and fail to see their country, declaring that when a banker does that he "sells his country, his brother, his friends." He rapped Secretary Baker's utterances as inimical to the success of Liberty loan sales.

"If there was ever an untrue and unfortunate remark made, it was that this war is 3,000 miles away," he declared. "It is at our doors and it is up to us to educate the people to that fact."

JUDGE LANDIS FIXES 3 YEARS AS WAR LENGTH

In the opinion of Judge Kenesaw M. Landis the war will last three years longer. This opinion was elicited when sentence was pronounced yesterday upon Walter Ragausky, convicted Jan. 21, last, of threatening the life of President Wilson.

Denying motions for a new trial and in arrest of judgment, Judge Landis said:

"If this man was 'joking,' he chose a poor time to exercise his sense of humor. I shall give him three years in Fort Leavenworth to correct his jesting. The reason I do not give him the maximum penalty of five years is that I think three years will be the duration of the war."

ALD. SCHWARTZ IS HONORED.

Beth Jacob congregation, Forty-fourth street and St. Lawrence avenue, yesterday presented Ald. U. S. Schwartz of the Third ward with a loving cup in recognition of services rendered.

JUDGE ORDERS WRITING OF NEW ARSENE LUPIN

Albert Beach, 53, who says he has spent twenty years of his life in prisons, was yesterday sentenced to serve sixty days in the bridewell by Judge Newcomer in the South Clark street court on a charge of shoplifting and ordered to write a book on his experience as a sort of warning for persons who have similar inclinations.

In his reminiscences yesterday Beach recalled the time he had strolled out of Tiffany's in New York with a carved ivory statue of Confucius worth $6,000. Then there was the episode in Maiden Lane. The enormous diamond was concealed in the wad of chewing gum which reposed in Mr. Beach's jaw.

A fond smile illumined Mr. Beach's face as the judge pronounced sentence of "sixty days in the house of correction." Tripping nonchalantly up the steps of the kelly wagon, he settled himself comfortably among the cushions and observed curtly:

"Home, Jarvis."

Milk Producers Hopeful of Higher Price Schedule

Believing that the national food administration will refigure the prices set by the Illinois milk commission, using the present price of feed as a basis, producers in the Chicago zone found further ground for optimism last night when they learned that the New York commission has set the price for March at $3.30 and has allowed the farmer an additional 12 cents a hundred to recoup losses suffered in earlier months. The March price set by the Illinois commission is $2.83.

W. E. Lamb, attorney for the milk division of the national food administration, will arrive in Chicago today. Food Administrator Harry A. Wheeler announced last night. His attitude is expected to be the determining factor in whatever [illegible] is taken.

BLACK BELT HAS ITS BIGGEST DAY; EVERY ONE HAPPY

De Priest People Still Think That Recount Would Win.

"Some day! Some day! A smile and a handshake; a cigar and a free automobile ride for everybody. Some day!"

An old Negro summarized the election day events in the Second ward yesterday afternoon in this way. He stood in front of a polling place in State street, near Thirty-first street, and watched the men and women poll workers rushing up and down State street. A yellow boy poked his head and a big megaphone out of the polling place and shouted:

"Lot a fuss they makes over these elections," continued the old man. "Now what difference does it make who wins? Both are good men. Some say De Priest and some holler for Jackson. I voted for De Priest, but my wife voted for Jackson."

"Happy Land's" Big Day.

It was "Happy Land's" greatest election day. Maj. R. R. Jackson, described on banners and billboards as the "regular Republican organization's candidate for alderman," had 1,000 paid workers in the field, it was said, and former Ald. Oscar De Priest, advertised as the "fearless champion of his race," appeared to have quite as many badge wearers grouped about the precinct polling places.

The Negroes of the ward took a holiday to vote. They thronged State street sidewalks and raced up and down the street in be-bannered automobiles. They laughed and argued and argued and laughed. Every young buck flourished a banded cigar and talked of "my candidate." Gray haired mammies deserted their kitchens to help nominate their man and the young women eschewed the movies for the afternoon while they electioneered.

Nothing Like It in Dixie.

The only quiet ones were the "immigrants" from the south. They watched their northern brothers man the polls and take the tickets with a "tain't real" expression.

"Never saw no election like this in Mobile," one man remarked. "White folks there runs the elections. They let us vote if we vote right. Mostly we don't vote."

The climax came just after the closing of the polls. The headquarters of the rival candidates were jammed with their partisans. Whoops greeted the bearers of returns if they were favorable; silence if the opponent showed a gain.

It was late in the evening before the workers at De Priest headquarters would admit defeat and even then it was generally agreed that a recount would show their man elected.

HANGING URGED FOR ALDERMEN IN NEW YORK

Socialists Who Opposed Thrift Stamp Sales Called Traitors.

New York, Feb. 26.—Accusations of treason and disloyalty were made against Socialist members of the New York board of aldermen during a meeting of that body today. The presentation of a resolution to organize the board into a society for the sale of war thrift savings stamps called forth objections from the Socialists and immediately the meeting was in an excited turmoil.

Various members denounced the Socialists, Algernon Lee, Socialist leader, was called a traitor, and threats were made to expel him.

The resolution was finally adopted over the negative votes of the seven Socialist aldermen.

Use of Rope Urged.

In objecting to the measure, proposed by a speaker in behalf of the local war savings thrift stamp committee, Lee said:

"Everything that glitters is not gold, and everything that is done in the name of patriotism is not patriotic."

Ald. Squires, characterizing Lee's objection as "direct disloyalty, declared that the Socialist party had betrayed Russia and would betray the United States if it dared.

"What is wanted in the nation is a committee who will use the rope on such citizens," shouted Ald. Kenneally.

Treason Charge Denied.

When Lee attempted to interrupt, Kenneally, pointing to a large American flag, turned on the Socialist leader, shouting, "I'll take that flag into the side room and he'll kiss it or he'll go out the window."

This precipitated a demonstration, but order was restored and Lee continued: "I hurl back the epithet of 'traitor' to those who mouthed it. There is no man who stands for the traditions of Lincoln more than I, nor of President Wilson's Americanism of the right of every man to kick and kick hard."

Lee explained he opposed the resolution because it amounted to a form of coercion to compel city employés to buy stamps and people "who are already overtaxed to pay another tax."

MERRIAM PICKED U. S. PROPAGANDA CHIEF IN ITALY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Capt. Charles E. Merriam of the aviation section, signal reserve corps, former University of Chicago professor, today was ordered to Rome to take charge of the Italian headquarters of the United States government propaganda bureau.

Capt. Merriam will organize a bureau in Rome to disseminate correct information of American war aims and war activities and offset the German propaganda which aided the drive into Italy.

He was ordered to Washington by Secretary of War Baker and will sail within a few days. Secretary Baker believes Capt. Merriam's experience as a professor of political economy and his later service as alderman in Chicago will be useful in the work in Rome.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Final action in two court martial cases, which have stirred up a storm of criticism in the navy, was taken by Secretary of the Navy Daniels today when it was announced that Lieutenant Commander E. Friedrick, recently relieved of command of the U. S. S. Nahma, had been assigned to a subordinate post on the battleship North Carolina.

Secretary Daniels had previously announced Capt. Victor Blue had been reassigned to command the superdreadnaught Texas. The assignment of Lieutenant Commander Friedrick writes finis to the official record of the recent court martial of these two officers, but it only served to add fuel to the heat of discussion of the two cases.

Lieutenant Commander Friedrick was convicted by court martial for firing upon an Italian submarine last October in the Mediterranean. He was found guilty and sentenced to loss of thirty numbers. The trial court recommended clemency, every member signing a request that the sentence, which the court by regulations was bound to impose, be lightened. The Italian government, through Ambassador Cellere, also made a written request of Secretary Daniels for clemency in Lieutenant Commander Friedrick's case, holding that the commander of the Italian submarine was partially at fault.

More Lenient with Blue.

Secretary Daniels rejected the appeals for clemency, reduced Friedrick thirty numbers, and relieved him of command of the Nahma.

While this case was pending a second court martial case was brought to Secretary Daniels for action. This was the case against Capt. Victor Blue, charged with running the battleship Texas aground on Long Island. The court martial verdict was guilty, and the court ordered that Capt. Blue be demoted twenty numbers. Admiral Mayo, commanding the Atlantic fleet, recommended that this sentence be reduced to a loss of ten numbers.

Secretary Daniels approved this lighter sentence in the case of Capt. Blue. He followed this with announcement that Capt. Blue had been reassigned to command the Texas.

Daniels Is Criticized.

Naval officers were open in their criticism of Secretary Daniels' action in penalizing the officer in one case while rewarding another officer after similar trial.

The record in the court martial of Lieutenant Commander Friedrick showed extenuating circumstances which, naval officers insisted, should have inspired executive clemency in his behalf.

At the trial it was brought out that Friedrick was operating in a German submarine infested zone of the Mediterranean under ironclad instructions not to stop after attack upon a submarine, but to circle at speed in the vicinity of the attack until daybreak.

No Response to Signal.

There was testimony at his trial to show that a few hours before he fired on the Italian submarine a British commander had warned him of sighting two German submarines in the vicinity. When he sighted a submarine, therefore, he assumed it to be one of the German U-boats, but first he signaled the submarine to inquire its nationality.

The Italian vessel did not respond by flashing the proper signal, whereupon Friedrick opened fire with full steam ahead and continued to circle around the submarine, continuing to fire, ignoring a signal from the submarine that there was a wounded man aboard.

When brought to trial Friedrick accepted full responsibility. He refused to place the blame on the Italian officers. There was nothing the court martial could do but find him guilty of a technical violation.

Blue From North Carolina.

Rear Admiral Wilson, who had but a short time before been relieved of command of the convoy fleet in the war zone after sinking of the American transport Antilles and transferred to command in the Mediterranean, transmitted the court martial finding to Secretary Daniels. Secretary Daniels in approving the verdict said he was guided by the action of Admiral Wilson, who had made no recommendation of clemency.

Secretary Daniels made the same explanation of his action in approving the Capt. Victor Blue court martial finding, being guided in both cases by the recommendations of commanding officers, Admiral Mayo recommending clemency for Capt. Blue.

After being assigned command of the Texas, Capt. Blue was chief of the bureau of navigation in the navy department. He is from Secretary Daniels' state, North Carolina, and was the secretary's closest adviser and chief backer in the clash between naval officers, headed by Rear Admiral Bradley Fiske and Secretary Daniels, over naval policies.

RIG BLANKETS AS SAIL; SAVE U-BOAT HOUND

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—Safe arrival at a European port of a 110 foot submarine chaser with a French crew aboard which had not been heard from since Jan. 15 was announced today by the navy department. The little craft was separated from her escort during a terrific gale while bound for Europe.

No navigating instruments were aboard, but, after being blown far off their course the Frenchmen estimated their position and headed for port. To their remarkable seamanship is attributed the success of the voyage.

With the engines disabled by the storm the crew rigged up sails from bed coverings and sailed for thirty-nine days.

Lost Escort Jan. 15.

Secretary Daniels announced the news in this statement:

"I was delighted to receive a message today telling of the arrival in port of an American built submarine chaser which became separated from its escort in the terrific gale of Jan. 15, had not been reported since that time, and which we feared was lost. This was one of the 110 foot boats which we are turning over to the French government, and was manned by a French crew, which saved the craft by a remarkable feat of navigation.

Work on Short Rations.

"In the storm, which was one of the worst on record, the engines were disabled and the boat left adrift far out at sea. The crew managed to rig up a sail made from bed coverings, and were able to make two or three knots an hour before the wind. There were no navigating instruments except a compass on board, and the crew had to estimate their positions. They sailed for thirty-nine days, going on short rations, and finally reached port."

BARUCH TO BE LIKE MINISTER OF MUNITIONS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—President Wilson will meet the demand for creation of a ministry of munitions, according to insistent reports today, by greatly extending the powers of the chairman of the war industries board.

Bernard M. Baruch of New York is slated for appointment as chairman of this board, succeeding Daniel Willard, resigned.

The plans under consideration call for concentrating in the hands of the chairman of the war industries board powers now distributed among the supply chiefs of all the government purchasing agencies.

At Miss Wilson's request, it has been arranged that she shall sing principally at isolated posts.

U. S. Vessel Goes to Aid of Crippled British Ship

An Atlantic Port, Feb. 26.—Naval authorities today ordered a government vessel to the assistance of a British steamer which reported that it was in trouble off the north Atlantic coast. A message from the steamer relayed to this port said that its rudder was broken and the craft was at the mercy of a southwest gale.

GERMANS KILL 3 U. S. SOLDIERS AND "GAS" NINE

the particular work assigned to him. The raiding party consisted of 100 men. Twenty-six of them were Americans chosen from a clamorous multitude of volunteers which offered themselves for the service.

The lucky twenty-six came from two companies of a certain battalion of a certain regiment which is hoping to do something bigger some day and force the censor to permit the mention of its name and number.

Guns Pave the Way.

Ten minutes before 6 found the twenty-six Americans and seventy-four Frenchmen standing on the firing step of the French trench from which the advance was to be made. At that minute the concentrated French and American artillery dropped a sizzling hot barrage on the enemy front line, driving the Germans into their shelters.

At the same time the heavier and longer range batteries dispensed generous helpings of gas shells in the vicinity of the German battery positions, making them practically untenable and preventing the establishment of a German counter barrage.

For forty minutes the deluge of hot steel and high explosives changed the German front line into a spouting row of dirt, mud and debris, and cut a huge swath in the enemy's wire entanglements.

Then the "zero minute" arrived. As the commanding officer's watch ticked the thirty-fifth minute after 6, the 100 Frenchmen and Americans went over the top almost shoulder to shoulder.

Americans Gains on Barrage.

The advancing line was preceded by a barrage fire of the creeping variety whose progress was timed to the ordered progress of the advancing line. As is usual with new troops, the pace seemed too slow for them and the Americans began gaining on the barrage until they were within thirty yards of the line of bursting shells, at which point their commanders succeeded in slackening their pace.

"It was like walking behind a street sweeper," one of the raiders said afterward. "It was a cinch. Everything was landing on Fritz and nothing coming our way. It hardly seemed fair."

The raid had been planned at a time when it was known that the Germans were engaged in the relief of the front line. A German captain and his lieutenant were making the rounds, inspecting the newly taken over posts, when the barrage fell. They, with thirty of the new relief, were forced to take refuge in a shallow shelter inside the trench. Débris went into the air in splinters when the creeping barrage hit it, and the surviving Germans scrambled out in all directions.

Clean Out German Dugouts.

Most of them fell into the hands of the French-American raiding party, which arrived just behind the curtain of fire. The prisoners were disarmed and ordered to the rear, while the raiders continued to advance by way of the communicating trenches, cleaning out the dugouts as they went.

An American would bang open the dugout door with a rifle butt and shout in, "Anybody coming out?" and, upon receiving no answer, he would shout, "Look out below," and let loose a hand grenade. The raiders succeeded in penetrating a distance of over a thousand yards into the German first line positions when they were recalled by the officers. They had gone beyond their objective.

During the return across No Man's Land the Germans succeeded in dropping a partial barrage, through which the raiders had to make their way. Six Frenchmen and five German prisoners were wounded by this shell fire, but none of the twenty-six Americans was injured.

"Lookit What We Got!"

Two of these khaki clad figures were herding four big Prussians toward their own trench when they stopped by their smiling colonel in an observation post.

"O, colonel!" shouted one of them as his enthusiasm overcame army discipline. "Lookit what we got!"

And the colonel did not mind. He said later that he himself felt like telephoning back to the general and saying:

"Yoo-hoo, Skinny! C'mon over—run like everythin'!"

The prisoners were Prussians and numbered twenty-two, two of whom were the quite disgusted captain and lieutenant. The booty consisted of several sacks of captured documents and one machine gun.

Americans Twelve to Good.

The censorship will not permit the mention of the branch of the United States army to which the troops engaged in this activity on the Chemin des Dames belong, but it is permitted to say that they are not on the line under the same direction as those on the Toul front. The Chemin des Dames troops are proud of the fact that, to date, they have captured all the Germans taken by Americans during the war; while the Americans taken by the Germans were captured from the other organizations. The prisoner score stands today with the Americans twelve to the good.

BROWNING GUN GETS OFFICIAL TRIAL TODAY

Output of Several Thousand Weekly Predicted by June.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—The new Browning machine gun, which is declared by army ordnance officers to be the best machine gun yet produced, will be given its first public test at a demonstration here tomorrow before Secretary of War Baker, army officers, members of congress, and the press.

The gun is now being manufactured in three factories. One hundred guns have been delivered. The war department estimates that by June, several thousand guns will be turned out each week for the army.

Twenty enlisted machine gunners will give an exhibition test at the Congress Heights rifle range. The gunners will be arranged in line of skirmishers prone, and will open fire semi-automatic, firing at will until one magazine is exhausted.

Baker Expresses Satisfaction.

The gunners will reload and will exhaust the second magazines in short burst of automatic fire. The gunners will then reload, rise, and advance five paces, and open automatic fire from the hip, emptying the magazines.

One soldier will illustrate the firing from the shoulder and hip, both automatically and semi-automatically. The gun then will be taken apart and explained.

"It is a matter of satisfaction," Secretary Baker said in announcing the tests, "that there has been no delay in bringing the quantity manufacture of the Browning rifle to a point which promises adequate supplies for the trench warfare of the expeditionary force and an ample opportunity to give the necessary training in the use of these guns to the mobilized army."

U. S. Supremacy Assured.

"Production of the Colt-Browning machine gun, known as the heavy Browning type, and intended more as a defensive weapon, will begin within a few weeks at four factories.

"These two types of machine guns, the inventions of John M. Browning, whose achievements as a firearms designer have given him world renown, supplement each other in their respective fields," Secretary Baker said.

"The official tests made by the ordnance department of the Browning guns, taken in connection with general machine gun equipment and plans, assure to the United States army supremacy in this field of equipment."

WAR FINANCE BILL IS CALLED "SOCIALISTIC"

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Characterizing the war finance corporation bill as highly socialistic, Senator Hollis of New Hampshire told the senate today that he would support the measure, although it would help the rich and not help the poor.

Senator Hollis also voiced the hope that Wall street would have nothing to do with the operation of the proposed law.

"The bill authorizes aid directly to firms and corporations," Senator Hollis declared. "It is a capitalists' bill. I want it to help persons as well as corporations; farmers as well as financiers and munition makers.

"We were told last summer not to have high income taxes so that capitalists might have capital for business purposes.

"The result is we are now asked to finance private business because capitalists have no money for private business. They are spending their incomes at Palm Beach and the government must finance their business."

GERMAN 'WOLF' IN LAMB'S SKIN RAIDS MANY SEAS

Spanish Steamer Sunk.

MADRID, Feb. 26.—A dispatch from Bilbao says the Spanish steamer Neguri has been sunk by a submarine. The crew was landed on Ferro island, one of the Canary group.

Raider's Victim Goes Ashore.

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 26.—The Spanish steamship Igotz Mendi, of 4,648 tons, with a German prize crew from the Pacific ocean on board, is ashore near the Skaw lighthouse.

The prisoners on the Igotz Mendi were taken from six ships which had been sunk. Several of the prisoners had been aboard the vessel for eight months while it cruised in the Pacific ocean.

Twenty-two persons, including nine women, two children, and two Americans, have been landed by a lifeboat from the Skaw.

Captured Nine Months Ago.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The steamship Igotz Mendi, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph company, was captured by the German auxiliary cruiser Wolf nine months ago in the Gulf of India. The German navigators who were placed aboard had been following the Wolf ever since.

The Wolf has reached port, after a raiding expedition of fifteen months in the Atlantic, Pacific, and Indian oceans, the German admiralty announced yesterday. A British statement gave the names of eleven ships assumed to have been destroyed by the Wolf, one of which was the Igotz Mendi.

Wolf Disguised as Lamb.

American and English seamen on board the Spanish steamer Igotz Mendi, says a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Copenhagen, assert that they were captured May 21 last, when the Igotz Mendi was on her way to Australia with coal. About midday a 6,000 ton merchantman, painted black, appeared on the horizon, steaming slowly. Suddenly the steamer detected the Igotz Mendi and made for her at full speed.

One of the sides of the strange steamer was removed, displaying a number of cannon. Several shots were fired at the Igotz Mendi, which was forced to stop. It then was discovered that the strange steamer was the German auxiliary cruiser Wolf. The Wolf hoisted a German flag and a prize crew was sent aboard the Igotz Mendi.

The next victim was the British steamer Matunga, which had a valuable cargo. The British sailors were taken aboard the Wolf and evidently were well treated.

American Bark Sunk.

All three ships then proceeded to desert the vicinity of the Dutch islands, where part of the Matunga's cargo was stored. The Wolf took aboard the most valuable portions of this cargo. The Matunga was then sunk by a bomb.

A few days later the American bark Beluga was sunk. Her crew was saved.

The next victim was the Japanese passenger steamer Hitachi Maru, which was crowded with Asiatics. The Wolf being overcrowded a number of prisoners were transferred to the Igotz Mendi. A prize crew was placed on board the Hitachi Maru with orders to capture the coal of the steamer. This, however, they were unable to accomplish and had to return to the Wolf. Thereupon the Hitachi Maru was sunk.

Sails Along African Coast.

The Wolf now was near Australia and the captain decided to return to Germany. The voyage commenced four months ago. The route taken was along the coast of Africa. A sailing vessel was fired on and sunk. The Wolf afterward proceeded at full speed northward, still followed by the Igotz Mendi.

The plan was to go to the north of Iceland, but the heavy ice prevented this. South of Ireland the two ships parted company, the Igotz Mendi going north and the Wolf south.

The seamen said their treatment by the Germans was good, but that discomfort was caused them by vermin and lack of adequate clothing in the cold Atlantic. When the Japanese, Chinese, Negro sailors landed on Danish soil there was a great demonstration of joy, the Negroes dancing.

Enters Kiel Harbor.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 26.—According to the Kiel correspondent of the Cologne Gazette, a copy of which has been received here, the raider Wolf arrived in Kiel harbor Sunday afternoon and the town was beflagged in honor of the occasion.

U. S. AIR CADETS COLLIDE; BOTH KILLED BY FALL

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 26.—William J. Weissinger, a former Washington and Chicago newspaper man, was killed and W. C. Story of Freeport, N. Y., was fatally injured when the airplanes in which the men, cadets at Park aviation field, near Memphis, were making solo flights, collided in midair and fell about 100 feet late today. Weissinger was instantly killed.

Story was so badly crushed that he died at the field hospital, to which he was taken after the accident. He fell from his machine and was crushed beneath the débris.

Weissinger, whose home was in Buelah, Miss., was employed by newspapers in this city and Chicago as a reporter before going to Washington several years ago to accept a position with a news agency.

Both flyers were members of the advanced flying classes. Today's accident brings the number of killed within the last three weeks at Park field up to eight, all caused by collision in midair.

ESCAPES FROM WATER COFFIN UPON FLORIZEL

One Man Saved by Air Pressure at Top of Flooded Room.

St. Johns, N. F., Feb. 26.—After facing the despair of death for hours, survivors of the wrecked Red Cross liner Florizel, lost north of Cape Race, today told of miraculous escapes.

John Kieley, manager of a moving picture theater, the only one of those trapped below decks who lives to tell of it, was caught when the first rush of water flooded his stateroom. The air pressure at the top of the room, however, kept down the water so that by lying on the upper berth with his nose to the ceiling he was able to escape drowning.

His greatest fear was that life savers might overlook him. He cried for help at the top of his lungs and beat the ceiling with his fists until his knuckles bled. But the gale and crash of seas drowned out his cries. Finally rescuers heard him and smashed a way to him with axes.

Battle with Cold.

Maj. Michael Sullivan, commander of the Newfoundland forestry battalion, and Ralph Burnham, cadet of the Royal Flying corps, fought back death literally with their bare fists and brought through with them a naked Spanish stoker. Sheltered in the upper section of an ash hoist for twenty-six hours, they beat each other with their fists to keep from freezing. The stoker they wrapped in a tarpaulin, and though nearly exhausted themselves, kept up his circulation by unceasing exertions.

The stoker is seriously ill, Burnham was badly frostbitten, and Maj. Sullivan was seriously crippled when flying wreckage crushed one of his legs.

Many were swept to death half clad in less than fifteen minutes after the steamer struck the rocks. Dozens, trapped below decks, were drowned in their berths.

Thirty sought safety on the bridge deck. Two hours later a giant wall of water thundered upon them, wrenching the structure bodily from its base and engulfing all. Twenty persons clinging desperately to the roof of the smoking room met a similar fate.

Wireless Room a Haven.

The stout construction of the wireless house saved most of the survivors. Thirty-two persons piled into this room, and were often engulfed by boarding seas. Some were badly injured by flying timbers and died as they stood.

Three year old Betsy Munn, daughter of John S. Munn, managing director of the line, was swept overboard before his eyes. Munn was swept to his death with the group on the bridge deck. Fred Butler, an architect of this city, was supporting his wife when a comber snatched her from his arms. He was carried along and, enmeshed in wreckage, he also perished.

Mistake in Reckoning.

Capt. Martin of the Florizel is in such a state of collapse he can make no statement.

Members of the crew said the mistake in reckoning which put the Florizel head on to the coast, when all hands thought she was well out to sea, was due to running without the patent log. The heavy snow, forming an icy crust, made it impossible to use the log. The steamship therefore was navigated by dead reckoning, and because of shifting currents and winds the calculations were off.

GERMANY ACTS AS BENEFACTOR: VON HERTLING

Disavows Conquest in the East; Hits British as Imperialistic.

utterances of President Wilson one might think that he is laboring under the illusion that there exists in Germany an antagonism between an autocratic government and a mass of people without rights.

"And yet President Wilson knows—as, at any rate, the German edition of his book on 'The State' proves—German political literature, and he knows, therefore, that with us princes and government are the highest members of the nation as a whole, organized in the form of a state, the highest members, with whom the final decision lies. But, seeing that they also, as the supreme organs, belong to the whole, the decision is of such a nature that only the welfare of the whole is the guiding line for a decision to be taken. It may be useful expressly to point this out to President Wilson's countrymen.

BALANCE OF POWER

"Then, finally, at the close of the second clause, the game of the balance of power is declared to be forever discredited. We, too, can only gladly applaud. As is well known, it was England who invented the principle of the maintenance of the balance of power, in order especially to apply it when one of the states on the European continent threatened to become too powerful for her. It was only another expression for England's domination.

"The third clause, according to which every territorial settlement involved in this war must be made in the interest and for the benefit of the populations concerned, and not as part of any mere adjustment or compromise of claims among rival states, is only the application of the foregoing in a definite direction, or a deduction from it, and is, therefore, included in the assent given to that clause.

As to Fourth Clause.

"Now, in the fourth clause, he demands that all well defined national aspirations shall be accorded the utmost satisfaction that can be accorded them, without introducing new or perpetuating old elements of discord and antagonism that would be likely in time to break the peace of Europe and, consequently, of the world. Here, also, I can give assent in principle, and I declare, therefore, with President Wilson, that a general peace on such a basis is discussable.

"Only one reservation is to be made. These principles must not be proposed by the president of the United States alone, but they must be also recognized definitely by all states and nations. President Wilson, who reproaches the German chancellor with a certain amount of backwardness, seems to me in his flight of ideas to have hurried far in advance of existing realities.

League of Nations.

"Certainly a league of nations erected upon justice and mutual unselfish appreciation, a condition of humanity in which war, together with all that remains of the earliest barbarism, should have completely disappeared and in which there should be no bloody sacrifices, no self-mutilation of peoples, no destruction of laboriously acquired cultural values—that would be an aim devoutly to be desired.

"But that aim has not yet been reached. There does not yet exist a court of arbitration set up by all nations for the safeguarding of peace in the name of justice. When President Wilson incidentally says that the German chancellor is speaking to the court of the entire world I must, as things stand today, in the name of the German empire and her allies, decline this court as prejudiced, joyfully as I would greet it, if an impartial court of arbitration existed and gladly as I would coöperate to realize such ideals.

"Unfortunately, however, there is no trace of a similar state of mind on the part of the leading powers in the entente. England's war aims, as recently expressed in Lloyd George's speeches, are still thoroughly imperialistic and want to impose on the world a peace according to England's good pleasure. When England talks about peoples' right of self-determination she does not think of applying the principle to Ireland, Egypt, or India."

DISAVOWAL OF CONQUEST

Declaring that the new German operations against Russia were taken at the request of the populations to restore order and that they did not aim at conquests, the chancellor continued:

"Our war aims from the beginning were the defense of the fatherland, the maintenance of our territorial integrity and the freedom of our economic development. Our warfare, even where it must be aggressive in action, is defensive in aim. I lay special stress upon that just now in order that no misunderstandings shall arise about our operations in the east.

"After the breaking off of peace negotiations by the Russian delegation Feb. 10 we had a free hand as against Russia. The sole aim of the advance of our troops, which was begun seven days after the rupture, was to safeguard the fruits of our peace with Ukraine. Aims of conquest were in no way a determining factor. We were strengthened in this by the Ukrainians' appeal for support in bringing about order in their young state against the disturbances carried out by the Bolsheviki.

In Name of Humanity.

"If further military operations in other regions have taken place, the same applies to them. They in no way aim at conquest. They are solely taking place at the urgent appeals and representations of the populations for protection against atrocities and devastation by Red guards and other bands. They have, therefore, been undertaken in the name of humanity. They are measures of assistance and have no other character. It is a question of creating peace and order in the interest of peaceable populations.

"We do not intend to establish ourselves, for example, in Esthonia or Livonia. In Courland and Lithuania our chief object is to create organs of self-determination and self-administration. Our military action, however, has produced a success far exceeding the original aim.

Renew Peace Parley.

"News was received yesterday that Petrograd had accepted our conditions and sent its representatives to Brest-Litovsk for further negotiations. Accordingly, our delegates traveled thither last evening. It is possible that there will still be dispute about the details, but the main thing has been achieved. The will to peace has been expressly announced from the Russian side, while the conditions have been accepted and the conclusion of peace must ensue within a very short time.

"To safeguard the fruits of our peace with Ukraine, our army command drew the sword. Peace with Russia will be the happy result.

Negotiate with Roumania.

"Peace negotiations with Roumania began at Bucharest yesterday. It appeared necessary that Secretary von Kuehlmann should be present there during the first days when the foundations were laid. Now, however, he will presumably soon go to Brest-Litovsk.

"It is to be remembered regarding negotiations with Roumania that we are not taking part in them alone and are under obligation to champion the interests of our allies, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria, and Turkey, and to see to it that a compromise is arranged there regarding any divergent desires that will possibly give rise to difficulties, but these difficulties will be overcome.

"With regard to Roumania, too, the guiding principle will be that we must, and desire to, convert into friends the states with which on the basis of the success of our army we now conclude peace.

ATTITUDE TOWARD POLAND.

"I will say a word regarding Poland, in behalf of whom the entente and President Wilson have recently appeared specially to interest themselves, as a well known country liberated from oppressive dependence on czarist Russia by the united forces of Germany and Austria-Hungary for the purpose of establishing an independent state, which, in unrestricted development of its national culture, shall at the same time become a pillar of peace in Europe.

"The constitutional problem—in the narrower sense, the question what constitution the new state shall receive—could not, as is easily understood, be immediately decided, and is still in the stage of exhaustive discussions between the three countries concerned.

Difficulty Over Frontier.

"A fresh difficulty has been added to the many difficulties which have in this connection to be overcome, difficulties especially in the economic domain in consequence of the collapse of old Russia. This difficulty results from the delimitation of the frontier between the new state and adjacent Russian territory.

"For this reason the news of peace with the Ukraine at first evoked great uneasiness in Poland. I hope, however, that, with good will and proper regard to the ethnographical conditions, a compromise on the claims will be reached. The announced intention to make a serious attempt in this direction has greatly calmed Polish circles.

"In the regulation of the frontier question only what is indispensable on military grounds will be demanded on Germany's part.

AIMS OF ENTENTE

"The entente are fighting for the acquisition of portions of Austro-Hungarian territory by Italy and for the severance of Palestine, Syria, and Arabia from the Turkish empire. England has particularly cast an eye on portions of Turkish territory. She has suddenly discovered an affection for the Arabians, and she hopes, by utilizing the Arabians, to annex fresh territories to the British empire, perhaps by the creation of a protectorate dependent upon British domination.

"That the colonial wars of England are directed at increasing and rounding out the enormous British possessions, particularly in Africa, has been repeatedly stated by British statesmen.

"In the face of this policy, entente statesmen dare to represent Germany as the disturber of peace, who, in the interest of world peace, must be confined within the narrowest bounds. By a system of lies and calumny they endeavor to instigate their own people and neutral countries against the central powers and to disturb neutral countries with the specter of the violation of neutrality by Germany.

Denies Swiss Intrigue.

"Regarding the intrigues recently carried on in Switzerland, we never thought, nor will be think, of assailing Swiss neutrality. We are much indebted to Switzerland. We express gratitude to her, Holland, the Scandinavian countries, and Spain, who, by her geographical position, is exposed to especial difficulties, and no less to the extra-European countries which have not entered the war, for their manly attitude in that, despite all temptations and oppressions, they preserve their neutrality.

"The world yearns for peace and desires nothing more than that the sufferings of war under which it groans should come to an end. But the governments of the enemy states contrive ever anew to stir the war fury among their peoples."

Hints English Schism.

"A continuation of the war to the utmost was, so far as has transpired, the most recent watchword issued by the conference of Versailles, and in the English premier's speeches it again finds loud echo.

"There are, however, other voices to be heard in England; it is to be hoped that these voices will multiply.

"The world now stands before the final decision. Either our enemies will decide to conclude peace—they know on what conditions we are ready to begin a discussion—or they will continue the insanity by their criminal war of conquest.

"Our people will hold out further, but the blood of the fallen, the agonies of the mutilated, and the distress and sufferings of the peoples will fall on the heads of those who insistently refuse to listen to the voice of reason and humanity."

Wilson Expected to Give Message of War, Not Peace, in Reply to Kaiser's Chancellor

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—President Wilson will reply to the German chancellor's speech, but the answer, unless the situation changes materially, will be a message of war, not of peace.

Count von Hertling's professed acceptance of the four principles of a democratic peace enunciated by the president has not convinced Mr. Wilson and his advisers that Germany is ready to forego ambitions of conquest. Other parts of the chancellor's speech are regarded as conclusive proof that Germany contemplates retaining control, in one form or another, of nearly all the foreign territory she now occupies.

Fight Now or Later.

The choice left the allies is between making peace with an aggrandized Germany, in possession of vast additional resources for renewing the assault on democracy, and fighting on, no matter how long, until Germany bows to the will of the world.

There is no doubt here that the choice of the nations allied against Germany will be to fight on.

It is not unlikely that the United States and the allies will unite in calling the chancellor's bluff regarding acceptance of the president's four principles. Before making a reply Mr. Wilson will consult England, France, and Italy upon the policy to be pursued.

Must Prove His Words.

If the allies approve of the course suggested by several of Mr. Wilson's closest advisers, the reply to the chancellor will call upon Germany to make good in tangible form the professed acquiescence in the principles laid down by the president. Germany must demonstrate that she does not aim to retain control of the allied territory she occupies.

The president's view is that the evacuation of Belgium and northern France without condition does not admit of discussion. Until Germany agrees to withdraw from this territory and repair the damage done peace discussions are futile.

Retain Belgium Control.

Count von Hertling's reference to Belgium is far from satisfactory. While hinting that Germany does not contemplate annexing Belgium, the chancellor proposes to impose conditions which would restrict the freedom of action of the kingdom and place it at the mercy of the Teutonic empire.

Moreover, the chancellor clings to his insistence that the disposition of territory does not concern all the belligerents collectively but only those belligerents directly involved. He would settle the status of Belgium with Belgium alone, and invites a peace offer from the Belgian government at Havre.

Bait for France.

Likewise he insists that there is no international question in Alsace-Lorraine. He would settle that matter with France individually, probably by proposing that France extinguish her claim to the lost provinces in return for restoration of northern France.

While professing to accept the president's principle of self-determination of allegiance and sovereignty, Von Hertling is not ready to agree to a plebiscite in Alsace-Lorraine.

No more satisfactory answer to the administration is the chancellor's declaration of policy in regard to the disposition of territory in eastern Europe. Von Hertling vaguely asserts that Courland and Lithuania are to be given self-government and that "we do not intend to establish ourselves in Esthonia or Livonia."

No one here supposes for an instant, however, that Germany intends to relinquish control of these provinces and as such domination would be provocative of rupture of the peace of Europe it would violate one of the president's principles which Von Hertling professes to accept.

All Mere Camouflage.

Altogether the administration sees in the chancellor's speech only a subtle effort to camouflage Germany's real purpose of conquest and to convince the German people that their government is eager for peace while an imperialistic enemy is responsible for the continuation of the war.

There was some discussion of the speech at the cabinet meeting today but the president and Secretary of State Lansing agreed that it would be necessary to await the receipt of the full text of the address before attempting to formulate a policy. The administration also awaits with interest the forthcoming speech of Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian premier.

View of Entente.

From the entente view one distinguished diplomat said:

"A most useful purpose has been served by President Wilson's address of Feb. 11. It was believed it would draw out the central powers more than they had ever before been induced to commit themselves and reveal whether they sincerely sought peace or still held to their programs of conquest. It is now seen that President Wilson's address did serve this purpose. Von Hertling's speech has effectually closed the door to further peace talk. Belgium is a question of honor. It cannot be discussed. So long as the enemy refuses to do justice to Belgium they cannot be expected to perform justice in any other instances."

The chancellor's accusation that "England's war aims are still thoroughly imperialistic and she wants to impose on the world a peace according to England's good pleasure" was held to be most defective diplomacy on the part of Von Hertling.

The only effect of such a challenge spoken to President Wilson, diplomats asserted, would be to draw a repudiation from the president of Germany's attempt to estrange England and America.

Japan Sees Menace.

The Japanese government regards with serious concern the prospect of German control in Russia and has under consideration a radical departure from the policy it has followed since the Bolshevik advent. It is not believed by the Japanese government that Germany will move military forces east of Petrograd, but there are other ways in which German influence might be extended beyond the Ural mountains. Such a contingency, it was declared, would be regarded by Japan as a direct threat, menacing China or India or both. Then the obligation assumed by Japan to preserve the peace of the east would require action.

The form of the action probably would be the occupation of a part of the Siberian coast. This, according to well informed Japanese here, would not be an aggressive movement, but purely defensive, not forecasting annexation, but merely a military occupation until the situation in Russia clears up.

Japan, it was learned, has given no serious consideration to the reported appeal of a Cossack general in Siberia for assistance against the Bolsheviki.

"The interest of Japan," it was declared, "is fundamental, and does not concern this or that faction."

LONDON DOUBTFUL

Newspaper Comment Questions Sincerity of Von Hertling's Utterances; See Little Hope for Peace.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The London newspapers see little hope for peace in the speech of Count von Hertling, imperial German chancellor.

"With what face, one wonders, can Count Hertling, who is old and religious, get up in the reichstag and declare that his heart bleeds for humanity and profess his sympathy with President Wilson's appeal for justice, forbearance, and respect for national rights at the very time when he is publicly engaged in one of the most cynical and callous transactions known to history?" says the Westminster Gazette.

This newspaper says it is obliged to say to Von Hertling quote frankly that the mind to peace among the western nations—the mind which seeks peace on an abiding and honorable condition—is every day being chilled and alienated by the disclosures of the real Germany in her dealings with Russia."

The Globe says: "Von Hertling's present duty is to supply the camouflage behind which the real sovereign power of Germany, the great general staff, carries on its operations.

The Evening Standard declares: "When the German chancellor speaks peace we know what kind of peace he means. We have seen a specimen of it in the case of unhappy Russia."

VICTIM TELLS HOW GERMANS HATE AMERICANS

"Germans hate Americans," is one of the messages brought back from the Rhine by Albert De Peu of 225 Wisconsin street, whose release from an internment camp was obtained by James W. Gerard when he was ambassador to Germany. De Peu was speaking at the British-Canadian recruiting mission, 54 West Adams street.

"Even before the United States entered the war," he said, "I saw bread riots in Cesnabruck, Westphalia, and saw soldiers fire at aged men, women, and children. The soldiers, trained until they were machines instead of humans, killed their own kin."

De Peu was aboard the Georgic, Dec. 10, 1916, near Brest, when a boarding party from the raider Moewe boarded it and took him and others prisoners before torpedoing it. He was later taken to an internment camp at Swinemunde, later to Dullman, and finally sent to Zurich, Switzerland. He was assaulted by a sentry at Swinemunde because "he was an American."

GIRL CLERKS PICKET STORES IN WAGE STRIKE

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—The strike of union sales employés of five downtown department stores for a uniform and increased wage scale and recognition of the clerks' union began this morning. The sidewalks near the store entrances were filled early with chanting and flag waving girls.

While several hundred strikers, mostly girls, remained on picket duty in trying to keep other employés from entering and to turn customers away about 400 met in a hall.

E. E. Baker of Indianapolis, president of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association, urged the strikers to stay out and predicted that most of those working today would be out tomorrow.

Sigmund Baer, secretary of Stix, Baer & Fuller, said:

"This strike, if you call it a strike—I call it a cash girls' frolic—will be over tomorrow morning. Eighty-five per cent of our employés are at work, and 95 per cent will be tomorrow."

Congress Fails to Find Olive Branch in Hertling's Speech

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Congress was not much impressed with the possibilities of peace as a result of Chancellor von Hertling's acceptance of four of President Wilson's general principles as a basis for negotiation.

While some members of both houses saw in the German chancellor's latest utterance an indication of a German desire for peace and a few thought it might possibly lead to something tangible, the majority were inclined to the view that the new German declaration would not bring the war nearer to a close.

Among members of the senate foreign relations committee the conviction was general that Von Hertling's address offered nothing that the United States could consider. Senator Lodge, the ranking Republican member, made no further comment than to say he saw nothing in the speech to discuss. Senator Stone, chairman of the committee, would not talk about it at all. Senator Pomerene of Ohio said:

"I have no confidence in the German purpose. We must fight this war to a finish now or do so later. I have no confidence in any of the German peace propositions."

Midwesterners' Opinions.

Opinions of members from central western states which reflect the general trend of opinion in congress were:

SENATOR LEWIS [Ill.]—Von Hertling indicates that Germany would like peace with France, England, and the United States. The statement has in it a bit of art. Von Hertling has said to our peace party in this country that Germany has no quarrel with this country, but cannot accept the terms of our allies. That is artfully done with design.

SENATOR KENYON [Iowa]—The German chancellor's speech is camouflage. It will come to nothing. I doubt if Germany intends it to come to anything. There's always an "if" in these German propositions.

SENATOR M'CUMBER [N. D.]—Von Hertling's address means nothing so far as the establishment of peace is concerned. To say that he believes three or four points in the president's address offer a basis of discussion means nothing. What Germany has desired right along and desires now is to get the allies to stop making war long enough to discuss peace, believing that the allies would never again get together to renew war on her."

"Continue War Preparations."

SENATOR SMITH [Mich.]—Looking at the matter from the German point of view I can readily understand that this is a psychological moment to make a move for peace. I believe that the speech of the German chancellor probably calls for an answer. I believe, too, that it may lead to an interchange that might result in peace. I hesitate to say this, however, for fear that it may turn us from our war preparations. Those preparations should be continued with unremitting zeal.

REP. MEDILL M'CORMICK [Ill.]—I should say, first, that the early beginning of peace negotiations, improbable as it is, is not impossible, and second, nothing in the situation today, more than during last April, points to a military decision before 1919.

REP. CARY [Wis.]—Old von Hertling will have to come a little better than that to suit me. It does not seem to me to lay the foundation for an honorable peace.

REP. RAINEY [Ill.]—I do not think Von Hertling's speech gets us any nearer peace. I have no confidence in any proposition Germany might make at this time, no matter what it might be.

REP. MADDEN [Ill.]—Von Hertling seems to indicate a willingness to negotiate if the conference can start on four principles of the fourteen enumerated by President Wilson—and he picks the four. At the same time he is afraid that a free Belgium might be an embarrassing situation to Germany. That one statement makes negotiations impossible. A free Belgium must be a precedent to a parley.

ANTI-AMERICANS IN TWO ILLINOIS TOWNS KISS FLAG

Vandalia, Ill., Feb. 26.—Demonstrations against persons charged with being anti-American in their sympathies were reported to have occurred in two towns near here today. In each case loyalist committees forced several men to kiss the flag in public.

At Bingham, Ill., a small town northwest of here, the local vigilance committee took six men from their work, paraded with them down the main street, and forced them to swear allegiance to the government.

Edward Probst, one of the six men, is said to have remarked that his religion would exempt him from army service and that he could not be forced to fight. The committee took him in hand again and when three other men interfered a fight ensued in which the anti-Americans were severely beaten. Then the entire flag kissing ceremony was repeated.

The departure today of several boys for the national cantonment was made the occasion for a loyalty demonstration at Maryville, Ill., a small town west of here, during which six men were forced to kiss the flag.

W. F. Priebe, head of the poultry and egg division of the Hoover food board, and H. B. Collins, assistant chief of the division of coördination of purchases for Hoover, were revealed yesterday by Francis J. Heney as "dollar a year men" for the government and at the same time so-called "$10,000 a year men" on Swift & Co. pay rolls.

Priebe has long been known as "the biggest independent butter, egg, and poultry man" in the middle west. Evidence was produced to show that his firm, W. F. Priebe & Co. of Chicago, is "100 per cent owned" by Swift & Co. and that he, as manager, draws $275 a month from Swift, plus 25 per cent of the profits after the company has paid 7 per cent on its investment.

Controls Small Concerns.

Letters and documents read into the testimony were offered to show that Priebe & Co. owns outright scores of smaller concerns throughout Illinois, Missouri, and Iowa, operating under the trade names of their former owners and so masquerading as "independents" in the public eye.

These men, according to the evidence produced by Mr. Heney before the federal trade commission hearing at the federal building, are now salaried employés on the Priebe pay roll, reporting to Priebe and obeying his orders, their operations financed by him.

Lobbies and Politics.

But other documents offered by Mr. Heney before Commissioner Davies of the federal trade commission showed packing house ramifications leading into political, labor, and industrial activities. Some of these are:

Directions to lobbyists and legislative manipulators.

Orders to "find cause other than being members of labor unions" for dropping two men.

Instructions to see that 15 per cent of the employés in Swift's Denver plant are Negroes.

Orders for $15 gift to Mrs. J. J. Healy, wife of state industrial board arbitrator, package to "look as big as possible" for church bazaar; suggestion being to keep "right" with arbitrator.

Instructions for activities to defeat female labor law in Kansas limiting hours of work for women.

Outline for method of attack on proposed legislation in Springfield.

Swift Tries Threat.

A "threat letter" signed by Louis F. Swift to Edward F. Swift was also read by Mr. Heney, dated Aug. 17, 1917, which said:

"If it looks as though our Sioux City men are going out, what would you think of telling them, just before they go out, that if they go out, the plant will be closed down permanently?

"This, to a certain extent, is a threat; something we have never done, but sometimes I like to try a thing once to see whether or not it will work."

Independents Fear Revenge.

Several surviving poultry and egg men, independents, were sworn as witnesses. Among these are T. A. Buchanan, Hardin, Mo.; Rudolph Miller, Macon, Mo.; and J. P. Hoban, Carrollton, Mo. Both Miller and Hoban expressed fears of the coming wrath of the big packing organizations as vengeance for having testified against them before the federal trade commission.

"I am sorry I was called in here," said Miller, closing his testimony under oath. "They have tried to hurt me all they can. I've laid down, given up the fight. Men who have fought them have gone broke.

"They even send to Omaha to buy buttermilk to feed to milkfed chickens when they could buy it from me right across the street."

"Camouflage" Enters Case.

Buchanan, Miller, and Hoban told stories of the Priebe concern, in various guises and under numerous camouflaged trade names, entering their districts and manipulating markets so that the smaller independent men were finally "broken."

"It appears that they buy these plants and do not let the public know it. They make the public think there is competition. People then trade with them thinking they are independents. Is not that so?" asked Heney.

"Yes," said Buchanan.

Same Country Over.

"We find that is so all over the country," commented Heney.

Miller, who said that he came from Denmark and once made 2,000 pounds of butter a day, butter that took many prizes in fairs and competition throughout the country, pictured his dwindling fortunes.

"Why did you lose out?" Heney asked.

"Swift got the business," said Miller. Reminiscing, in an undertone, he added, "We were prosperous then."

He told how, though there is a state law in Missouri making it a punishable offense for a concern to quote "discriminatory prices" at common trading points, that various Priebe agencies in towns along a common railroad line, had paid at the same time for butter fats 30, 27, 26, 25, and 24 cents.

Cut "Coming and Going."

He declared that when he was paying 30 cents for butter fat in Macon, butter was shipped into Macon by Priebe interests and sold at 27½ cents, adding, "They got me coming and going."

He declared that the system for "breaking" the small independent which he described as "the new game," was to pay more for butter fat, eggs and poultry than he could pay, taking the business away from him until he was done for, undersell him in marketing the finished product if necessary, and then, when he was out of the way, cut the buying price and raise the selling price until the business was more profitable than ever before.

Prosecutions Are Lax.

Mr. Miller told of his legal battles in the courts, how "Swift" had once pleaded guilty and paid his fine and costs. He told of efforts to get prosecutors to prosecute and his succeeding failures to secure action. Correspondence between Miller and local and state prosecutors was offered.

One letter was marked, "Confidential, return this letter to me."

"How is it you have that letter?" the old buttermaker was asked.

"This is only a copy," he replied with a smile. "I copied it before I returned it."

Then he told of trying to buy cream from farmers. Then he said:

"They asked me then, 'What will we do without poultry and eggs?'"

"What did that mean?" he was asked.

"They meant," he replied, "that if they did not sell their cream to 'Swift' they could not sell their butter and eggs and other produce to him. I was not equipped to take their other products."

At this juncture Mr. Heney broke in with:

"They used to deal only in meats. Now they deal in butter, eggs, poultry, fruits, canned goods, vegetables, etc. Recently we have discovered that they have turned to rice. Where will the end be?"

Consumer Would Pay Less.

T. A. Buchanan testified, commenting on the elimination of the independent dealer, that it was his observation from long experience that "the consumer would get 4 cents less for his stuff if competition was knocked out."

He said that often, at noon, on Saturdays, when the farmers were in town in great numbers, the "Swift" people woud suddenly raise the price 2 cents over what the independents had paid in the morning "to make the farmers dissatisfied with our prices."

He added that many of the farmers 'saw through it" and made the comment that such occasions of raising the prices usually came after the farmers had sold and so "Swift" would not have to buy many eggs at the "boosted prices."

Priebe Himself "Frozen."

Evidence was produced indicating that W. F. Priebe & Co. had itself gone through the "eliminating" process at the hands of the bigger packers some years ago. Priebe, it was shown, originally was all of the "big independent" the firm had until now been considered.

Priebe, according to Hoban, "went broke" under the lash of the bigger packers and "came back" as their manager on high salary to continue the tactics that had "got" him.

Frank P. Walsh, counsel for labor interests before Judge Alschuler, and John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, visited the hearing and showed keen interest in evidence touching on the labor situation at the yards. Tables were introduced apparently to show that Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Libby, McNeill & Libby, and Nelson & Co., were systematically "shouldering out" white workers in favor of Negro labor.

Figures on Negro Workers.

During the afternoon Mr. Heney introduced figures showing the number of workers, black and white, working at the four largest packing plants in the Chicago yards. They follow:

ARMOUR & CO.—In plant Dec. 31, 1917, white men, 8,979; white women, 1,900; Negro men, 2,540; Negro women, 360. In office, white men, 1,031; white women, 600. The total Negroes in 1916 was 1,800.

SWIFT & CO.—In plant Dec. 28, 1917, white men, 7,119; white women, 1,003; Negro men, 2,388; Negro women, 244. Negro employés last year, 2,100. In office, 1,800 men and women.

MORRIS & CO.—Men in plant Dec. 28, 1917, white, 3,765; Negro, 1,687. Females, white, 666; Negro, 463. In 1916, female, white, 547; colored, 125. Office force, 348 men, 212 women, 72 boys.

New Letters Today.

Samuel W. Tator, examiner for the federal trade commission, was on the bench at the hearing in the absence of Joseph E. Davies, who was compelled to leave the city on account of other business.

Mr. Heney indicated last night that a new batch of letters, taken from the Swift & Co. files would be read at the hearing today. These letters, it is explained, are not from the Henry Veeder vaults but from the Swift & Co. files at their stockyards offices.

"It was the things that we learned from these letters that led us to want to see what Mr. Veeder may have in his vaults," explained Mr. Heney.

The "Veeder vault" papers are still tied up by the courts and cannot be read unless the United States Court of Appeals finds the federal search warrant under which they were taken to be sound and so releases them as evidence.

Charles F. Clyne, United States district attorney, has visited the room where the hearing is on several times and has shown a marked interest in the proceedings which bear directly upon his battle for the Veeder papers.

LEGISLATIVE STUFF.

Letters from the Wilson and Swift files, read during the session by Mr. Heney, dealt extensively with lobbying to defeat bills favorable to workers. The Kansas and Nebraska legislatures were singled out particularly. A Wilson company letter to "Mr. W. R. Brown, Kansas legislature," follows, in part:

"We are perfectly safe in assuming that the compensation bill is going to be more favorable to the workman unless decided opposition is put up or some other means used for getting through legislation that will suit us. A minimum wage bill for women will also be considered again."

Another one read:

"Roy N. Hope, Mulvane building, Topeka, Kas.: Female labor bill: very desirable not to have any limit in hours per day or per week. Defeat whole measure if possible. If you have to compromise, offer nine hours a day, total fifty hours per week, but do not permit fixed time for beginning or ending day.

"Any drastic legislation affecting woman labor would certainly result in forcing out a large number of women now employed in packing houses at good wages and substituting men. Keep me posted."

Swift & Co., through the Veeder law firm, were interested in the Nebraska situation, according to the letter addressed to L. F. Swift and signed by Albert and Henry Veeder:

"Nebraska house bill 755, requiring packing houses to pay laborers for full day.

"Mr. Selby reports that the bill was introduced by Representative Howard, who is regarded as a joke, and whose bills have so far, with one or two exceptions, been disposed of; that there is a good chance that the house will kill the bill, and that, if by any chance it shall pass the house, it cannot, in Mr. Selby's opinion, pass the senate. If necessary, he will take such action as will insure its defeat."

LABOR CONTROL.

Efforts to increase Negro labor are revealed in some of the Swift company correspondence. The letters also dealt with efforts to prevent the organization of labor unions. One letter to Louis F. Swift read:

"Answering your letter of the 21st, regarding colored help at the Denver plant, we have recently started an employment bureau at the plant, which will handle matters of this kind and we shall start at once to inlrease the percentage of colored help on the plant with the intention of getting it to 15 per cent higher as soon as we possibly can."

It was signed, "Per J. B. G."

Advised Firing Men.

Another, from the manager's office in Chicago to the Denver plant, read:

"Answering: Want you to work closely with Hanson to prevent your house becoming organized, handling so as not to force a strike. Advise find cause other than being members labor unions for dropping two men mentioned or other active members, and dispense with services as soon as practicable. Arranging have Mr. Jackson your house Thursday. Keep us fully posted."

Predicts Defeat of Bill.

One from the files of Wilson & Co., dated April 6, 1913, read:

"To the committee:

"In re Illinois Eight Hour Law.

"As per arrangement with the committee I went to Springfield on last Monday and remained there until Thursday night, working for the defeat of this bill. There were quite a number of members of the Illinois Manufacturers' association in Springfield, Tuesday morning they had a meeting of said association, and in the evening appeared before the industrial committee and presented their arguments in opposition to this bill. Prior to that time the advocates of the bill had presented their arguments.

"I talked to quite a number of members of the house and am of the impression that eventually this bill will be defeated. However, Mr. Medill McCormick, the sponsor of the bill, is putting up a very hard fight for same, and in fact injects bitterness into practically every question that he asks.

A subcommittee was to be appointed for the purpose of making an investigation of conditions through the state, as to whether or not the majority of women employés favored such a law. I am fully convinced that the appointing of this subcommittee will have the desired effect."

It was signed by C. E. Hamill, an attorney.

In referring to a labor controversy in the Sioux City plant Louis F. Swift wrote to Edward F. Swift to tell the men the plant would be closed permanently in event of a strike. He concluded:

"This, to a certain extent, is a threat; something that we have never done, but sometimes I like to try a thing once to see whether or not it will work."

JAM LETTERS.

Even gifts of jams and preserves figured, according to one series of letters. These dealt with a J. J. Healy, employed as a labor arbitrator, and a bazaar in which his wife participated. The Healy named is not Attorney John J. Healy. Some of the letters from the Wilson company files follow:

"Mr. V. D. Skipworth, office.

"Yesterday after an arbitration of an industrial accident before the state industrial board, Arbitrator J. J. Healy asked me if this company would contribute a donation of some kind to a bazaar in favor of a church where Mrs. Healy was in charge of the general booth. I told Mr. Healy that I would gladly talk with his wife, and this morning Mrs. Healy came here and told me that she had received contributions from Morris', Armours', and Swifts'; that in two instances she had received products and in the other $25 in cash.

"In contested and disputed cases it is necessary that an arbitration be held and the proceeding is a good deal similar to the lawsuit, except that the arbitrator is a judge and there is no jury.

"At the end of the hearing of that testimony a finding is made either for the applicant or the respondent. We have had about six of these contested arbitrations before the industrial war board since the first of the year, and I am pleased to state that they all resulted in very satisfactory decisions for this company. Under the circumstances I believe it advisable to make a contribution of some kind to Mrs. Healy. I will suggest about fifteen dollars worth of our products."

Chance to Advertise.

A third letter referring to Mrs. J. J. Healy, 1310 West Sixty-fourth street, city, follows:

"It might be well to send her some advertising posters, as our products would undoubtedly be in a booth which could be decorated with posters and other advertising matter. [Signed.]

"Casualty Department,
"A. K. GEMBBICK."

Then a letter dated Sept. 15, 1917, two days later:

"Mr. W. A. Lynde, Wholesale Market.

"Please send to Mrs. J. J. Healy, 1310 West Sixty-fourth street, Chicago, a $15 assortment of our products. This is for a donation to a church bazaar. We want this donation to appear as large as possible. I think an assortment of preserves would make up a larger package than anything else.

"Yours very truly,
"V. D. SKIPWORTH."

SWIFT REPLIES TO HENEY

Packer Says Attorney Seeks Political Glory; Calls Packers Patriotic.

"Mr. Heney has, by false inference and misplaced emphasis, given to disconnected portions of the correspondence selected by him and read into the trade commission record on Monday a false and sinister meaning, with the plain purpose of creating antagonistic public opinion.

"The wide publicity given to the confidential communications of our officials demands that the motives and policy of our company be made clear to the public.

"If the letters from our files which the candidate for governor of California is reading to the candidate for senator from Wisconsin are read carefully without the 'camouflage' of conversation and misleading comment that is interjected, I believe that the reader will agree with me that there is not one word or line that can be construed as unpatriotic or as evincing an unwillingness to back the government in any and all things.

"I invite an open minded study of these letters, keeping in mind that they were written in confidence between officials of the company and with no idea that they would be published; hence there was no occasion for anything but perfect frankness, and it is foolish to suppose that the letters had any meaning but what the plain language conveys.

"Our relations with the government departments have been honorable; our motives have been honorable; we have been conscious of our country's needs in the present crisis, and at the same time as business men we have been diligent in maintaining 100 per cent efficiency of our company not only for the benefit of our 20,000 stockholders but also for the benefit of our country.

"I do not think that there is one branch of the government that has been depending upon us for support which will say that we have not been whole heartedly patriotic and at least as efficient as any other industry whose aid is vital to the national good at this time.

"Any services rendered by representatives of Swift & Co. and Libby, McNeill & Libby have been with the desire to make available the most expert and practical ability possible in the solving of the food problems of the nation, and it was with motives of the highest patriotism that these men went to Washington rather than from any hope of self-interest on the part of the individuals or the corporations.

"The smearing of an essential industry with what in private life would be back stairs gossip is rank injustice and therefore must not go unchallenged at this time, even if the perpetrator be a paid attorney of a government bureau created to build up the business organization of the country, not to tear it down.

"We are asking no favors of the trade commission, and we have heretofore withheld public criticism of the unfair methods of this investigation, but the circumstances provoke us to point out publicly the injustice of making of an important industry in war times a vehicle for the personal aggrandizement of an ambitious politician."

FIX COAL PRICE NOW; HALT NEW SHORTAGE: REED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—Responsibility for the coal shortage was placed squarely on the fuel administration by Senator Reed of Missouri today in a "statement of his individual conclusions" submitted to the senate subcommittee on manufactures as a basis for a report on its recent investigation of the fuel situation.

"The chaos now existing in the coal business," the statement said, "must give place to stability, or we will in the near future be confronted by a coal shortage of the most disastrous character."

For this reason, Senator Reed said, there should be an immediate announcement of prices and contracts which will be allowed to replace present coal contracts, practically all of which terminate April 1.

The statement also advocated the announcement of a fixed time in which the business world may safely adjust itself to the new contracts, and added:

"It is plain that the prices allowed to be charged must be reasonably remunerative. If this is denied, the maximum of production cannot be expected."

Packers' Labor Lobby Notes Cause Row at Wage Hearing

An unexpected move was made by the labor unions in the wage controversy before Arbitrator Alschuler yesterday, when letters from the files of Wilson & Co. were introduced. The letters were borrowed from Francis J. Heney by Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the unions.

A verbal duel, in which personalities played a big part, occurred between James G. Condon of counsel for the packers, and Walsh. It became so heated that Judge Alschuler had to request them to desist.

The letters disclosed labor intrigues, lobbying in state capitals against laws affecting labor conditions, a campaign to increase Negro help in packing plants, and an attempt to influence the action of a state arbitration agent through a present to his wife.

Denies Using Lobby.

The letters [some of them published on this page in connection with the Heney hearing] were introduced by Walsh during his cross-examination of John E. O'Hern, general superintendent for Armour & Co., and followed O'Hern's denial of having any knowledge of the packers' use of lobbyists.

Mr. O'Hern admitted that the movement of government orders and foodstuffs for the allies would not be retarded in any way if the packing plants adopted the eight hour basis day; that the only sufferers would be the packers, who would have to pay the men for overtime.

During the morning Walsh questioned O'Hern as to the salaries received by executives and heads of departments of Armour & Co.

Among other things, Walsh asked O'Hern if he knew the following were the annual salaries of the men named: F. E. White, vice president, $40,000; E. A. Valentine, manager of soap department, $20,000; Arthur Meeker, vice president, $20,000; R. C. Howe, manager of Omaha plant, $15,000; E. Wilson, manager of branch houses, $17,000; F. W. Croll, treasurer, $16,000. O'Hern answered no in each case.

Walsh asked O'Hern if he would produce the pay roll of Armour & Co. at 2 o'clock. O'Hern said he would try to, but when 2 o'clock came Attorney Meyer informed Walsh that the pay roll was deemed purely a private matter, with no bearing on the issues involved, and that it would not be furnished.

Live Stock Men Involved.

Walsh endeavored to show that there was an arrangement between the Chicago live stock exchange, composed of live stock commission men selling to the packers, and the five big packing houses as to the control of receipts of cattle, hogs, and sheep, but E. C. Brown, president of the exchange, made a positive denial, and said that the receipts of live stock were controlled solely by the seasons.

Through O'Hern, Walsh sought to show that the wage increases granted since 1916 were the result of threatened strikes rather than the result of voluntary action on the part of the packers, and it was admitted that this might have been the case in some instances.

Based on Living Cost?

O'Hern told Walsh that neither he nor the company claimed the right to arbitrarily fix the wages of the employés, but he admitted that the amounts of the increases granted since 1916 were fixed without consulting the employés or making a study of what constituted a "living wage." Mr. O'Hern qualified the admission by saying that it was realized that the cost of living had increased and that the wage increases were granted on that basis.

Walsh read extracts on the packing industry embodied in the report of the president's mediation commission, dated Jan. 9, 1918. He asked O'Hern if he agreed with this passage:

"Nevertheless the claim was made, and validly made, that the wage scales, particularly for the great body of unskilled workers, were inadequate in view of the increased cost of living."

O'Hern said it would depend on the point of view; that the scale of wages paid in the packing industry was well in line with those paid to common labor in other industries.

Letters Cause Clash.

The argument between Condon and Walsh occurred when Walsh refused to answer a question put by Attorney Meyer as to where he procured the letters. Walsh had previously stated that they were taken from the files of Wilson & Co. and that they had been introduced in evidence by Mr. Heney. Condon broke in with a question as to whether Mr. Heney had introduced them at the other hearing. Walsh ignored him and said to O'Hern:

"I will now read you a letter dated April 18, 1915."

"Do you refuse to answer me?" Condon asked.

"Don't address yourself to me," Walsh replied. "Isn't it palpable I don't need to say anything to you?"

Condon told him he was looking at something as palpable as anything he had ever seen in his life. Walsh said he would not address him. Condon said all right, whereupon Walsh told Condon not to "sneer and stick up your nose that way at me. You will compel me to say something to you that I don't want to say."

"Well go ahead and say it," Condon said.

"I think you have been hired by the packers to start a quarrel with me!" Walsh exclaimed. After a few more remarks, Judge Alschuler succeeded in quieting them.

HENEY SEES U. S. IN SAME PERIL AS RUSSIA FACES

"If we don't do away with special privilege soon and readjust our economic system on a more equitable basis as regards labor, we shall be having some of the troubles that are now rending Russia," said Francis J. Heney yesterday, speaking at a luncheon of the Iroquois club at the Hotel La Salle.

"While we fight for democracy abroad we must make certain that we maintain it at home. In the future labor is going to demand a far greater proportion of the return of its efforts than it has in the past. In time of war we must watch out for the profiteer—and stop him. The great inequality of wealth that exists in this country today can all practically be traced to what was done in the civil war in the giving of grants to railroads. It constitutes the basis for practically every monopoly of the material things of today."

DEFENDED

Hoover Declares Men Mentioned in Packers' Inquiry Have Given Loyal Service to Nation.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Food Administrator Hoover issued a signed statement tonight defending the officials of his office whose names were brought out in the packers' investigation at Chicago.

In his own defense against the charge that the packers packed the food board Mr. Hoover said that the men brought from the packing plants, to the food administration had been given no part whatever in the regulation or control of the packing trade.

Mr. Hoover's statement reads:

"On behalf of and out of consideration for the men referred to in the packers' investigation at Chicago yesterday who are or have been employed in the food administration I wish to say that none of these men have had anything whatever to do with the regulation or control of the packing trade.

"They are employed in other directions and are not now paid by the packers.

"From time to time, as in these cases, many men are tried out temporarily in the food administration, and if they are able to give the time and prove to have the devotion, experience, and skill necessary for this work they are required to resign from any connection that would involve any conflict of interest before they become permanent employés of the administration.

"All of the men referred to have given valuable service in the government at considerable sacrifice to themselves and there is no question whatever as to their loyalty to the public interest."

—Stephen Decatur.

THE OUTLAW CITY.

When the Chicago sanitary district proposed to the federal government to spend $475,000 or more of Chicago money in building contracting works in the St. Clair and Niagara rivers to preserve the lake levels and satisfy navigation interests, it merely adopted a suggestion contained in a report of a special board appointed by the secretary of war.

This report said: "To restore the diminished levels in the lakes by constructing contracting works in their outlets does not, however, present any serious difficulties. Compensation for the loss of elevation on Lakes Michigan, Huron, and Erie and their connecting waters, due to an assumed diversion from Lake Michigan of 10,000 second-feet, will by the plan above outlined involve an expenditure of about $475,000. It is the opinion of the board that while other plans have been proposed, compensation by fixed contraction works similar in general to those above described affords the cheapest and most satisfactory method of preserving the levels of the great lakes."

The Chicago district, to remove the continued government objection to the withdrawal of water from Lake Michigan in the disposal of Chicago sewage, offered to build and maintain these contracting works. There is evidence to indicate that the withdrawal of water through the sanitary district canal has no effect upon lake levels appreciable in navigation. Chicago was willing, nevertheless, to assume responsibility and settle the question.

The advantage to navigation, in controlling climatic changes and in creating favorable conditions otherwise, was manifest. The offer went to the rivers and harbors committee of the house of representatives. The committee asked the engineering bureau of the war department, out of which the suggestion adopted by the Chicago district had come.

It was briefly reported yesterday from Washington that the engineering bureau, through Chief of Engineers Black, had reported adversely, finding that the bill was in violation of the treaty with Great Britain.

No other recommendation. Suggestion, emanating from the engineering bureau, declared bad by the engineering bureau as soon as adopted by Chicago district. Government hostility to district continued. Withdrawal of water in amount now taken held unsanctioned and illegal. No attempt at conciliation of difficulties. Problem of disposal of sewage increasing and becoming more and more serious.

Government attitude—that Chicago is an outlaw. None of its proposals is good, not even if it comes originally from the government.

POISON GAS.

Americans were under no illusions as to the character of this war when we decided to enter it as a belligerent. We had spent three years on the side lines; we had observed the mobilization of the greatest armies in history, and we had learned that modern warfare does not hesitate to use the most diabolical instruments of destruction. It was perfectly clear that war was no longer a sporting event regulated by Marquis of Queensberry rules. The Germans had changed all that.

No matter how much the allies deplored the use of poison gas or other lethal agencies prohibited by The Hague convention they were forced to adopt them in self-defense. If they had refrained from doing so out of some sentimental regard for ethics or morality or humanitarianism it would have been more monstrous than it was for the Germans to introduce these agencies in the first place. No such decision would ever be made by the men who had to stand up against a gas attack; it could be made only by the sheltered sentimentalist sitting safely at home. In Great Britain and France even the sheltered sentimentalists conceded that effective counter measures must be taken against an unscrupulous enemy.

At the time of our entry into the war the universal use of poison gas had as a matter of fact removed the question from the field of argument. A general would as soon send his men into the trenches without gas bombs as without bayonets. The objection to the use of gas would have to stand on the same ground as an objection to the use of bayonets or any other means to kill the enemy.

But it is recorded on good authority in Washington that American chlorine manufacturers were given to understand last April that the United States considered the use of gas "too barbarous" and therefore would not entertain any proposals for supplying it to our troops. It is a matter of official announcement that the gas and flame service was not authorized until Oct. 15, or more than six months after we had declared war. In the meantime it appears the administration held to the idea that it would be better to allow our soldiers to be "gassed" without providing them with effective counter weapons than it would be to violate preconceived ideals of humanitarian warfare. War is in itself so distasteful to the pacifist that it is quite natural he should try to reduce its unpleasant aspects to a minimum, even at the cost of sacrificing thousands of men. If the bayonet had been introduced into this war by the Germans it is altogether likely that he would hesitate about equipping our army with that effective weapon.

Gen. Pershing of course demanded the organization of gas and flame units, and Washington was compelled to abandon an untenable position. But in the meantime valuable time has been lost and our factories cannot supply anything like an adequate amount of chlorine. A proposal to manufacture it in Chicago has been hanging fire for months and the government is still "considering" the construction of its own plant.

The record in this case may well raise apprehension among thoughtful Americans. If we are to exert every power and every resource in prosecuting this war we must be prepared to use every effective weapon against the Hindenburg line. If the attitude of hesitation and diffidence with respect to poison gas is to be repeated with respect to other new developments in warfare we shall in nowise promote the ideals of humanity which may prompt that attitude, but we shall promote the wanton sacrifice of our soldiers.

DEMAGOGIC DIPLOMACY.

Count von Hertling, German chancellor, resumes his place on the platform to balance phrases on the tip of his nose. Germany will agree to President Wilson's four fundamental principles of peace. It must be understood first that Germany is neck deep in Russia fighting to protect her frontiers from the aggressiveness of an imperialistic people seeking territorial aggrandizement, and that the four fundamental principles are understood by Great Britain to dismember the British empire.

Germany is in Reval and may soon be in Petrograd because its enemies will not give over their encroachments upon German territory. "From the beginning the entente has pursued aims of conquest." It is, evidently, the insatiable British who have possession of Serbia, Montenegro, Roumania, Poland, Courland, Livonia, Esthonia, Belgium, northern France, and northern Italy, and who will not give them up.

Secret diplomacy had one attractive quality. To the extent that it was secret it was honest. In the altruistic reform of the world's processes diplomacy puts on the black coat of piety and sings through its nose.

Before statesmen are through posing before the large crowds to which their nonsecretive and pious formulas must be exhibited, public opinion will have a poisonous overdose of hypocrisy.

OFFICERS' PAY AND EXPENSES.

The Army League of the United States calls attention to the injustice of the present regulations concerning the pay of officers. At best the compensation to officers is pitifully small, but a ruling of the war department has had the effect of reducing it about 25 per cent for those in France and in the field; that is, at the army camps. The regulation provides that the allowances technically known as commutation for quarters, heat, and light will be withheld wherever the government furnishes tents or similar accommodations. The effect of this ruling is to put a premium on service at a station such as Washington at the expense of the men serving in the field.

Thus a second lieutenant at Washington receives $173.66 a month, while an officer of the same rank at one of the army camps or in France receives $141.67. For a captain the pay in the one case is $259.74, and in the other $200. For higher officers the disparity is greater.

The Army league has made a compilation of the cost of equipment and uniform for dismounted officers. It comes to a total of $667.11, and half the articles have to be renewed during the year. The result is that the second lieutenant has about $700 left for the support of himself and his family. Many competent men who would make good officers have felt they could not afford to become candidates.

The whole question of officers' pay ought to be reconsidered by congress and the war department. Certainly the discrimination against the men in active service ought to be removed. The fighting man asks for justice and he deserves to get it.

THE CANTONMENTS TO CONGRESS.

If a vote on universal military training were taken in the camps and cantonments of national army men and national guardsmen it would appear as if the entire nation demanded the adoption of a permanent military policy.

Experience has taught the men in training. They know that provision must be made for an army or an army cannot be had. If a nation denies that it will have occasion for the use of an army it will not avoid the occasion, but it will not have the army.

Congress, in which Senator New is to bring the issue of universal service to a vote, could learn something of the sentiment of the experienced part of the country by investigation in the cantonments in which the new army is being raised.

The men who are going through this experience would not have the nation repeat the experience. No person can observe intelligently the long, slow process by which a nonmilitary nation converts its ineptitude and awkwardness and weakness into organized strength and then rest easily with the thought that ineptitude, awkwardness, and weakness are to prevail again.

If the vote in congress would follow the vote in the cantonments universal service would be adopted for the United States.

Editorial of the Day

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER.

[From the Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser.]

Henry Ford is suing THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for libel, THE TRIBUNE having questioned the patriotism of Mr. Ford in the preparedness controversy before we entered the war. Unfortunately for THE TRIBUNE, Mr. Ford's patriotism has stood a better test than the newspaper's since we commenced to make war and the public is noticing the difference.

"Nobody," remarked the Charleston News and Courier, "is working harder against the country than THE TRIBUNE in its efforts to break down public confidence in President Wilson and the government."

While Mr. Ford is giving the best that is in him to the unselfish service of his country, the government drawing freely upon his time, his money, and his factories, THE TRIBUNE has undoubtedly gone too far in its campaign for frightfulness directed at Washington. It has had one and two editorials a day ever since we went to war attacking the government and disparaging the efforts the government has made to put the country squarely in the fight, while its Washington bureau fills the paper's news columns with partisan propaganda designed to weaken the government. Much of THE TRIBUNE's criticism is no doubt constructive, but the criticism is written ungenerously, so roughly, and from a partisan point of view that it does not carry conviction. Nobody would muzzle THE TRIBUNE. Nobody would deprive the country of the benefit of its wise suggestions, but a great many people wish that THE TRIBUNE would not take itself so seriously. THE TRIBUNE is the most egotistical newspaper in the United States. It cannot understand, apparently, why Woodrow Wilson does not have a clerical menial read to him a TRIBUNE editorial before he makes a speech and another editorial before he appoints a brigadier general or makes a request of congress.

It is most provoking—to the editors of THE TRIBUNE. Doesn't Mr. Wilson know that THE TRIBUNE is the "World's Greatest Newspaper" and as such is the greatest known repository of wisdom and virtue? Doesn't he realize by not taking THE TRIBUNE's advice and Republicanizing the government (against the expressed wishes of the American people) that the Germans are bound to sack the country in the end and that the republic cannot possibly survive Democratic rule?

Doctors know medicine, barristers know law, naturalists know science, soldiers know war, and ministers know theology, but only the editor of a vainglorious American newspaper knows all about everything—and THE TRIBUNE is the "World's Greatest Newspaper."

One of our privileges as a resident of Glencoe is to help raise that suburb's quota for the War Camp Community Service fund. The sum is not vast, but everyone is expected to contribute something. A word of explanation, to save questions and answers: The work done for the soldiers and sailors by the W. C. S. board is distinct from that done by the Y. M. C. A., and in no wise duplicates or interferes with it. The Y. M. C. A. takes care of the boys inside the training camps, the other looks after them outside. It is not work that the Y. M. C. A. can take on, because it hasn't the organization or the men to form one, and it is already neck-deep in its own work. Finally, the fund must be raised this week. Uncle Sam says so, and that settles it.

VENTILATING HEATED ROOMS.

DR. PETER BRYCE of Ottawa, Canada, who has solved the problem of humidifying a house heated by hot water, at least so far as his own home is concerned, has sent me several methods of ventilating rooms heated by stoves. The methods are especially adapted to country schools, railway stations, lumber camps, and stores located in cold climates. Some of the stove heated barracks could advantageously use some of the methods.

Method No. 1 [being the method approved most by Dr. Bryce]: The room is heated by an ordinary stove placed toward one side of the room. In order to get humidity a pan filled with water is kept on the stove. The stove pipe comes out of the side of the stove and ascends vertically to a level about two feet below the ceiling. It then turns and runs to and through the wall. A drum about 4 feet long and 20 inches in diameter surrounds a portion of the vertical part of the stove pipe.

In the portion of the drum outside the stove pipe is a spiral diaphragm. Cold air is taken in through a 4 inch pipe laid under the floor. At a point directly beneath the drum this pipe turns and ascends vertically to the drum. The cold air circulates around the drum, is warmed and discharged into the room. A 3 inch pipe starts a few inches above the floor near the room wall back of the stove, ascends to about the level of the top of the stove, then angles over and discharges into the stovepipe. The draft in this pipe exhausts foul air from the room. The muffler around the stove pipe warms the cold incoming air.

Method No. 2: A sheet metal jacket covers the stove so as to permit of several inches of air space on all sides and beneath. A 4 inch fresh air pipe runs under the floor and discharges in the jacket below the stove. The fresh air, after being warmed, emerges into the room. A pan of hot water is set on the cover in the region through which the warm air emerges. A muffler surrounds the stove pipe near and at the section which passes through the wall of the room. The foul air is drawn by the heat from the stove pipe into this muffler, and is then discharged to the outside. In some cases it is advisable to run foul air pipes from different parts of the room to the exit around the stove pipe.

Method No. 3: It is less efficient than the more complicated methods. A water pan is placed on the top of the stove. A frame covered by cheese cloth, gauze, or cotton is set into the top of the window, the upper part having been lowered for the purpose. A six inch board raises the lower sash. The fresh air enters between the two sashes and through the cracks. The foul air leaves the room through the cloth placed above the upper sash.

To ventilate a steam or hot water heated room in a very cold climate Dr. Bryce proceeds as follows:

The radiator is jacketed. He prefers a jacket that forces the fresh air up between a coil and the jacket wall, then down between the other side of the jacket, then up by the side of the second coil. A pan of water is on the coil. An inlet duct as long as the window is broad is inserted in a window located behind the radiator. This intake bends downward so as to discharge the cold air behind the radiator low down. The foul air is drawn out by a small fan located near the ceiling. The fan discharges the air through an outlet duct.

FOR MORE WEIGHT.

R. J. writes: "1. How can I put on more weight? My present weight is 125 pounds; 5 feet 6 inches tall. I am 18 years old.

"2. I bathe every other day, and sometimes every day. What kind of water is best?

"3. I generally use warm water, with a cold rinse-off. Is this right?

"4. I practice deep breathing. Is this profitable?"

REPLY.

1. Your weight is almost right for your age and height. If you wish to add a little, eat two bowls of milk and crackers or milk and sugared rice a day. This in addition to your regular meals.

2 and 3. Why change?

4. Yes. It helps to develop the muscles of your back and chest.

WINTER ITCH.

E. O. W. writes: "Would be glad to have you give a remedy for itch. It seems strange that a person would have the itch, but it is all over the country. The skin is dry and slightly pimpled, but not inclined to become sore from scratching. Itches most at bedtime; gets better at times and then worse."

REPLY.

Your symptoms indicate that you have winter itch. This disease is not related to seven years' itch or ordinary itch. Winter itch results from living in warm, dry air. Any one of the so-called eczema cures will give temporary relief. These remedies contain camphor, chloral, and a few other drugs of little consequence. These remedies do not cure. If you will reduce the temperature of your rooms to 65, or, better still, 60, and raise the relative humidity to 50, your disease will disappear within forty-eight hours.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1918: By the Brentwood Co.]

AMERICA is about to receive the visit of a charming British peeress, Lady Drogheda, wife of the tenth earl and one of the foremost of women aviators in the United Kingdom. The name of Drogheda is familiar to racing men in all parts of the world as the title of the founder of the great Punchestown races, which are to Ireland what the Derby and the Oaks are to England.

Lady Drogheda's enthusiasm on the subject of aviation and her interest in all its developments caused her some time ago to organize in England an exhibition of aircraft which has aroused a good deal of attention and which she is now bringing to America.

She received her first lessons in aviation from Grahame-White and has made a number of flights across the sea from England to France and from Ireland to England.

Some years ago Lady Drogheda came into the public eye as being the first London hostess to have several of the rooms of her town house in Wilton crescent decorated according to cubist ideas. In the dining room the ceiling was jet black, as was also the floor, while the walls were paneled in black velvet. The molded cornice had an old gold effect and the frieze was painted in cubist style, vivid reds, dark greens, and other tints being employed for the symbolical designs.

There were vertical panels bearing a chevron pattern in vermilion, inserted in the walls, and also vertical panels of beveled and silvered plate glass. The latter, ten or twelve in all, were only about three inches across, and an ebony chimney glass, in geometrical patterns, completed the more noticeable features of the room.

There was nothing present in the decorations of the room or of its furniture to distract the mind from the contemplation of the artist's theme. The effect was heightened by some cubist paintings, in which Wynham Lewis depicted "A Laughing Woman," "The Afternoon of a Fawn," and other subjects.

Lady Drogheda was a Miss Kathleen Pelham Burn of Prestonfields, near Edinburgh, and makes her principal home at her husband's beautiful country seat in Ireland, known as Moore abbey, in County Kildare. Lord and Lady Drogheda leased Moore abbey for a time to Lord Decies and to his American wife, the daughter of George J. Gould.

It has long enjoyed the reputation of being one of the gayest country seats in Ireland owing to its proximity to the great military camp of Curragh, which stands in the same relation to the army in Ireland that Aldershot does to the army in England. It is a grand old place and has always been renowned for its hospitality.

It belonged to the Moores ever since the reign of Queen Elizabeth, who presented a grant of the ancient and important abbey of Mellefont, now Moore abbey, to Sir Garrett Moore of Moore place, in Kent, for his military services in the emerald isle. In fact, the first of the Moore owners of Moore abbey to be raised to the peerage—it was by James I.—was styled Lord Moore of Mellefont.

While the hospitality of Moore abbey has always been most charming and cordial, it has not always been warm. Thus the cousin of the present earl, on whose death without issue the marquisate of the family became extinct, was wont to handicap his hospitality by declining to allow anything but peat fuel to be burned at Moore abbey, having a dread of fire and being, moreover, convinced that the smoke and gases of coal injured his magnificent collection of paintings, of which he was inordinately proud.

Peat does not throw out much warmth nor is its aspect in the grate conducive to cheerfulness, and some amusing stories are told of how guests brought surreptitious supplies of coal in their portmanteaux to burn in their bedrooms unbeknown to the owner of the abbey.

On one occasion when the late Lord Clonmel arrived on a visit at the abbey and his luggage was being conveyed up to his room one of his portmanteaux burst open and spilt a large quantity of coal on the staircase under the nose of his indignant host.

Of course Moore abbey, like every self-respecting country seat in Ireland, has its banshee, which is alleged to have appeared to Lord and Lady Decies when they were driving home one night after dinner from a neighboring country house to the abbey.

The banshe of Moore abbey, instead of restricting its appearances to its precincts, is accustomed, according to popular belief and tradition in the district, to take pleasure in stalking along the country roads in the vicinity, on moonlight nights, and it is in this way that he is said to have appeared to Lord and Lady Decies. The ghost is alleged to be that of the second Viscount Moore, who was killed by a cannon shot while fighting for Charles I., at Port Lester, in County Meath.

The present Earl of Drogheda is far more up to date than were his two predecessors. He served for several years in the foreign office, and as attaché of foreign missions, and is an excellent amateur actor, having appeared in London theaters in several public performances in behalf of charity.

The recent death at Chelsea hospital in London of Capt. Count Frederick Metaxa deserves mention because the gallant officer, although holding a commission in the English army, belonged to a historic Greek family, and bore, with the permission of the English crown, a nobiliary title conferred several hundred years ago by the republic of Venice.

Chelsea hospital, founded by Charles II. at the instance of Nell Gwynn, the ancestress of the Dukes of St. Albans, is the English counterpart of the Palace of the Invalides in Paris, and a home for veteran soldiers invalided out of the service on account of wounds sustained in battle.

Count Metaxa was himself badly wounded in the Boer war of eighteen years ago. He was a son of the late Count Frederick Metaxa, admiral of the British navy, and a nephew of the aged head of the family, Count Andrea Metaxa, who owns estates in Kent and in Gorfu, the next heir to his honors and estates being the only boy of his only son, who died some years ago, as a lieutenant of he royal navy.

The Metaxas hail from Cephalonia, the largest of the Ionian islands, and when these islands passed into the possession of the Venetian republic, in the middle ages, the Metaxas won fame as admirals of Venice in the latter's wars against the Turks. Their title of count dates from the middle of the seventeenth century, when it was bestowed upon Giovanni Metaxa for his services at the siege of Naupail.

The Metaxas played an important role in the war of the independence of Greece, in the beginning of the nineteenth century, and Count Andrea was the first minister of war of the independent Greek government in 1830. He was also premier of Greece during a portion of the reign of King Otho.

When the Ionian islands were taken over by the British government, Jean Baptiste Metaxa, his son, the seventh count of his line, and head of the family, became an English subject, and secured full naturalization as an English citizen. He married a member of the family of the last Lord Rancliffe, and the present and eighth count is his son.

APPEAL TO EXEMPTION BOARD.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—[To the Friend of the the People.]—A native of Turkey took out his first papers over seven years ago. He registered in the draft. He claimed exemption and appealed, but has not been heard. Where shall he apply for exemption? S. T. P.

The question of who are or who are not subject to draft under the selective service act is one for determination by the exemption boards appointed for that purpose.

DELAYED SOLDIER'S ALLOTMENT.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—[To the Friend of the People.]—My husband enlisted in the navy last June. For some reason or other his pay has been withheld and I have received only $50 since his enlistment. Where shall I apply regarding the matter? MRS. E. P. C.

Apply to the bureau of the department of war risk insurance, 30 North Michigan avenue, Chicago.

PRODUCE ORIGINAL CERTIFICATE.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—[To the Friend of People.]—I am German born and came to this country when I was 16 years old. Thirteen years later I applied for citizenship papers. I was given my second papers and was told I did not need the first papers as I had been here long enough to receive the second. Am I a citizen of the United States? MAX S.

If you received your final certificate of naturalization and can produce the original certificate or a certified copy thereof, you apparently are a citizen of the United States.

REPORTS SUFFICIENT LIGHTS.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The elevated track that crosses State street at Fortieth street is very dangerous. There is no light under it. Cannot this condition be improved? MRS. A. B. W.

A survey of the conditions at the above location shows that the elevated structure at this point is about thirty feet above the street level and that the street illumination is all that could be desired.

MUST PAY FOR STOCK.

Wilmette, Ill., Feb. 22.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Some years ago I bought eighty acres of land in Texas from a land company, the greater part of the stock being in the hands of Germans in Germany. I still owe part of purchase price, secured by a note. I have been told that such payment should not be made until after the war. What is your advice? E. V.

If the company is organized under American law, you must pay to it now, regardless of who are the stockholders.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

STATE FULL FACTS.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—If a man and woman, both single, residents of Illinois, should go to another state to be married, returning to make their home in Illinois, would their marriage be legal? C. W.

The marriage evasions act makes such a ceremony void here if it would have been void if celebrated here.

If you will state the facts on which your question arises we will be able to give you more valuable advice.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DRAWING CHECK WITHOUT FUNDS.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—What ruling would apply to a person issuing a check and not having sufficient funds on deposit to cover? L. P. Co.

The act provides that any person who with intent to defraud draws a check and thereby obtains money, knowing that he has not sufficient funds or credit with the bank, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The drawing of such check shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MUST PAY PROPERTY TAX.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I have been taxed $5.49 as a personal property tax. My household necessities amount to $250. I do not own a piano or any other luxury. Am I compelled to pay this tax? MRS. J. M.

There is no legal exemption. The rate is about $6.50 per $300 of actual valuation. Apparently your figures are regular and you must pay. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

As but limited space can be given letters in this department, writers must confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Unless they give us their full names and addresses their letters will not be considered. No manuscript will be returned unless the writer sends postage for that purpose.

FEED THE ARMIES FIRST.

Chicago, Feb. 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—As I understand it, Mr. Hoover is figuring to make sure first that we at home are duly fed, and then to send what is left over to the allied army. For God's sake ask Mr. Hoover to turn that plan the other way around. First make sure that all the army is fed, and leave us to mosey along on what is left over. They are exposed, life and limb; we are comfortably at home. They are far removed from the source of supplies; we are close to the farms and markets. They are war weary; we have not even heard the rumble of distant cannon. If we don't put them first and ourselves second we don't deserve to succeed! I and my family are ready to accept the consequences of such a plan.
JOHN GORDON.

THE CITY BOY TALKS BACK.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—So a farmer way out at Columbus Junction, Ia., wants to know what use city boys will be to farmers. Say, where's he been this last century? A boy of the city only has to be shown a thing once and he knows it ever afterward, whereas it takes sixteen years for a "country hick" to learn to do the chores, and then look how they're done!
A LOYAL HIGH SCHOOL BOY OF THE U. S. BOYS' WORKING RESERVE.

REVIVE THE CARPET BAG? NEVER!

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 24.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I hardly agree with Mr. Daley as to the old-fashioned carpet bag becoming popular again, as many handbags, traveling bags, and suitcases are now being made of leather substitutes which to the naked eye resemble leather in every particular, wearing as well as if not better than most split leather.

FISH STORY FROM AN OLD TIMER.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—An article in last SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE says the cisco was first discovered in 1875 at Lake Tippecanoe, Ind.

I and my parents left Chicago in the fall of 1864 and went to Springfield, Wis., where we took a stage for Lake Geneva, there being no railroad then. In June, 1865, ciscos were so common in Lake Geneva that we boys would dip them out of the lake with our hands into the boat, and every year up to 1870 we caught ciscos that way.

Fishing for ciscos through the ice with beads as bait was never heard of in those days, for the cisco was seen only in June. While at Green Lake, Wis., last fall I heard a man who claims to be a real fisherman tell of catching ciscos in this manner, but my opinion is that they were whitefish or lake herring.
MYER H. MOSS.

One story about the ciscos is that early in the '70s Levi Leiter, an early resident of Lake Geneva, brought them from Lake Geneva, Switzerland, and placed them in our Wisconsin lake.

WET OR DRY, LET'S VOTE.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—As a believer in the right of petition I am greatly perturbed over what appears to be a deliberate attempt on the part of the wets to deny to the people of Chicago the privilege of casting their ballot on the question of whether this shall be dry territory.

Surely it is not the purpose of the election commissioners to arrogate to themselves the right to determine whether 150,000 Chicagoans shall be denied the use of a constitutional political weapon in determining a vital question. Surely the commissioners will not allow themselves to be bulldozed by the brewers into leaving off the official ballot this important question.

Surely the people of Chicago will not allow themselves to be defrauded of their political rights by a clique that is personally interested in perpetuating by anti-American methods an anti-American institution. W. W. SHERWOOD.

ANOTHER CURE FOR GUN TOTING.

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—As state's attorney of Champaign county for eight years I have had an opportunity to study the class of men that carry weapons. I arrived at one conclusion and have never changed it. It is these men are cowards and are physically afraid of the law. There is just one way to stop this evil and stop it effectually. Make carrying revolvers and other deadly weapons a felony. Punishment with not less than one or over five years in the penitentiary. Cut out the parole law and make this punishment fixed and certain. The curse will disappear. I have tried for ten years to get this law enacted, but have never succeeded.

MORE GRAIN FOR MAN, LESS FOR STOCK, IS ADVICE

Let Food Go Direct and Not in Fattened Cattle.

(This is the second of a series of articles written by Mr. Hyde on the food situation.)

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

It will not be possible to increase the total amount of foodstuffs for humans and farm animals raised by the farmers of the United States this year as compared with 1917.

That statement—backed by the opinion of most agricultural experts—does not mean that it will be impossible to raise this year a greater quantity of food for the hungry nations.

Normally about 80 per cent of all the stuff raised on farms is fed to animals. Only about 20 per cent of the crops goes direct to the table. One method of increasing the supply of food for human beings is to raise more wheat, for instance, and to cut down, if necessary, a corresponding amount in the production of corn used for stock feeding.

Food which a man eats directly goes much further than if it is used to fatten a steer, for example, which is then killed for beef. To put the last few pounds of fat on a steer takes, comparatively, an enormous amount of feed. It adds, also, to the flavor of the meat. But, in the present emergency, it may, probably will, prove wiser to send the steer to market with less fat on its ribs and save for human consumption the extra food which would be needed to produce it.

Labor Shortage Felt.

The chief reason why the American farmer cannot increase his total food production this year is the shortage of farm labor. His problem is to use the available labor to produce the greatest amount of food for human use.

These are the views of one of the most distinguished agricultural experts in the country.

The indications are that the farmers are intending to work somewhat along these lines:

Of winter wheat there was sowed last fall some 42,000,000 acres, an increase of 2,000,000 acres over 1916. The winter wheat crop of last year was badly damaged by the heavy winter. This year early conditions were not favorable, but heavy snows a little later put a protecting mantle over the young plants and it is expected the forthcoming reports will show promise of a much greater crop than last year.

Spring Acreage Promising.

There is also a promise of a much larger acreage in spring wheat, for which the farmers are now beginning to prepare.

How far the farmers will be able to go with corn and other crops—after taking care of the increased wheat planting—will depend almost entirely on what help they can get.

The shortage of farm labor, which will not become wholly apparent until it comes time to put in the crops, varies in intensity in various localities. There is a great difference in the ruling of the various local exemption boards in their treatment of farmers and farm laborers. In some localities many farm managers and expert laborers have been exempted. In others there have been almost no farm exemptions. In some cases the owner and only workman on a farm has been put into class 1 and will shortly be called to the camps.

Furnish More Than Share.

On the whole the reports from the entire country show that the farms have furnished rather more than their share of soldiers, even when compared with other less essential lines of business. Farmers, for instance, sent 205,731 men to the first installment of the national army—making more than 26 per cent of the total eligible—as opposed to less than 26 per cent of the men who were called from the "beverage industries." Men listed as employed in animal husbandry—one of the most important branches of farming—had 29 per cent of their number accepted for immediate service, as opposed to only 22 per cent of those classified as belonging to "general trades."

Under the new general classifications it is apparent that the intent is to exempt, so far as possible, men engaged in the production of foodstuffs. Reports from many of the local exemption boards, however, do not show that this intention is being carried out in anything like a liberal spirit.

It should not be too late for some of the boards to revise their classifications and put as many active farmers as possible in classes 3 and 4.

NEGRO SOLDIERS RIOT; 26 FACE COURT MARTIAL

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 26.—Twenty-six Negro soldiers of the Five Hundred and Twelfth engineer service battalion are in the guard house at Camp Pike, awaiting court martial as a result of a riot in a mess hall this morning. A white noncommissioned officer received a painful but not serious scalp wound.

According to the official report at division headquarters the trouble started when a Negro refused to obey the order of a white sergeant to return to his place in line while breakfast was being issued.

The Negro, flourishing a razor, climbed over the counter after the sergeant. White corporals and sergeants went to the rescue and a free for all fight followed with the air filled with dishes.

A flying wedge of noncommissioned officers dragged the Negro leaders out of the building and ended an affair that was fast assuming serious proportions.

BOY HIT BY AUTO TRUCK.

Clifford Sullivan, 13 years old, of 7241 Eberhardt avenue, was internally injured yesterday when he was struck by an automobile truck at West Seventy-third street and Vincennes avenue. He was taken to the St. Bernard hospital. The truck was owned by Tony Vanarkel of 8810 Wallace street, a truck farmer, and was driven by Frank Olsson of 8844 Princeton avenue, who was held.

LIEUT. DAVID B. PECK.

MISS KATHRYN BRANSFIELD.

Formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Kathryn Bransfield and Lieut. David B. Peck will be made by Mrs. Ellen Bransfield next Sunday. The notice was received by THE TRIBUNE yesterday and confirmed by Miss Bransfield's family.

Lieut. Peck is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Peck of 65 East Division street and grandson of the late George W. Peck, author of "Peck's Bad Boy." George W. Peck Jr. supposedly was the elder Peck's inspiration, members of his family say, but in truth he was always a model youngster.

The third generation of the Peck family, represented by Lieut. Peck, has, like his father, failed to develop any traits which made the "bad boy" a popular feature years ago. He is stationed with the Three Hundred and Thirty-third infantry at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky. When he gets over there he is willing to allow the Heines to believe he is the original bad boy when it comes to a scrap.

SHOW RAILROAD SPENT FORTUNE TO SWAY VOTES

L. & N. Head Forced by U. S. to Bare "Slush Fund."

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—Another chapter was added today to the history of the interstate commerce commission's investigation into past political and financial practices of the Louisville and Nashville railway, by the public declaration of Milton H. Smith, president of the road, that his company had made a number of expenditures for political purposes in southern states before 1915.

In a deposition made public by the interstate commerce commission Smith answered categorically nine questions relating to political expenditures, to which he had refused replies while under examination by Joseph W. Folk, former chief counsel of the commission, during the public inquiry in May, 1916.

He complied with the order of the Supreme court last November, holding that the commission had authority to inquire into practically all expenditures of a railway company.

Tells of Expenditures.

According to the document, $30,000 was spent in 1914 in Alabama for political campaign purposes and charged to operating expenses; $34,800 spent in Alabama through the Johnson-Dallas advertising agency in a campaign against rate reduction as advocated by former Gov. Comer of that state; $20,715 spent in 1910 for maintenance of political agents, whose identity and precise work was not disclosed; and $15,000 expended in 1907 "in aiding a newspaper which was advocating certain views upon public questions in which the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company concurred."

Smith declared these practices were "customary and conventional with corporations in the past," but added that they "are contrary to the public opinion of today and have been discontinued by our company."

He promised that "there shall be no more cause for complaint of such contributions."

Passes to Legislators.

In Tennessee alone, the inquiry showed, many legislators received $8,000 worth of railway passes in a single year.

The nature of expenditures made for these purposes always was carefully concealed in the railroad's records. They were charged to operating expenses and in some cases were covered by lump sum vouchers in favor of certain banks.

The commission's review probably will recite testimony by which the commission's counsel sought to show that the Louisville and Nashville had acquired scores of small roads in the south and either curtailed their extension or virtually killed them in the interest of the Louisville and Nashville.

Another outstanding feature of the testimony was the disclosure that officials of the Louisville and Nashville and the Southern railway a number of years ago entered into an understanding to divide the south between the two roads, neither extending lines or buying roads in the territory of the other.

BOY'S BODY IS RECOVERED.

Sergt. Atwell and members of the crew of the police motor boat yesterday recovered the body of Donald Russell, the 9 year old boy, living at 4829 North Monticello avenue, who fell in the north branch of the river on Friday while playing on the ice.

SECOND DRAFT CALL TIED UP BY SENATE DELAY

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Congress is so slow in getting action on pending draft legislation that the second draft call which Secretary Baker recently told members would be issued late in April or early in May is in danger of postponement.

The provost marshal general's organization can make no authoritative move to prepare the local draft boards for mobilization of the second increment of 500,000 men until congress passes the pending bill providing for changing the basis upon which the quotas of men to be called from the various states are to be computed.

The administration has determined not to distribute the quotas of men required for service on the basis of registration to population but upon the basis of the number of men in class 1 as compared to the total registration. This will eliminate all unfairness to localities due to alien population.

Legislation to authorize this change in method of quota distribution has been pending for some time and the bill was reported favorably from the senate committee on military affairs weeks ago.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—As a means of stimulating movement of farm products to the consumer, Postmaster General Burleson today increased the allowable weights of parcel post packages, effective March 15. Packages, when mailed in the first or second zones for delivery in the first, second, or third zones, may thereafter be as heavy as seventy pounds. They are now restricted to fifty. The weight limit for all other zones was increased from twenty to fifty pounds.

BIG MACHINES FAIRLY SPOUT SHELLS, GUNS

While the entire country has been clamoring for quicker action in furnishing munitions for war purposes, Chicagoans have been quietly solving the problem of how to produce the maximum number of big guns and shells in the shortest possible time. As a result, Chicago has become an active center for the manufacture of machinery for smashing Von Hindenburg's defenses.

The first of the newly invented machines being made here is a lathe which turns and bores shells with extreme speed. The second is a machine for boring big guns of any size or length, and the third is a planer of record breaking size. The planer is built of concrete and iron and is the first metal working machine that has ever been built of that combination. It is the biggest machine of its kind in the world.

These machines are so unusual in construction, and can be built with such speed that the methods of manufacture have attracted wide attention among experts.

Saves Two Years' Delay.

Machinery used for war purposes formerly was made so slowly that it would be impossible to supply with it the present demand for quick construction. An attempt to build the big planer of iron, according to regulation methods, would have meant a delay of at least two years.

The machine for boring guns is eighty feet long and weighs sixty tons. But it can be placed in the mammoth planer, which has a bed 184 feet long and weighs more than 2,500,000 pounds.

The inventor of the machines is Lucien I. Yeomans, a nephew of Grover Cleveland. He was formerly superintendent of the Link Belt company's plant, superintendent of motive power for Armour & Co., and superintendent of factories for Sears, Roebuck & Co. Mr. Yeomans is the only machinist the family has produced since the days when one of his ancestors made muskets for the revolutionary army. The new machines are being made by the Amalgamated Machinery corporation, at Thirty-seventh street and South Racine avenue.

Four of the big planers are being built and one is almost finished, although the drawings for it were not ready until Christmas day. Instead of requiring two years for the work, the first machine will be working within two months from the time its foundations were dug.

Tents Cover Leviathans.

Long channels are dug on the side of each of the machines and into each tons of concrete are poured around steel reënforcing rods. On this bed there is a sliding platen, which moves in iron grooves. The platen weighs sixty-nine tons and upon it will be placed the machines which are to be planed. All of the work is done under canvas. At first an old circus tent was used, but it broke down under the weight of snow and the shreds of canvas have been propped up over the work.

Each of the planers costs $85,000. As all the material upon which they work will be extremely heavy two traveling cranes are being put up nearby.

The boring machines which are to be made on the planers can handle a cannon 38 feet long and having a caliber of 14 or 16 inches, close to the limit of heavy ordnance.

In addition these machines are to be used for boring the shafting needed by destroyers. This shafting is hollow, as that form gives the greatest possible strength for a given weight, and will soon be needed in immense quantities for the fleets of destroyers convoying merchantmen and chasing submarines.

Don't Mind the Hours.

Several thousand of the shell making machines have been produced. Each of these machines can turn and bore a shell in from fifteen to twenty minutes and is usually run twenty-four hours a day.

One company has just placed an order for more than 100 of these machines, a second ordered 75, and a third 80.

Two hundred have been turned out during the last sixty days. They make the American 6 and 8 inch shells and the British 9.2 inch shells.

The French are the same size as the American.

Win British Favor.

These machines turn out shells that are meant only for high explosives. In the early stages of the war the British army depended on shrapnel and at first did not look favorably on Mr. Yeoman's unusual ideas. Later, when the machines were wanted badly it was difficult to get them to England. Several thousand, however, have been sent to Canada, where they are turning out the shells which the allies are pouring into the German lines.

The shop in which these machines are being made was built in eighteen days and great speed has marked every step in the work. The machines weigh ten tons each and are sold at $3,000. They are to be turned out in immense numbers during the next few months.

AVIATOR HERO

Trygve Thronsen's Final Flight Gets His Name in Honor Roll.

Trygve Thronsen, who was killed in an aeroplane fall on Monday near Memphis, Tenn., was, before enlisting last spring, an interne at the Lindlahr sanitarium, 525 South Ashland boulevard. He lived with a brother, Sigurd, at 2519 North Kimball avenue.

He came from Norway, where his parents still reside, fifteen years ago, and was 32 years of age. He will be buried on Thursday, and the funeral will be from his former residence.

SOLDIER SLAIN IN FIGHT OVER PRICE OF BOOZE

Negro Who Boasts of the Crime Arrested in Houston.

Camp Logan, Houston, Tex., Feb. 26. [Special.]—A bottle of forbidden liquor, 15 cents, an iron gas pipe, and a two hundred pound Negro bootlegger ended the military career of Private Clyde E. Scott of the One Hundred and Twenty-third field artillery. He was a resident of Fairmount, Ind.

He is the second Prairie divisioner to be murdered in three weeks. He went to town yesterday afternoon on a pass and failed to return. The military police were told of his disappearance and the body was found today.

Statements from five persons weave a web of evidence around a Negro by the name of Austin Grant, but he has not yet confessed.

Tries to Buy Liquor.

According to the story put together from five statements, Scott had been in the Negro district all afternoon. He tried to buy a bottle of liquor of some kind from the Negro and got into an argument over the change.

The amount involved in the argument is said to have been 15 cents. When Scott refused to pay this sum the Negro beat him with the lead pipe and killed him.

Negro Boasts of Deed.

"'Spect Uncle Sam will have a soldier funeral tomorrow," Grant is alleged to have said to a Negress by the name of Angeline Tompkins at whose house he lives, "and he will have more if those soldiers don't stop pesticating around you. I done beat that man into a pulp."

The Negress told her story to some white citizens and Mrs. Mary Gray, a white woman who lives at the same house, told the story to the police.

The body will be shipped to Scott's mother in Indiana after a military service here. He was 26 years old and enlisted ten days after the declaration of war.

FLOUR WILL BE ALLOTTED ON A SERVE-ALL PLAN

The flour committee of the food administration at its meeting yesterday practically agreed on a plan which is expected to bring relief from the flour shortage. The committee will determine the amount each distributor handles in normal times and will estimate the amount of flour that will come to Chicago during the next few months. The amount each distributor is to handle will be arranged in proportion, so that all will be fairly treated. All distributors have agreed to accept this allotment.

Three big milling companies notified Chairman Wheeler yesterday that they will deliver flour to the ten proposed food distribution stations, in preference to giving it to their larger customers.

The situation with reference to flour is declared to be much better in other parts of Illinois than it is in Chicago.

The arrival of 4,000,000 pounds of western sugar Monday is believed to mark the end of the shortage of that product in Chicago. The average amount received in Chicago during the last three weeks has been about 500,000 pounds daily.

PETROGRAD IN PERIL; TROTZKY MAY BE OUSTED

soviets, reconstituting the power of the landlords, bankers, and capitalists, and preparing for the restoration of the monarchy.

"The revolution is in peril. A mortal blow will be struck against Red Petrograd. If you workers, soldiers, and peasants wish to retain power and the power of the soviets you must fight these hordes, who now are seeking to devour you to your last gasp.

"The decisive hour has struck. Workers and all oppressed men and women! You must swell the ranks of the Red battalions. To arms all of you, that the struggle may only cease with your last breath."

Resist Invaders.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, dated Monday, says:

"Resistance to the German advance is growing. This is shown by the reports of fighting which continues in the vicinity of Pskov. This town has changed hands several times. The German detachments which first entered Pskov were very small, but they have since been reinforced.

"There is a general belief that the Germans are moving forward hastily because supplies of ammunition worth 400,000,000 rubles are concentrated in the neighborhood of Pskov. The Russians, however, are taking measures to guard the railway and are sending more Soviet troops to Pskov."

10,000 Move on Reval.

Later advices say the Soviet armies are now everywhere resisting the invaders. At Narva the garrison and workmen have formed an army of 10,000 and gone to Reval. There are similar reports from Walk. Great activity is manifested at the Bolshevik headquarters in Petrograd, and arms and ammunition are being distributed.

The German statement says Gen. von Linsingen's troops have marched 186 miles into Ukraine and "have freed a great part of the country from looting bands."

The Germans have not yet made any announcement concerning the booty taken at Reval, the great Russian naval base, or at Pskov.

Bolshevik Headquarters Moved.

The Bolshevik headquarters have been transferred from the Smolny institute in Petrograd to a military camp, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Petrograd dated Monday. At this camp, the dispatch reports, the workmen of the city are assembling en masse, carrying red banners, and fighting detachments are being formed continually.

It is reported that the council of people's commissioners, which forms the Bolshevik governing body, has decided to remain at the Smolny institute, although the military activities have been shifted elsewhere, the dispatch adds.

No Reply by Germans.

An official Russian statement sent out by wireless Monday announced that no reply had been received from Germany to the Russian communication accepting the German peace conditions. The announcement, which was signed by Premier Lenine and Foreign Minister Trotzky, again inquired when a reply would be given and hostilities cease.

The announcement was addressed "to all" and to Berlin, Dvinsk, Sofia, and Constantinople. It said that the highest authoritative body in Russia had decided to accept the new peace conditions of the Germans and that this decision had been transmitted to the German government, while Ensign Krylenko (then Bolshevik commander in chief) had communicated with the German headquarters Sunday the belief of the Russians that hostilities would end and inquired if an armistice would automatically ensue upon the same basis as previously.

Meanwhile the Germans were still advancing, the announcement said.

Armistice Refused.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 26.—[British Admiralty, per Wireless Press.]—"Germany has formally refused to grant an armistice, and German detachments continue to advance," says an official statement issued today. "Resistance thus becomes the principal task of the revolution.

"Russia's greatest strength lies in her wide territories, and the government can and if need be will retreat. If the threat against Petrograd increases the government will remove to Moscow or another city."

New Parley by Turks.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 26.—At the request of the Russian commander in the Caucasus and the president of the Caucasus republic, says a Constantinople dispatch, Turkey has agreed to fix a place for peace negotiations. This announcement was made by the foreign minister in the chamber.

The minister said that after the withdrawal of the Russian troops from the eastern provinces, the Turks have cleared the provinces of marauding bands and reached Baiburt.

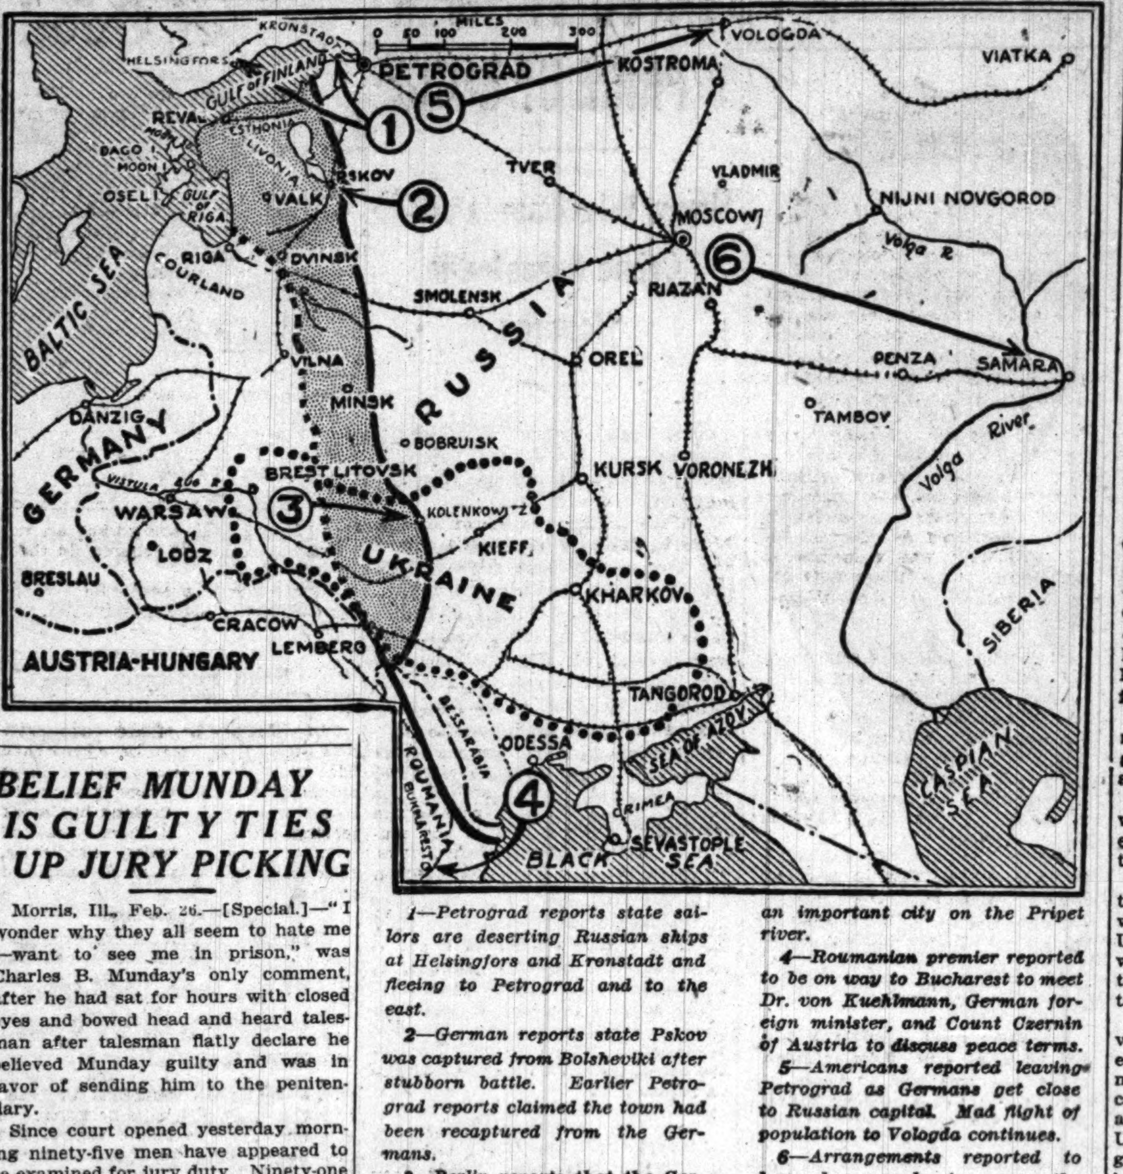
German Bombs Kill 2 at Venice and 3 at Mestre

ROME, Monday, Feb. 25.—During air raids Sunday night, a semi-official announcement says, enemy airplanes dropped twenty-seven bombs on inhabited places at Venice, thirty on Mestre, and five on Castelfranco. Two persons were killed and nine injured at Venice and three were killed at Mestre. All were civilians.

French Order Clocks Set One Hour Ahead March 9

PARIS, Feb. 26.—The cabinet decided this morning that the summer time daylight saving schedule should begin on Saturday, March 9, when all clocks will be set forward an hour at midnight.

THE GERMAN ADVANCE CONTINUES IN RUSSIA



1—Petrograd reports state sailors are deserting Russian ships at Helsingfors and Kronstadt and fleeing to Petrograd and to the east.

2—German reports state Pskov was captured from Bolsheviki after stubborn battle. Earlier Petrograd reports claimed the town had been recaptured from the Germans.

3—Berlin reports that the German army advancing in the Ukraine has reached Kolenkowitz, an important city on the Pripet river.

BELIEF MUNDAY IS GUILTY TIES UP JURY PICKING

Morris, Ill., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—"I wonder why they all seem to hate me—want to see me in prison," was Charles B. Munday's only comment, after he had sat for hours with closed eyes and bowed head and heard talesman after talesman flatly declare he believed Munday guilty and was in favor of sending him to the penitentiary.

Since court opened yesterday morning ninety-five men have appeared to be examined for jury duty. Ninety-one had been excused, twenty because of their appeal to the court as to the needs of their business, the others because of their frank prejudice against Munday. Only four remained and the court ordered a special venire of one hundred summoned for tomorrow's session.

Waukegan Baker Arrested as Hoarder of Flour

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Steve Stoakoff, Waukegan baker, was arrested yesterday by P. J. Fergus, an operative of the department of justice from Chicago, on charges of hoarding flour and defying the edicts of the federal food administration. He was taken to Chicago, where he is expected to have a hearing before Commissioner L. F. Mason Wednesday, following an interview with District Attorney Clyne. Stoakoff was arrested at the request of John S. Clark, Waukegan food administrator, when he refused to give up all but thirty days' supply of 237 barrels of flour he had stored in his basement.

Lutheran War Fund Has Gone Over Top

The Lutheran campaign for a national war fund of $750,000 came to an end last evening. While the reports are only partially in, they indicate the total has been greatly exceeded.

Some figures received are: Illinois—Amount asked for, $61,800; received, $76,000. Iowa—Asked, $25,000; received up to Monday night, $30,000. Wisconsin—Asked, $64,000; received, $100,000. Minnesota—Asked, $89,000; received, $187,000.

All these amounts, it is certain, will be increased. Churches of the Missouri synod are not included in this particular war fund.

City Hall Employes in Workless Workday

Primary and election days have for years been holidays for city employés. They had to work yesterday, in conformity with the city council's action in abolishing such holidays.

It was a gloomy day about the city hall. The general public, probably unaware that the building was open for business, failed to come in to transact municipal affairs. Clerks, stenographers, and other employés tried hard to look as if they were busy, but it was a failure.

HOYNE'S OFFICE NEUTRAL IN DRY CHICAGO FIGHT

The Dry Chicago federation yesterday reported to the office of the state's attorney that certain homes had been entered by persons claiming to have come from the state's attorney's office and women signers of the dry petition had been cross examined, browbeaten, and threatened.

Assistant State's Attorney Barnhart denied any agents had been sent out from the office to make any such inquiries.

William Legner, president of the Chicago Brewers' association, asserted his belief the dry petition would show 60,000 fraudulent or irregular names.

"Feinberg," said Mr. Legner, "confessed he had been paid $40 by Mr. Yarrow and his assistant, Jason E. Hammond, for his roster of frauds and forgeries. But Dr. Yarrow now asserts his belief Feinberg 'did not commit any crime,' but he adds, 'if he did the drys will be glad to join with the wets in his prosecution.' All I need say is that we will do our own prosecuting. It is just possible that later it may strike Dr. Yarrow's way with directness.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 26.—George F. HONORS AWAIT PUPILS SELLING THRIFT STAMPS

Every pupil in the public schools who has purchased a thrift stamp will be given a place on a roll of honor which, within a few days, will be posted in all schoolrooms in the city. War savings societies will be established in every room and the children will start a campaign to sell stamps outside of school.

Special marks of honor will be shown after the names of children who have bought or sold more than five stamps, with a different colored star for those who have taken five, ten, twenty-five, and fifty stamps. It will not be the amount of the stamps sold which will count, but the number.

Framed tablets will be given as prizes to five schools in the county buying or selling the largest amount of stamps. The schools will be divided into the following groups: Twenty-five pupils or less; 25 to 150 pupils; 150 to 500 pupils; 500 to 1,000 pupils, and schools of more than 1,000. There will be a prize for the winner in each group.

CAPITALS TELL THEIR VERSIONS OF WAR MOVES

RUSSIAN FRONT

GERMAN.

BERLIN, Feb. 26.—Army group of Gen. von Eichhorn: Yesterday morning, four days after crossing Moon Sound, the troops which had marched on Reval with cyclists, cavalry, machine guns and sharpshooters at their head, under command of Lieut. Gen. Freiherr von Seckendorff, took the fortress after a battle.

In Livonia flags were hung out in many towns when we marched in. A great many inhabitants who had been arrested by the Russians were set free.

South of Pskov our regiments met with stubborn resistance. They defeated the enemy in a violent battle and the town was captured.

Near Kolenkowitz enemy forces threw themselves against detachments which were pressing forward into Ukraine along the Pripet. The enemy was thrown back by a sharp attack and the town and railway station were taken by storm.

Within a few days the troops of Gen. von Linsingen's army group have covered more than 300 kilometres [186 miles] on foot, by rail and in motor cars, under conditions of great strain and hardship. In coöperation with Ukranian troops they have freed a great part of the country from looting bands. The Ukrainian government has restored quiet and order in the regions which have been cleared of the enemy.

Recently there have been brought in on the eastern front as prisoners, three divisional staff officers, 180 other officers and 3,676 men. The number of prisoners and the amount of booty taken at Reval and Pskov cannot yet be estimated.

Elsewhere there is nothing to report.

FRENCH FRONT

BRITISH.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—A hostile attempt during the night to raid one of our saps south of the Arras-Cambrai road was driven off by rifle fire.

Elsewhere there was nothing of special interest to report.

FRENCH.

PARIS, Feb. 26.—The activity of both artilleries was marked north of the Chemin des Dames and on both banks of the Meuse, especially in the sectors of Hill 304, Le Mort Homme, Beaumont, and Chambrettes, where our batteries violently counter shelled the enemy artillery. There was no infantry action.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN.

ROME, Feb. 26.—Along the Posina Astico sector an unusual movement on some portions of the enemy positions drew, with good effect, a concentration of fire from our batteries. In the region of Monte Asolone our reconnoitering parties caused alarm in the enemy's lines, which brought forth unnecessary firing.

In the valley of the Seren a column of enemy troops while marching was unexpectedly caught by our fire. Losses were suffered by the enemy, who was compelled to disband. Along the remainder of the front the activity remained slight.

MACEDONIAN FRONT

FRENCH.

"YARDS" CHIEF

Sergt. Lovell Wilbur

Acting Chief of Police Alcock lost one of his most valuable men, he said, when Sergt. Lovell R. Wilbur of the traffic division resigned to become 'chief of police' of the Armour & Co. packing plant police force of 150 men.

Sergt. Wilbur had been a member of the Chicago police department twenty-three years, having joined during the railroad strike in 1894 when Michael Brennan was chief. Since then he has traveled out of nine stations. He was at the Stanton avenue station fifteen years.

Since the United States entered the war he has been assigned to the stock yards district. As 'chief of police' for Armour & Co. he succeeds Capt. William H. Jones, who held the position thirty years and was recently retired on a pension.

Wilson Gets $50,000,000 Shipyards Housing Bill

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—Final action was taken today on the bill authorizing expenditure of $50,000,000 by the shipping board for housing facilities at shipbuilding yards when the senate adopted the conference report approved last week by the house. The measure now needs only President Wilson's signature.

LABOR MAY ASK BRANDEIS TO SIT AT CONFERENCE

Justice Suggested to Act with Taft Upon Toil Policy.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—With the selection by employers' representatives of former President William H. Taft as one of two men to serve for the general public, the conference between spokesmen of capital and labor which met today to frame the basis of a national labor policy adjourned for a week to permit the workers to name the other member for the public.

The selection of Mr. Taft, officials said, would give prestige to the conference and impress on the public mind its importance. Mr. Taft has accepted.

The labor representatives are expected to name a prominent man also and tonight it was said that Associate Justice Brandeis of the Supreme court might be asked to serve.

Each to Offer Program.

When the conferees meet again a week from tomorrow each side will have ready a program and an outline of the subjects it thinks should be taken up.

Aside from the desire to formulate a government labor policy, the chief aim of the conference is to find a method of doing away with strikes which might hamper war production. It is believed that both sides will agree to some plan of arbitration, probably by district boards with the right of appeal to a general board or department to be established under the department of labor.

Representatives of the workers named William Johnson of Washington, president of the Machinists' union, to take up the place of J. A. Franklin, president of the boilermakers, who was unable to serve on the committee.

Ship Labor Conference.

A conference next Tuesday of government officials and representatives of all unions whose members are engaged in shipbuilding was called today by General Manager Piez of the Emergency Fleet corporation to take up a proposed amendment of the so-called shipbuilding labor agreement to meet the views of the Brotherhood of Carpenters.

The agreement, signed by the heads of all unions represented in the shipyards, was repudiated by William L. Hutcheson, president of the carpenters.

BUCKMINSTER'S SOCIETY SOUGHT BY OUR POLICE

They've Met Him in Arson Cases; Now It's Confidence Games.

Frederick K. Buckminster, indicted five years ago on an arson charge and convicted two years ago on a confidence game charge, but still free on bonds totaling $135,000, is being sought again by the police.

According to information from police sources, Buckminster, who has been named by the state's attorney's office as a member of Joseph (Yellow Kid) Weil's gang of deluxe confidence men, is wanted on two new confidence game charges. He is accused of fleecing a Kansas City man out of $6,000 and a citizen of Michigan thinks Buckminster is the man who got $2,000 from him.

It is said that Buckminster has fled Chicago and is being hidden in a neighboring city by friends. Several Chicago politicians have interested themselves in Buckminster's case and the police expressed the opinion that he would not be caught until one of his criminal cases is called for trial.

Police Have Heard of Him.

Buckminster was indicted five years ago for complicity in setting the fire which burned the plant of the Northwestern Can company, of which he was the secretary-treasurer. He was named in at least one arson confession made to former First Assistant State's Attorney Frank Johnston. After many months he was arrested just on the eve of his departure for Europe in Windsor, Canada, and brought back to Chicago. He was promptly released on bond.

Before his case was brought to trial he was indicted on a wire tapping charge and in September, 1915, he was convicted of mulcting Martin Hupe of Homewood, Ill., in a wire tapping game. He appealed the case to the Supreme court and the high court recently affirmed the lower court.

Several months ago he was accused again by the state's attorney's office of complicity with the "yellow kid" and others of trimming bankers and manufacturers out of thousands of dollars through fake mining stock deals. He was arrested and gave new bonds.

Lowden Blocks Paroles.

Gov. Lowden yesterday made good his promise to Chicago officials to help the city in its fight against crime. Ho caused the Joliet penitentiary and Pontiac reformatory heads to forward lists of inmates who are to have parole hearings in March to State's Attorney Hoyne and Acting Chief of Police Alcock.

The local authorities had complained to the governor that they had not been notified of pending parole hearings at which they might want to introduce evidence to prevent the release of well known criminals.

The plan of notification will give the prosecutor and the chief an opportunity to look into the records of the men slated for parole and resist their release if they are considered dangerous to the community.

BAKER'S DOUGH NOT THE DOUGH BANDIT SOUGHT

Charles Heidinger, 40, living at 160 Karl street, was shot by a burglar last night while Heidinger was mixing a batch of bread in the basement of the bake shop owned by Andrew Hager, 1135 Rush street.

Heidinger attempted to open the door, but his hands were stuck in the dough and he was not fast enough to satisfy the gunman. The shot grazed the right side of Heidinger's skull and he dropped to the floor.

The burglar then climbed into the cellar and tried to get upstairs into the bake shop. He failed to break the locked doors. He then turned and kicked Heidinger, who lay on the floor, and crawled out the window and vanished.

Heidinger's wound was not serious.

BANDITS VISIT MICHAEL TWICE INSIDE 3 DAYS

George S. Bronson, druggist, 4159 North Robey street, gave his revolver and $50 in cash to two robbers.

The last twenty-four hour period showed 213 suspects arrested in the various police districts. The detective bureau held the high record with twenty-six arrests.

AGED WOMAN DIES FROM GAS.

Mrs. Ida Anderson, 73 years old, who lived alone in her home at 5316 North Leavitt street, was found lying on her bed dead from gas fumes when police broke into her bedroom yesterday. She had been dead about three days.

KILLED IN ACTION IN FRANCE

Chicago Boy Whose Parents Receive News of His Death with British Engineers.

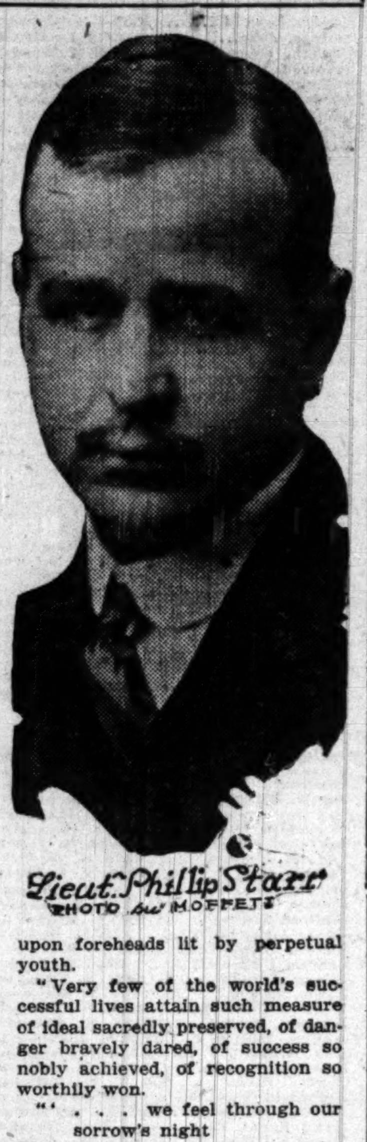
A CABLEGRAM received yesterday by Mrs. Merritt Starr of Winnetka disclosed that her son, First Lieut. Philip C. Starr, was killed in action with the royal engineers of Great Britain, Feb. 20, on the French front. The father is in Wilmington, Delaware, on business.

Lieut. Starr was a Harvard graduate. He was 28 years old. Two years ago he enlisted in the Canadian army and, after a short period of training received an appointment to the officers' training school at Kingston, from which he was graduated with the commission of lieutenant of artillery. He was sent to England, where he was transferred to the Royal engineers. He was with the One Hundred and Fifty-fourth field company when killed. No further details of his death have been received.

Letters received from him recently by his parents and by a sister, Mrs. Fletcher Dobyns of 67 East Division street, related in enthusiastic manner his pioneer experiences under shell fire.

The father has been for many years a member of the law firm of Miller, Starr, Brown, Packard & Peckham.

It is of interest to recall that a Harvard classmate of Lieut. Starr, Paul Cody Bentley of Kenwood, was killed by a shell while driving an ambulance in France last September.



Lieut. Phillip Starr

A few days after news of Bentley's death reached Chicago a memorial service in his honor was held in Kenwood Evangelical church. At that service Attorney Merritt Starr, father of Lieut. Starr, was a speaker. In his address Mr. Starr said of his son's college mate:

"At first he seems cut off at the start. But in a higher sense his life work was singularly complete. Much of the world's fame rests upon foreheads lit by perpetual youth.

"Very few of the world's successful lives attain such measure of ideal sacredly preserved, of danger bravely dared, of success so nobly achieved, of recognition so worthily won.

"' . . . we feel through our
sorrow's night
That those young souls are striving still Somewhere for truth and light.'"

WOMEN EXPLAIN FEES FOR JOBS; FUNDS ARE GONE

The employment department of the woman's committee, Council of National Defense of Illinois, is not a "labor bureau" and never will be, and there is, therefore, no occasion for disturbance in the minds of the people connected with the city, state, and federal employment offices in Chicago.

These statements were made last night by Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, chairman of the committee, following a report that the officials of the free employment bureaus in the city had raised serious objections to the fee which the depleted condition of the committee's exchequer made it necessary to charge.

"We had no special desire to found an employment bureau," said Mrs. Bowen, "but we were besieged by women looking for employment. Not women of the type who go to free employment offices, but those whose pitiful advertisements one reads every day. Some women of 40 with no training, but great ambition, others highly trained, most of them wishing positions as secretaries, stenographers, or in other forms of clerical work."

Charles J. Boyd, head of the Illinois free employment office, attended the meeting of the heads of departments in the woman's committee at 120 West Adams street, yesterday. After hearing the report of the employment department of the committee, he was quoted as calling it little short of criminal for the women to charge a fee.

"The state alone," he is credited with saying, "expends $50,000 a year to combat the paid labor agencies."

$175 RAISED FOR CHARITY.

About $175 was raised for charities at a social held by the Forest Park lodge of the Royal Neighbors of America last night.

SCHOOL CHARITY COVERING SLIM IN LUNCH MATTER

President Edwin S. Davis of the school board, who promised to raise $5,000 for penny lunches, has had to fulfill just $23 of that pledge. The rest of the high cost of food has been met entirely by the children of the poor districts, where the penny lunches have been established, as the solid six members of the board of education refused to subsidize the institution for the period of high prices.

Only where there has been an actual demand for charity has there been any call upon the president's fund, and the requests for charity food by the school children have been extremely small.

It is estimated that the total demand on the president's fund will not reach $100 for the school year, as the children of the poorest parents have indicated an unwillingness to ask for a charity allowance not permitted the other children.

Martin Schmidhofer, supervisor of German in the elementary schools, has been placed in charge of all foreign language instruction in the grade schools. The ruling which took instruction in German out of all grades except the seventh and eighth and gave French and Spanish an equal standing with German went into effect on Feb. 1, and the number of children now taking foreign languages is only a small proportion of the former number.

Mr. Schmidhofer has been the object of complaints because of his apparent favoritism for German.

INTERNE HELD ON GIRL'S CHARGE.

Charged with a serious offense, involving a 17 year old Negress, Dr. Oscar Fruendes, 28 years old, of Costa Rican ancestry, an interne at the Lakeside hospital, was held to the grand jury in $5,000 bonds yesterday by Judge Newcomer in the South Clark street court.

FOUR WITNESSES SEIZED IN DEAR MURDER TRIAL

Shadows seemed to creep closer about Earl Dear in Judge Kersten's court yesterday. With deep sunken eyes he sat glowering with futile rage while Prosecutors James C. O'Brien and John Prystalski turned the witnesses on whom he pinned his hopes.

Dear, with Eugene Hartnett, is on trial for the murder of Rudolph Wolfe, chauffeur for Dr. Philip Schuyler Doane, while Wolfe was trying to prevent the theft of the physician's auto.

Four Witnesses Seized.

Four of the defendant's witnesses were arrested as they left the courtroom yesterday. These were an alleged dentist who gave the name of Dr. Spencer Brown, 1617 North Wells street; John Daley, known as "Chicago Jack" Daley, an ex-pugilist; James Duckworth, a bartender in "Con" Dillon's North Clark street saloon where Hartnett testified he was employed as a waiter, and John P. Corrigan, a waiter in the Erie café.

According to the prosecutors these four men will be formally charged with perjury this morning. While they were being held in the state's attorney's office Attorney Robert Cantwell, whose son, Robert Cantwell Jr., and whose law partner, F. G. Smith, represent Hartnett, attempted to obtain their release on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge David. Assistant State's Attorneys O'Brien and Prystalski, however, asked the judge for time to make formal charges, and Judge David agreed to this.

Memory Fails Them.

All four men told a story corroborating the testimony of Dear and Hartnett on Monday, but seemed to suffer sudden lapses of memory when the prosecutors questioned them about their own statements.

Prosecutor O'Brien in cross-examining "Dr." Brown quickly brought out that he is not licensed to practice dentistry, but that he merely owns a dental laboratory. It was also revealed that the self-styled dentist had been acquainted with Robert E. Cantwell Sr. for thirty years. Brown declared he had told a hundred persons about his version of the murder of Wolfe, but failed to remember even the name of one personal friend with whom he had discussed it.

Strain Tells on Dear.

The strain of the trial obviously is telling on Dear. His eyes seem to be sinking deeper and deeper into his head, and the glint that comes from them at times takes on a strange light. Dear no longer is the careless, débonair, "innocent as usual" criminal. The character of the inner man is asserting itself in his face, which is no longer pleasant to look upon.

The state will continue its case today by calling witnesses in rebuttal of the testimony of those who attempted to corroborate the stories of Dear and Hartnett for the defense. The closing arguments to the jury are expected by agreement to start at the opening of the afternoon session.

Rent on Morrison Property Must Be Paid to Court

In denying a petition to have Edward W. Morrison declared bankrupt yesterday Judge Carpenter ordered that the rents from the Clark street property now in possession of Attorney James R. Ward, be paid to the clerk of the court until the petition is finally disposed of. The total rents amount to $4,000 a month.

A patriotic concert will be given tonight by Unit 392 of the Volunteer Training Corps to raise funds for supplying the men with uniforms and other necessities. The concert will be held at the Austin High school, Fulton and Lotus streets. A feature will be a talk by Lieut. William Burt Mathews.

J. Spencer Dickerson of the board of trustees of the University of Chicago received word yesterday that Prof. Anton Carlson, formerly of the physiology department, who enlisted Nov. 27 in the sanitary corps, has been promoted from a captaincy to a majority. Maj. Carlson is in charge of the food division of the surgeon general's department in Washington.

News of the first casualty among former students of the University of Chicago who have entered military service was received yesterday with the publication of the name of Hawley Brownell Almstead of Taylor, Pa., ex-'17. Almstead was a member of the Fifteenth field artillery with Pershing in France. He died of pneumonia.

A service flag containing eleven stars will be dedicated at a patriotic service to be held in the Second Reformed church, Sixty-sixth and Peoria streets, Friday night at 8 o'clock. A special program has been arranged and the proceeds of the entertainment will be turned over to the army department of the Y. M. C. A. The Rev. Lawrence Dykstra is pastor.

Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university, will talk on "War Fallacies" at the Chicago Association of Commerce meeting at the Hotel La Salle at 12:15 p. m. today. He will discuss false impressions alike of Germans and Americans.

The leaders of the Red Cross shop in Highland Park called for volunteers to make bandages last Monday. A large number of the active workers turned out and many of them brought their husbands. What to do with the husbands was a problem until some one suggested that they be put to work. Each man was decorated with a Red Cross gown and an instructor showed him what to do. They did it with enthusiasm and it wasn't long before they were turning out bandages like veterans. It was decided to have the shop open for the men every Monday evening.

MORE DANGER IN BEING BABY THAN SOLDIER

All of our heroes are not on the battlefield. Mrs. Ira Couch Wood of the State Council of Defense told the council of parent-teacher associations in the school board rooms yesterday that it is eleven times more dangerous to be a baby in Illinois than a soldier on the fields of France. She said that 125 babies out of every 1,000 in the United States die every year, or a total of 300,000 for the country.

"The Illinois rate is disgustingly high," said Mrs. Wood. "Minnesota takes care of its babies. Its death rate is 70 for every 1,000."

Mrs. Wood said that during 1918 the clubwomen of the country with the help of the mothers are going to try to save 100,000 of the lives of babies who die annually from preventable diseases. The quota for Illinois is 5,625 babies, who would be included in the deaths except for the proposed campaigns.

"Little mothers' clubs" in the schools will be increased so that children who have much of the care of infants at home may learn the proper methods of caring for children.

Other speakers were Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, who spoke on "War Work in the Schools," and Hugh S. Magill Jr. of Springfield, who gave an address on "The Spirit of Illinois."

TROLLEY CAR KILLS BOY.

Raymond Grimsley, 8 years old, 509 South Leavitt street, died yesterday at the University hospital as the result of injuries sustained when struck by a street car at Rockwell and Sedgwick streets Feb. 22. An inquest will be held this morning.

BLUE SKY STOCK FAKERS DIG UP A NEW SUBTERFUGE

"Massachusetts Trust" Dodge to Be Used in Illinois.

Dealers in chunks of "blue sky" think they have found a way around the statute intended to protect the gullible from bargains in that ethereal commodity.

Their legal device is known among lawyers as the "Massachusetts trust." They give it that name because of a practice that has existed in the Bay state for half a century or more. It consists of the establishment of trusteeships under the common law for the conduct of certain lines of business.

Watched by Brundage.

Under the protection of this disguise, it is said, a number of "sky salesmen" expect to proceed more freely in their own line of business than they did even before the enactment of the "blue sky" law. But their success is not entirely independent of the attitude of Attorney General Brundage, who is reported to have both eyes on the new move.

"If they are allowed to proceed as they plan," said a lawyer who has looked into the situation, "they will make millions. Their new dodge is intended to free them from all the responsibilities they would have if they organized corporations. In the new form their concerns would not be amenable to any of the laws governing corporations, according to their lawyers.

"One or more lawyers already are becoming specialists in this line, and they advise their clients that they need not file annual reports, submit their books for inspection, or make public any financial statements. There is no limit to their capitalization, they are told, and the amount need not be governed by their assets or any other factor.

"With complete freedom, they believe, they will be able to sell an unrestricted number of 'shares' in their schemes.

"Ever since the enactment of the 'blue sky' law last summer and, more particularly, since it went into effect on Jan. 1 there has been an increasing number of declarations of trust and agreements of trust filed at the county recorder's office.

"Of course some of these are legitimate, for there always have been bona fide trusts in Chicago, but a large number of the new filings show on the face that they are nothing but stock jobbing schemes. There are oil schemes, manufacturing syndicates, sales companies, and stock and bond concerns.

Camouflage Used.

"Their new form is correctly described as a common law trust, but the titles of many of them use the word 'company' or 'syndicate' in order to convey the impression that they are corporations and therefore under supervision.

"In Massachusetts the line has been drawn clearly in reference to these trusts. The courts have held that the trustees are in complete control and that no voting power of any kind can be conveyed to the purchaser of a 'share' certificate. The moment the holder of 'shares' is permitted to vote at an election or on a question of policy the concern ceases to be a trust and is recognized as a partnership."

Attorney General Brundage said he was not ready to discuss the subject of common law trusts.

UP TO WOMEN

Morale of Soldiers Depends on Morale of Feminine Sex at Home, Midwest Service Conference Is Told.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 26.—The morale of the American armies will be dependent entirely upon the morale of the women at home, Miss Grace Parker of New York, national commandant of the National League for Women's Service, declared at the midwest conference of the organization here today. Delegates from several states are attending.

"Our duty is to keep the spirits of the men at a high pitch by doing more than our share of war work," Miss Parker declared.

"The purpose of the organization is entirely social and economic, and we must see that neither of these two most vital factors in the nation's life is allowed to drag through failure of the women to do their part."

MY CORNS ARE GONE FOR GOOD

"By George! I never saw anything like the effect of that new treatment, Ice-Mint, for removing corns and bringing quick relief to tired, swollen, aching, burning feet. It acted like a miracle in my case," said a well-known man yesterday, in speaking of this discovery which has caused such a big stir among Foot Specialists. "I had carried a pet corn for years that simply took all the joy out of life. I tried plasters, salves, ether compounds and all of the other 'Dope' that is supposed to do the trick, but the pestering thing simply would not leave me. I began to think there was nothing on earth that would kill my corn, when I finally read about the remarkable results obtained by foot sufferers from the use of Ice-Mint. I decided to try it for myself and before I hardly realized it my corn came out—root and all—and without causing the least pain or soreness. Believe me, it seems mighty good not to be afraid some one is going to hit my pet corn—and the relief—well, that just seems like Paradise."

Ice-Mint is a pure, snow-white, creamy preparation made from a genuine Japanese product and is highly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes and by men who stand on their feet all day. It draws the inflammation out of swollen, tired or burning feet, heals cracked or bleeding toes and imparts such a delightful, cooling, soothing sensation that you just sigh with relief. It is now selling like "Wild Fire" here. Try it. Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-Mint and give your poor, suffering, tired, aching feet the treat of their lives. There is nothing better, or nothing just as good.—Advertisement.

Deliver Coal Quickly—Economically

Conditions this winter have proved that the motor truck is the one means of distributing coal quickly—a freight car load of coal must be distributed to as many consumers as possible.

The Milton E. Robinson Coal Co., of Chicago, has found that the Autocar two-ton truck is the motor truck exactly suited to coal delivery. During 1917 they bought three Autocar motor trucks.

Motor trucks are doing more work today than ever before—find out about the Autocar in your line of business at The Autocar Sales & Service Co. of Illinois, 753-755 West Jackson Blvd., Chicago.

FRENCH VETERAN PRAISES TROOPS AT CAMP GRANT

Superior to Those Sent Abroad, Is Comment He Makes.

Camp Grant, Ill., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—With reinforcements waiting in camp to make the divisional training process worth while, new ordnance and ammunition cheering the artillery to renewed activity in its big tactical campaign, and a general improvement in camp facilities, life and action swarmed over every foot of the training reservation today.

In this hive of war industry Lieut. Col. Paul Azan, commander of the famous French "Iron regiment" and senior officer of the French training mission, found a day jammed full of interest and encouragement when he made his initial inspection of Camp Grant. Despite the mud that met the inspection party at every hand the distinguished veteran pushed on to view every phase of the division's work and ended his day with a volley of praise and encouragement that thrills fighting men, from staff officers to stable guard.

Calls Work Marvelous.

"The progress here is nothing less than marvelous," he declared enthusiastically. "It far exceeds that made behind the lines by the expeditionary forces and the willingness and understanding of both officers and men here are beautiful."

Col. Azan was delighted when, in company with Maj. Charles E. T. Lull, Capt. Robert Payen of the French mission, and the division's chief of staff, he reached the rifle range to find Col. B. T. Simmons and Col. C. R. Howland firing round for round with their men on the five hundred yard course and encouraging their units to new records in marksmanship.

Overstay Their Time.

Further vacation allowances from camp have been jeopardized, according to company commanders, by the fact that scores of enlisted men and not a few junior officers took a too liberal advantage of the Washington's birthday leave order and failed to return to duty at the proper time. In some companies as high as a dozen men have been listed as absent without leave.

Released by President.

Thomas Farrel of Janesville, Wis., a member of the casualty detachment of the Thirteenth engineers, attached temporarily to the Three Hundred and Eleventh engineer regiment, was the recipient today of the first presidential order received in camp for the release from service of selected men.

$100,000 SOUGHT TODAY FOR FUND FOR RECREATION

Chicago is expected to make a gift of $100,000 today to her soldier boys' recreation fund.

It is the big day in the war camp community drive for $500,000 for Illinois. That means $400,000 for Chicago. Up to this morning a little more than $100,000 had been raised.

A parade—the first of its kind in the history of the city—will start from La Salle street in Quincy street at 11:45 o'clock, headed by the Chicago band of forty-two pieces, William Weil, conductor. Nine of Chicago's prettiest debutantes will march along the curbs behind the band.

They will carry miniature two story houses. "Uncle Sam's recreation clubs for soldiers and sailors," a legend on each house, will explain, and you will be asked to drop your silver or greenbacks in the chimney. A tenth debutante will ride in an automobile in charge of a big glass globe. At intervals the nine debutantes will empty the contents of their houses in the globe. It is expected to be full when the parade is ended.

Every bank, every hotel, every large building, every newspaper office will be visited, and while the band plays the fair campaigners will ask for contributions.

MEDICAL CORPS NOW CONTAINS 15,694 SURGEONS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Since the outbreak of the war the total strength of the medical corps has grown from 377 to 15,694, including officers of the regular army, medical reserve, national guard and national army.

There have been thirty-one deaths, 1,050 discharges, and 2,265 promotions, including a few officers who have been promoted more than once. About 4,000 applicants have been rejected and 21,740 accepted and recommended for commission, of whom 13,687 are now on active duty.

Although all candidates were required to be practicing physicians, certified by the American Medical association, discharges are continuing at the rate of fifty a week, the surgeon general having ordered a thorough weeding out of incompetents.

MORE NEW ARMY MEN JOIN COLORS AT CAMP GRANT

SEVEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY-SEVEN men left for Camp Grant yesterday to begin their training for service in the national army. The men have been selected to fill the vacancies in the quota of their local boards. Elgin board No. 2 sent thirty-six men and the Aurora board sent fifty.

Notifications were sent to all boards that agricultural claims for deferred classification need not be sent to the district appeal boards. In most cases the boards have placed in the deferred classes only experts on farming and students of agricultural colleges. By the new ruling of the appeal boards a man engaged in farming may be placed in one of the deferred classes if his occupation is considered of weight by his local board to warrant such classification.

Government appeal agents yesterday examined questionnaires returned by men who have been married since the draft. At local board No. 1 only four out of 1,000 cases investigated were appealed. The fact that a man is married places him in the deferred class. If the government appeal agents find that the man was married to evade service his case is appealed.

Portals Of Infection

Drain-pipes which empty into cesspool or sewer, drains of kitchen-sink and toilet, bath and wash basin are open portals for the invasion of dangerous diseases.

Typhoid and other intestinal maladies, and all the ills incident to sewer gas, constantly menace the home where drains are not kept in a sanitary condition.

Germs multiply by millions in the nooks and elbows of these pipes, especially when the plumbing is old.

Lysol Disinfectant kills all disease germs. Use it in scrubbing water, sprinkle rugs with it (it cannot stain the colors); use it daily in sinks, toilets and cesspools; you will then make a better fight against disease than it can possibly make against you and yours.

Lysol Disinfectant

There is but One True Lysol and that is the product made, bottled, signed and sealed by Lehn & Fink. Buy only in original yellow packages. Complete directions with every bottle. Three sizes: 25c, 50c, & $1.00. Sold everywhere.

Lysol Toilet Soap

Contains Lysol, and therefore protects the skin from germ infection. It is refreshingly soothing and healing and helpful for improving the skin. Ask your dealer. If he has none, ask him to order it for you.

Lysol Shaving Cream

Contains Lysol, and kills germs on razor and shaving-brush (where germs abound), guards the tiny cuts from infection, and gives the antiseptic shave. If your dealer has none, ask him to order a supply for you.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 26.—One American Bowling congress record was smashed and new leaders appeared in the two men and all events at the A. B. C. tourney today. Harry Steers and Fred Thoma of the Rubini team of Chicago took first place in doubles with a score of 1,335, just eleven pins behind the American Bowling congress record held by Satorius and Holzschuh of Peoria. Steers also went into the lead in the all events with 1,959, fourteen pins ahead of the former A. B. C. record, made by H. Miller of Detroit at Grand Rapids last year.

Numerous other changes among leaders took place. Steers bowled his way into second place in singles with 675, and was closely pursued on the following shift by B. Steinmuller of Syracuse, who went into fourth place with 655. A. Marrison of Ashtabula, O., earlier in the day had bowled 640. He landed in ninth place when the day's individual bowling was concluded.

Leadership Shifts Quickly.

In the two men event M. McDowell and C. Thies of Cleveland took the lead this morning with 1,247, only to be replaced in the afternoon by Steers and Thoma.

Good bowling marked the later shift in doubles. W. Carey and C. C. Collier, also of the Rubinis of Chicago, rolled into fifth place with 1,224. J. Shaw and H. Marino of Chicago went into sixth place with 1,222, and F. Scoville and B. Miller of Syracuse assumed seventh place with 1,217. G. Daschen and J. Miller of St. Paul, who bowled 1,202 this morning, finished the day in tenth place.

Cleveland Standard Tires rolled into eighth place in the five men event tonight with 2,822. None of the other teams broke in among the leaders.

Miss Timm and Partner Win Ice Tennis Contest

One girl player survived in the tennis on skates matches played in the ice tournament at the Arena rink last night. Miss Emily Timm and H. Kurzka won the hardest contest of the night, defeating Mrs. Malcolm MacNeill Jr. and Mrs. W. S. Miller, 6—5, 6—4. Tonight Miss Timm and Kurzka will play Walter Hayes and Ralph Burdick, western tennis titleholders. Miss Timm, who is an all around athlete, is not at all abashed at the idea of measuring her racquet and skating skill against the two stars. Result of other matches last night:

W. S. Hubbard and Walla Berns beat M. G. Ketchum and W. S. Miller, 6—4, 6—2; Bert Keeley and Landis beat Harry Fox and W. McLaughlin, 6—2, 6—4.

BITING, SCRATCHING MAT 'STARS' DISGUST 7,000 FANS AT SHOW

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

In a wrestling show marred by a rough and brutal match between Wladek Zbyszko and Steve Savage which was stopped, Joe Stecher, former heavyweight champion, easily defeated Chris Sorenson of Indianapolis in the main bout at the Coliseum last night. Stecher won the one fall contest in 1:39 with his famous body scissors. The fall came so quick some of the people did not see it.

The bouts were a bitter disappointment to a crowd of 7,000, the largest that has seen a show in Chicago in years. There was a lot of criticism and the general opinion was that better shows must be staged if the promoters expect the public to support the mat game.

Although this match had been carded as the feature of the show, the contest between Ben Reuben of Great Lakes and Mike Yokel of Salt Lake City was the most interesting from a wrestling viewpoint. The strong, sturdy grappler from the west was given Referee Charley Postl's decision at the end of one hour. In the other bout Ad Santell of California won from Buck Weaver, not the baseball player, in 9:18 with a double arm scissors.

Like an Alley Fight.

The bout between Savage and Zbyszko should have been stopped long before it had gone 29:30. No sooner had the grapplers shaken hands than Savage began to bite and gouge. Not satisfied with these tactics, he butted the Pole time after time, and finally Zbyszko began to retaliate with the same tactics.

In a short time blood began to flow from a deep gash over Savage's left eye, while the Pole's right optic was nearly closed. There were teeth marks on Zybszko's wrists and forearms and scratches on Savage's body. The grapplers were warned several times by Referee Thiry, but his threats of disqualification were of no avail. After they had kept up this sort of work for twenty minutes and brought hisses and jeers from the crowd the Pole picked up Savage and threw him out of the ring. Savage wanted to fight, but finally cooled off enough to start wrestling again.

At this time it was apparent neither was trying for a fall. They kept up their rough work until the referee stopped the match and called it no contest. The edict met with popular approval.

Reuben Makes Game Try.

After putting up a game but losing battle against Yokel, who outweighed him at least ten pounds, Reuben challenged Yokel to a finish match to be at any place or time. Yokel deserved the verdict, as he was the aggressor most of the time.

Santell, who is considered the fastest grappler in the game, gave a clever exhibition of leg work. He clamped head and body scissors on Weaver whenever he liked and could have won much sooner. There was nothing to the Stecher-Sorenson bout but Stecher.

$100,000 BID FOR JESS VS. FULTON

New Orleans, La., Feb. 26.—The Louisiana Auditorium Athletic club, before which Fred Fulton of Rochester, Minn., last night knocked out Frank Moran of Pittsburgh, tonight telegraphed Jess Willard, heavyweight pugilist champion, at Jacksonville, Fla., an offer of a purse of $100,000 for a fight between Willard and Fulton. It was stipulated that the fight must be for twenty rounds. The purse would be divided in any way agreeable to the principals.

Fulton announced tonight he was "ready and waiting" to meet the champion.

In the Wake of the News

THE MICE AND THE WELL.

(Dict. JAL-RWL.)

Once upon a time there was a hole in the ground and in it lived three mice. It was a mother mouse, and a father mouse, and a little baby mouse. Once the baby was—I'm going to say something funny—the baby was going out for a very funny journey.

He left the hole in the ground and went along, and went to a well. A shark lived in the well, and when the mouse looked down, the shark told him to go away. So the field mouse gave him a good scratch.

The shark came up out of the well and he was very angry, and he chased the field mouse back to the hole, but the field mouse beat him, and the hole was too small for the shark to get in it. So the shark began to dig with his nose to make the hole bigger, and he called the field mouse names, and the field mouse said:

"Freckle face, get out of here
Before I pour you a glass of beer."

Those were the last two words he said, and it made the shark angrier and madder. Finally he got the hole big enough and went down, and he saw the field mouse chewing on a telegraph wire, so the shark took the wire away and took it back to the well.

Then the fireman came along and he saw the well full of water, and he thought it was a fire, so he poured on more water and the water flooded itself and the fireman went home sopping wet. The field mouse came along and got in the water, and he went home sopping wet. The field mouse's father scolded him severely. The father went out and met the whale, the shark's cousin. The whale spied the field mouse and was filled with a new rage. They were quarreling when the shark came along, and sent the field mouse home squeaking.

The field mouse refused to quarrel with the shark. But they quarreled, and the tiger came along and told them to go home. But after the shark and the whale had gone to sleep in the well the field mouse went to the whale's storehouse and took everything.

LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

London, Jan. 31.—A few weeks ago, I was in that Chateau in France where you and Gib and the bunch stayed during your visit to the British front. The Major, your host, was reading in Collier's your story of that visit.

"Does he rully get paid for writing that sort of tosh?" he demanded.

"Yes," I admitted. "he probably got a hundred pounds for that story."

"He ought to have got a hundred years," reparteed the Major.

MERELY A WORKOUT, JACK DEMPSEY SAYS

BY RAY PEARSON.

Chipper as a kid—he's nothing but an overgrown kid—Jack Dempsey, the sensation of the heavyweight ranks, came back to Chicago yesterday from Milwaukee, where Monday night he handed out a fierce beating to game Bill Brennan, then late last night hopped aboard a train for Joplin, Mo., where tomorrow night he engages in a bout scheduled for fifteen rounds with Bob Devere of New York. To look at the Californian no one would believe he had been in a battle. He hasn't a mark, and when it was suggested that fighting Devere was crowding his matches a bit, he remarked. "Well, the Brennan bout was a dandy training gallop for me, so I won't have to do any boxing for Devere."

The Devere bout is a coin engagement for Dempsey. He's scrapping with Bob because the Missouri promoters came across with the offer, not because Devere is considered a stepping stone to the championship for which he is driving. Neither Jack nor any of his followers expect the bout will go many rounds, for Dempsey has plainly stated his ideas of how a real scrapper should perform.

Out to Win in Hurry.

"I'm out to finish every bout I start just as quickly as I can," he said last night. "I'm one fighter who won't pull the stuff of allowing a fellow to stick around."

As for the losing side of the Milwaukee combat, there is an alibi. Brennan, who showed wonderful gameness, hasn't a mark on his face to show for the terrific punches which rocked him from head to heel, but he has a sprained right ankle. At least that was the statement of the club physician who made an examination after the bout and dressed the foot. Brennan returned to Chicago last night in a wheel chair. He says he cannot walk on the injured foot.

House Totals $4,267.

The Milwaukee show did not come up to financial expectations. The house was worth $4,267. Promoter Mulkern is now going after a Dempsey-Fulton match or a battle between Dempsey and Billy Miske. He will make the match if permitted to raise the scale of prices. He finds the $1, $2, and $3 stuff doesn't bring sufficient reward to the promoter.

L. J. Hopkins of Chicago Wins Golf Medal in South

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 26.—L. J. Hopkins of Chicago won the gold medal today in the second day's play of the qualifying rounds in the annual golf tournament. Hopkins' card for thirty-six holes totaled 169.

SPORTING SHRAPNEL

IVY SPREITZER, the 19 year old infield sensation of the Chicago league last season, has postponed his advancement in the national pastime until the war ends. He has enlisted in the army and now is stationed at Columbus barracks awaiting orders. In a letter to Jimmy Sullivan, a local "side kick," Spreitzer states he can toss a stone into Joe Tinker's ball park.

Jake Abel, welterweight title claimant of the south, has appealed to the local draft board at Chattanooga, Tenn., to permit him to volunteer and go to Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga., at once.

Abel declares he is anxious to get over there and does not want to "hang around in training camps." He was a cadet in the first officers' training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, but was released. He will go to Camp Wheeler to join the "Dixie division" if permission is granted.

* *

Harry Heilman and Bert Ellison, believed lost to the Tigers through enlistment, will be back in their baseball togs as usual this season. Both discovered they probably would not be drafted as soon as they had thought, and decided to postpone signing up with Uncle Sam.

The Beaumont A. and B. A. of 1112 West Twentieth street gave a sendoff celebration for the president, Joseph Kunes, who goes with a quota of Chicagoans to be inducted into the national army at Camp Grant soon. Several sparring exhibitions were features.

ENGLEWOOD MAJORS ADD TO THEIR LEAD BY BEATING PARKER

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Englewood took a safe hold on the lead in the first round in the southwest division heavyweight race by beating Parker on the Purple and White's floor, 16 to 11. Chuck Palmer, who played on Englewood's football team last fall, played a fast floor game and his steadiness in shooting free throws gave his team the edge all through the game. He missed only one chance in nine.

Smith, Parker's center, missed six of eleven free throws, that team falling behind on the missed chances. Winters, Englewood's Negro center, tallied all the points Palmer did not make. Englewood has not lost a heavyweight game. Lineup:

Exhaust Echoes

by SHEPPARD BUTLER

AUTOMOBILE touring east of Chicago is getting to be one of our best little winter sports, thanks to the extremities to which the dealers have been put in getting cars from their factories into the city. D. A. Burke, Chicago manager for the Buick, claims the distinction of being the first to make the run from Chicago to Battle Creek since the big blizzard. This plunge into central Michigan is none too easy of accomplishment even in midsummer, but Mr. Burke found that if he was to have cars he must break the road himself, so he tackled the job last week.

"The road was fair as far as Three Oaks," he reports, "but at the further limits of the town we began encountering one snowdrift after another. We would make a dash for a snow bank, climb to the top of it and come to a stop with the chassis resting in the snow; then all hands would be ordered out with pick and shovel to dig out the car. Through St. Joseph, Benton Harbor, and Kalamazoo there was not much trouble, except where we had to ford a swollen stream, and at Battle Creek we found that a crew from the Buick factory at Flint had made their way through to meet us. So motorists may be assured now that the road from Flint to Chicago is clear for all comers. There was no question about that when we finished our trip."

Taking a more southerly route, W. E. Butler, Chicago distributor for the new air cooled Holmes, reached the city on Saturday with his first demonstrating car. The only way to get it here was to drive it from the Holmes factory at Canton, O. Though the machine was a new one which had not undergone even the customary factory tests, Mr. Butler made the 460 mile run in a total elapsed time of only thirty-one hours, which, of course, included several stops for meals. Through Ohio and Indiana he found the snow gone, but there is mud enough to provide desperately hard going over many miles of the way.

Woods and Waters

Any one who thinks he can ship fish into Illinois illegally and get away with it is mistaken. Wardens McQuirk and Huff last week seized a big shipment, and, on the order of Ralph Bradford, state fish and game warden, donated it to a number of charitable institutions. A DROP ON A TOUCHY CORN

Instant relief! Then corn or callus lifts off with fingers.

Just think! You can lift off any corn or callus without one twinge of pain.

A Cincinnati man discovered this ether compound and named it Freezone. Any druggist will sell a tiny bottle of Freezone for very little cost. You apply a few drops directly upon a tender corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it right off.

Freezone is wonderful. It dries instantly. It doesn't eat away the corn or callus but shrivels it up without even irritating the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, as well as painful calluses, lift right off. There is no pain before or afterwards. No soreness or smarting. Women should keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn ache twice.—Advertisement.

WORK AT ARMY CAMPS MAY KEEP MANN FROM CUB TEAM THIS YEAR

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

It will be a big disappointment to Manager Mitchell of the Cubs if he loses the services this season of Leslie Mann, who developed into a corking good ball player last season. Just now it seems uncertain whether Less will be able to fill his place in left field, not because he would quit on account of terms, but because he may not be able to cut the strings that bind him to war work.

A letter from Mann arrived at the Cub office yesterday in which he stated that reports that he was dissatisfied with terms and was threatening to quit were all wrong. But judging from further contents of the letter, one would say Mann himself has no assurance of getting away from army work for the baseball season.

Leslie is not in the army proper, but simply is working for the Y. M. C. A. He has been stationed at Camp Logan near Houston, Tex., ever since last September. It was reported last fall that Mann was exempt from war service because of his engagement in Y. M. C. A. work in the war camps, and now should he try to get out of that service to play baseball through the summer months the government might have something to say.

Mitchell is expected to arrive in Chicago this morning and take active command of things from now until October. It also is thought President Rickey and Manager Hendricks of the Cardinals will be here today to talk trade with Mitchell.

From San Francisco yesterday came a report that Swede Risberg had signed his contract with the White Sox and stated he was well satisfied, as he had received a substantial raise in salary.

Lake View Reds Check Davis Square, 24 to 22

Lake View Reds checked the winning streak of Davis square's 135 pound basketball tossers in the feature game of two minor weight tilts at the Illinois A. C. last night. The north side five won by a close shave, 24 to 22, the contest being fiercely contested and featured by almost every sort of basketball action. Personal fouls were numerous. Les Carlson's accuracy on free throws was the winning asset for the Reds.

RED CROSS TITLE MAY BE DECIDED BY GOLF STARS

Plan Is for Top Notchers to Play All Summer in War Benefit Games.

BY JOE DAVIS.

With Charles Evans Jr., national amateur and open champion; Jock Hutchinson of Glen View, patriotic open champion, and Jim Barnes of the Broadmoor club of Colorado Springs, western open champion, as a nucleus, a plan is on foot to establish a Red Cross championship this year.

These three players have agreed to play and Francis Ouimet, Jesse Guilford, the Boston amateurs; Walter Hagen, the Rochester professional, and, possibly one or two more will be invited.

J. M. Campbell of the Broadmoor club, who has been visiting here for three days, is originator of the idea. His plan is to award each of the contestants points for any Red Cross event in which they compete, the player having the best record at the end of the season winning the title.

A victory over an eligible player will count five points and the defeated opponent will lose five. The breaking of a course record held by a non-eligible player will count one point, and if held by an eligible player three points. A win over a non-eligible player will count one point.

It is thought Hagen will agree to play, but the availability of Ouimet and Guilford will depend on their ability to get leave of absence from their military duties.

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE FOR FAMILY USE

"Cascarets" regulate women, men and children without injury.

CANDY CATHARTIC Cascarets 10¢
CCC
WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

Instead of nasty, harsh pills, salts, castor oil or dangerous calomel, why don't you keep Cascarets handy in your home? Cascarets act on the liver and thirty feet of bowels so gently you don't realize you have taken a cathartic, but they act thoroughly and can be depended upon when a good liver and bowel cleansing is necessary—they move the bile and poison from the bowels without griping and sweeten the stomach. You eat one or two at night like candy and you wake up feeling fine, the headache, biliousness, bad health, coated tongue, sour stomach, constipation, or bad cold disappears. Mothers should give cross, sick, feverish or bilious children a whole Cascaret any time—they are harmless and safe for the little folks.—Advertisement.

'UNITE, SUPPORT U.S.,' HAYS' CALL TO REPUBLICANS

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—[Special.]—Predicting triumph for the Republican party, declaring that the country needs it now more than it ever needed it, and pleading for unity that knows no factions, Will H. Hays of Indiana, new chairman of the Republican national committee, delivered an address here tonight ringing with politics and patriotism.

Before the Republican congressional campaign committee at a reception given for him, Chairman Hays said in reference to the war, that there was but one side, that all political parties worthy of consideration must loyally support the war and exert every possible effort to win the war. But the efforts of "some well meaning gentlemen" to bring about the coveted solution of the crisis, he said, "were viewed with no great degree of equanimity or satisfaction."

Calls Criticism Necessary.

In this connection he insisted that "constructive criticism" was necessary and he could not understand the "mental process or heart beats of persons in authority in this awful crisis who wish otherwise."

"Less profiteering and more volunteering" were needed in this country, he declared, and he paid his respects to members of the I. W. W., characterizing them as traitors to their country who "should be treated as such."

"I am sure you agree with me that with malice toward none and with friendship for all, the reunited Republican party faces the future with triumphant expectancy," he said.

"Proud in our renewed great strength, and with supreme confidence in coming victories, we will proceed in that consistent humility, so commendable individually and appropriate collectively—a meekness compatible with the dignity of our profession, and the incalculable importance of the task before us.

Fifty Years of Service.

"For fifty years the Republican party has carried forward the flag and 'kept step with the music of the union,' and I am convinced that 100 years from today its great minds and brave hearts will still be striving victoriously and our children's children shall rise to call its founders blessed.

"The present day problems are ours. They are most serious in their complexities and their far reaching consequences, and we view the alleged efforts of certain well meaning gentlemen to bring about the solution with no great degree of equanimity or satisfaction.

"Just as the solution of these problems is vital for the country's welfare, so in like measure weighs the resultant responsibility on the shoulders of all well wishers of good government.

"The question today is, what of tomorrow? Our duty as Republicans is to make the present actions and the future record of the party consistent with its fifty years of patriotic performances.

Republican Principles Right.

"The large majority in this country believe in the principles of the Republican party. Men live and die, but principles endure. The great principles of the Republican party, since the days of the emancipation proclamation, have been right. They are right now.

"The Republican party does not play principles to win. The Republican party has advocated principles because they are right, and because Republicans believed in them. And we will not prostitute these principles for perfunctory preferment.

"The country needs today as it never needed before a united militant Republican party.

"The solution of the whole matter is largely a question of patriotism. The duty of every one is clear. I do not care how a man voted in 1912, 1914, or 1916, nor his reasons for so doing. We are all one today, for we have work to do for the good of the country and it takes us all to do it.

Urges Equality in Party.

"What we need in this country is not less politics but more attention to politics. If the citizens of the country perform a citizen's duty and interest themselves sufficiently in the politics of the nation the right principles will be practiced and able and conscientious candidates be elected.

"I urge a large participation in politics by the young men of the country. To which party they may belong is of less importance than that they seek the truth and then act, and act continually.

"All Republicans in the country are urged to join the fighting force and become a potent factor in the party of patriotism, protection, and prosperity and participate with equal voice in the management of its affairs with every other man in the party."

Confers with Roosevelt.

New York, Feb. 26.—Will H. Hays, new chairman of the Republican national committee, had a half hour conference with Col. Theodore Roosevelt today at the hospital, where the former president is convalescing from two operations which he underwent several weeks ago.

Mr. Hays said later his talk with the colonel was in the nature of congratulation over Mr. Roosevelt's recovery.

In discussing his conference last night with six former Republican national chairmen, Mr. Hays today said the visit had resulted in much that would be of benefit to him in the future guidance of the party's policy

RUTH

Or So She Was in Play, but Now She's Married.

Mrs. Nancy Cobham VosBurgh
Leonard L. VosBurgh

Leonard L. VosBurgh is musical conductor of "The Wanderer," a play founded on Biblical stories, now showing at the Auditorium theater.

Miss Nancy Cobham is programmed as Ruth in the ballet. Yesterday Mr. VosBurgh enacted the part of Boaz and took Ruth unto him as a wife.

The marriage took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Kennedy, 1126 East Fifty-fourth place, relatives of the bridegroom. Daniel C. Curry, manager of the company, the only member present, gave away the bride and in so doing recited these lines from the book of Ruth:

"Entreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; whither thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people; thy God my God; where thou diest will I die, and there will I be buried."

The romance began five years ago when the bride of yesterday, then but 16 years old, applied to Conductor VosBurgh for her first stage engagement.

SEEK 40,000 FOR SUNDAY'S ADULT BIBLE CLASSES

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Photograph it and then you have it. This is the plan adopted by the Rev. George C. Dowey, who is rounding up 40,000 men in adult Bible classes in connection with the Billy Sunday campaign.

He will address a joint session of the men of five Methodist churches in the Broadway church, Broadway and Buckingham place, this evening. The churches are Wesley, Diversey Boulevard, Epworth, Bowen, and Broadway.

Mr. Dowey came to Chicago after having organized 10,000 men in Bible classes in Washington, D. C. A sample of his work here is that of one big church with twenty men in a Bible class. The next Sunday there were fifty-three, the next Sunday eighty-five, then 114. Next Sunday he expects to attend that Bible class with his camera and photograph 200 men.

"Before and After Taking."

In some instances he has photographed groups "before and after taking" his instructions. In some churches no photograph could be obtained "before taking," because there was no Bible class meeting.

"The adult Bible classes will be the chief permanent results of the Sunday campaign," Mr. Dowey said. "The choirs will disband, the ushers will have no more duties, the tabernacle itself will be taken down, but the Bible classes will remain. We expect the number to reach the goal set of 40,000 men."

Boosters for the Drys.

E. J. Davis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, is coöperating with the Bible class movement in lining up the Billy Sunday movement in the interest of a dry Chicago.

Every Bible class is expected to be a booster for the drys and Mr. Davis has been given full authority to outline for the men as a part of the social work of the class the obtaining of votes for a dry Chicago at the election on April 2.

Billy Sunday is expected to preach his sermon on "Booze" to 16,000 men in the tabernacle at a "men only" meeting and send them all out as anti-booze fighters. In addition to the sermon, which is devoted exclusively to an exposé of the drink demon, he will give center and side shots on the subject in many of his regular revival discourses.

ASPHYXIATED IN SALOON.

Angelo Nawosially, a bartender, employed in the saloon of Paul Menker, 3465 South Morgan street, was asphyxiated by gas in a rear room of the saloon early yesterday morning. His death is believed to have been accidental.

LANDIS SMITES AND GETS BACK POUND OF FLESH

His Censure Forces Loan Agent to Cancel an Old Note.

Carl M. White, self-confessed "10 per cent a month" loan man, with offices at 56 West Washington street, spent an unhappy hour in Judge Landis' court yesterday. He was cited in connection with a voluntary petition in bankruptcy filed by Harvey J. Morse as the beginning of a campaign by which the Morris Plan bank hopes to end the extortions of loan sharks.

Morse said he borrowed $100 from White two years ago; that he had paid White and the Franklin Loan company, operated by Elmer Canfield, to which he was "switched," $220 in all, and that White still holds his assignment for $87.50 and had filed it with his employer.

Judge Landis sent Bailiff Stern with a demand that White produce his books in court. When the lender asserted he had destroyed all records prior to July 1, 1917, "to protect myself against my wife," Judge Landis became irate.

"You destroyed the only records you had which might show you were telling the truth, is that it?"

Fairly Exuded the Truth.

"I only did it so as not to jeopardize my interests," said White. "I am only trying to give you the facts."

"Sure," said Judge Landis, and, looking at White's damp brow, "you are just perspiring to give me the facts."

White, denying he had sent Morse to Canfield to get money, remarked that he didn't care where the money came from, so long as he was paid.

"Did you expect him to go to Forgan's or George M. Reynolds' banks to get it?" inquired Judge Landis. "Don't you know he could only go to another loan man?"

"For goodness sake, judge, cancel this claim," White cried, in sheer desperation. "I'd much rather lose the money than go through such an ordeal again."

"White, if you're ever called into my court to answer an indictment," was the reply, "no matter what your lawyer tells you, take my advice and don't go on the witness stand."

Advises Hoyne's Action.

Judge Landis finally turned to C. L. Cobb, attorney for the Morris bank, and Morse, and said:

"I want you to take this matter to State's Attorney Hoyne. I want to see how the state law limiting interest on salary loans to 3½ per cent is enforced. I shall impound this note and assignment."

"If you have any trouble with your employer over this fake assignment, come to me," he told Morse. "My clerk will give you a letter to your employer today. You don't owe this man a cent."

Then he gave this parting shot to the loan man:

"White, on your own admissions, you are just trying to jimmy your way into the house of correction."

MAN WHO KILLED DETECTIVE HELD TO BE INSANE

E. B. Porter, an insurance broker of Mount Pleasant, Ia., yesterday identified the man who shot and killed Detective James Shea at Evanston Monday as his son, Paul Asbury Porter, 23 years old.

Porter suffered an injury while a student at a military academy at Highland Park, the father said. He was struck over the head while being hazed and had never recovered from an affection of the brain. He had been confined in the Iowa state asylum for the insane until June of 1915, the father said. He was drawn for the draft last summer, but deserted and went to Canada, where he joined the Canadian army and later deserted.

Detective Shea will be buried Thursday. Porter is in a serious condition from three bullet wounds inflicted by Detective Sergeant Arthur W. Johnson.

Oriental Verse Writer Uses Cell as Studio

Harold C. Auer, writer of oriental verse and freshman at the University of Chicago, is inditing an ode on repentance. His studio for the present is a cell at the Hyde Park police station, where he was lodged yesterday on complaint of larceny and forgery.

Auer matriculated at the university last fall from Cadillac, Mich. He first attracted attention on the campus by his propensity for exotic poetry. He was always well supplied with money. The regular disappearance of books, overcoats, and jewelry had no apparent connection with Auer's easy financial circumstances until recently, when he is alleged to have passed two checks which should have reached students in Hitchcock hall through the mails. The prisoner was booked on four charges of larceny and three of forgery.

Aged Watchman Crushed to Death by Elevator

Patrick Fay, 70 years old, a civil war veteran, who refused to be kept out of the military service of the United States when it entered the war against Germany, was killed yesterday. He was employed as night watchman in the quartermaster's supply depot at Thirty-ninth and South Robey streets, and on his final trip of inspection had put his head in an elevator shaft to see where the car was. He was struck by it and crushed. He was unmarried and lived with a sister at 4437 North Maplewood avenue.

ACTION ON GAS RATES DELAYED; CITY FIGHTS IT

Charges Company Is Guilty of Breach of Faith.

The state public utilities commission yesterday afternoon took under advisement for two weeks the petition for a hearing made by the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company in its application for a 22 per cent increase in the rates to consumers.

The application was strongly opposed by Donald R. Richberg, attorney for the city council, on the ground that the commission had no jurisdiction and that the gas company was breaking its pledge and contract with the city in asking an increase at this time.

Take War Year Figures.

"The year 1917 was especially hard on public utilities on account of the war," he said. "Yet the company takes the figures for the six months of our entry in to the war and uses them for an estimate of the future revenues.

"To predicate the future earnings on the earnings of 1917 is unfair. It is a bold, bald what do we care about the public state of mind on their part and they are rushing along the line of public bodies in an effort to get something they don't deserve and cannot as an honorable corporation accept."

Francis L. Daily, attorney, representing the gas company, created a furore when he replied to Mr. Richberg's argument by stating that the gas company did not feel that it had any contract with the city.

Repudiates Agreement.

Commissioner Frank H. Funk asked Mr. Daily if the company absolutely repudiated any "gentlemen's agreement" and was answered in the affirmative.

Commissioner Walter A. Shaw attempted to gather some impression from Attorney Daily as to the interpretation placed on agreements, contracts, and "understandings," but after some attempts confessed himself "still in the dark."

Mr. Richberg then commented bitterly.

"This is an amazing proposition," he said. "After a contract has been signed by the president and vice president of their company and fully entered into, they make the fraudulent statement that they 'knew nothing of any agreement.' It is one of the most monumental frauds that was ever attempted before any public administrative body.

"We sign up a contract with them, pass a special ordinance for them, and then they say, 'O, that's only a fraud—a few scraps of paper.'"

Probation Officers Will Discuss Problems Here

The fifth annual midyear conference of the Illinois State Probation Officers' association will be held tomorrow. Reports and talks will begin at the noon luncheon in the Italian room of the Stevens Building restaurant. Miss Anne Hinrichsen of Springfield and Mrs. W. E. Symonds of Galesburg will discuss problems. Charles Thorne, director of the state department of public welfare, will be the chief speaker at the afternoon session. Other speakers will be Wilfred S. Reynolds, superintendent of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society; John W. Houston, chief of the adult probation department of Cook county; County Judge William C. De Wolf of Boone county, and County Judge Lawrence T. Allen of Vermilion county. Judge Victor P. Arnold of the Juvenile court will preside at the evening session, at which Mathew P. Adams, superintendent of Mooseheart, and the Rev. John Webster Melody will speak.

NEWBOLD TAKEN BY U. S. AFTER RAID ON HOTEL

A federal warrant was issued yesterday for Thomas Newbold, proprietor of the notorious Normandie hotel at 417 South Wabash avenue, and of several other loop "hotels," following a raid upon the Normandie and the arrest of Harold Archibald, its chief clerk.

The raid was made late at night on Sunday for infraction of the new federal statute prohibiting disorderly houses and houses of ill fame within a five mile zone surrounding any army camp or federal post.

Five young women and as many men were caught at rooms in the hotel in the raid, and were held as witnesses. In default of bail the young women were sent to the Lake county jail. Two of the men furnished bail and the remainder were sent to the Cook county jail.

Archibald was held in bail of $2,500 and the matter continued until March 5 by Commissioner Lewis F. Mason.

DAUGHTERS GET BULK OF ESTATE OF J. K. STEWART

New York, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—An accounting was filed with surrogate at Riverhead, L. I., today by Martin Taylor of New York and Leander Lachance of Chicago, administrators of the estate of John K. Stewart, manufacturer of automobile accessories, who died in Centerport in August, 1916.

The administrators received $5,737,617, which has been paid out in settlement of debts and legacies, except $325,183. The bulk of the estate went to Marion and Jean Stewart, daughters of the decedent.

They are also chief beneficiaries of their mother's estate, which was almost as large as that of their father.

South Shore Club Janitor Loses His "Sacred Salve"

George Fox, a janitor employed at the South Shore Country club, was taken into custody yesterday when he entered the office of Acting Chief Alcock to ask the aid of the police in recovering a box containing "sacred salve," which was stolen from his grip Monday night. Today he will be examined as to his sanity. He believes the salve will cure all ailments, and even bring the dead to life.

MAN OF 60 KILLED BY CAR.

An unidentified man about 60 years old was struck by a south bound State street car in front of 158 North State street and died last evening in St. Luke's hospital. He wore a black overcoat, a dark brown suit with small blue and white stripes, black derby hat, and black lace shoes. He was about 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighed about 180 pounds, and was bald.

$10,000 REWARD MAY BE WON BY CHICAGO POLICE

'Harry Wade' Believed to Be Great Northern Train Bandit.

A reward of $10,000 is believed to have been earned by the Chicago police as a result of the arrest of Harry Wade, who, Acting Chief of Police Alcock said yesterday, has been identified as one of the three men who on Feb. 20, 1914, killed three passengers in the holdup of a Great Northern railroad train near Seattle.

Altogether a reward of $30,000 was offered by the Great Northern, $10,000 for each of the three bandits. The road sent out circulars describing Harry Mathews and George E. Ball. The police believe "Harry Wade" is one of the aliases of Mathews. He corresponds in every particular to the detailed description sent out by the railroad company, they say.

Taken in Crime Drive.

Wade was taken into custody in the recent crime drive. The first time was when a squad of detectives from the Fillmore street station raided the flat of Thomas P. Mack at 45 North Paulina street, taking Mack and Walter Keler. Wade was caught when he came to the flat while the police were there.

Wade was then unknown to the police here. He was booked on a vagrancy charge and was released on bond of $800, which he forfeited. A few days later he was arrested by the same raiding squad and was sent to the bridewell to serve out his fine. He is still there. At that time his description was wired to all the principal cities of the country.

Served Time in Montana.

"Served time in Montana state prison for burglary. Wanted at Vancouver, B. C., for attempting to kill a policeman, and at Victoria, B. C., for highway robbery and burglary. Wanted in San Francisco to face a charge of robbery in which $5,000 worth of ostrich plumes were obtained."

Read Witness' Deposition in Vote Machine Case

Almost the entire day in the hearing of the suit of the Empire Voting Machine company against the city before Judge Landis in the federal district court yesterday was taken up in the reading of a bulky deposition by Dr. Howard S. Taylor. Dr. Taylor, a member of the board of election commissioners which contracted for the voting machines, is now a resident of Long Island, N. Y., and is so feeble—he is past 72—that he could not attend the trial.

The deposition was read by Attorney J. J. Forstall of counsel for the voting machine company. It is a lengthy document, containing over 150 pages. A considerable portion of it, in which Dr. Taylor gave his opinion of the merits of the machines, was objected to by H. K. Tenney and Assistant Corporation Counsel Leon Hornstein, and thus kept out of the record.

Chlorine? Don't Worry, Says Dr. Robertson

Complaints are being made to Health Commissioner Robertson that chlorine in the lake water is making many persons ill. Especially on the south side it is reported the water has a brackish taste.

"There is less chlorine being put in the water this year than last and not enough to harm any one. It would require fifty times a larger dosage than we use to produce any bad effects," says the commissioner.

BLUE SKY

Wife Seeks Divorce from Husband Who, She Says, Outdoes Wallingford.

CHARLOTTE RUTH WOOD has heard about the blue, blue sky. She married William C. Wood, she says, and he was worse than one J. Rufus Wallingford ever was for extracting joy from the little family circle. And there wasn't any blue sky law to stop him—so she came to the divorce court yesterday.

Other suits filed:

LETITIA SHEA quickly explained her reason for seeking a divorce from Timothy. Cruel, desertion, she says.

CAN'T TALK TO EACH OTHER, AND YET THEY FIGHT

A nonsupport case will be staged before Judge Mahoney this afternoon that concerns more than the usual marital complications, for in this case the bride and groom do not speak each other's language.

Paul Morimus, 21, and his wife, 38, living at 2525 West Forty-sixth street, were married last July. Mrs. Morimus is Polish, her husband Mexican.

When Mrs. Morimus came to Mrs. McGuire asking that a warrant be issued for the arrest of her husband for nonsupport, Mrs. McGuire asked if she had talked things over with her husband. Through the medium of Miss Wanda Simbor, Polish interpreter for the Court of Domestic Relations, Mrs. McGuire learned that talking things over with her husband was impossible, as they speak no common language.

Mrs. Morimus told Miss Simbor that her husband wooed her last spring and that she had no intention at the time of marrying him, but he went to court and secured a warrant for her arrest.

When he showed her the warrant all covered with bells and flowers, she was so frightened that she allowed a man to talk to them and at the end of the interview learned that she was married; the warrant with its floral decoration was a wedding certificate and the adviser was one legally entitled to perform a ceremony.

Boys Steal Savings of Mother to See City Life

The "bright lights" of Chicago formed the magnet that attracted two boys, brothers, so strongly that they stole the $200 savings of their mother to make the journey here. Having read of Chicago's crime wave, they each bought a revolver.

The boys, Paul and John Stoney, 15 and 16 years old, of Waterpoar, Mich., were arrested last night in the Garden City hotel, 416 Sherman street, by detectives, who had been notified by the clerk that the boys seemed too young to live at the hotel.

Two revolvers and $157 were turned over to the police, who notified the boys' parents.

Smallpox in Salvation Army Home; 500 "Shot"

The discovery of a case of smallpox in the Workmen's Palace hotel, conducted by the Salvation army in West Madison street, last night caused the vaccination of 500 men rooming there. Lieut. Patrick Killiher and ten patrolmen from the Desplaines street station maintained a quarantine until vaccinators from the health department had completed their work.

John Miller, 31 years old, who has the disease, applied for lodging at the hotel three days ago. He now is at the Hospital for Contagious Diseases.

BOOK FEAST IS CHICAGO'S LOSS; TEXAS IS GAINER

ROBERT F. VINSON

Years ago Robert F. Vinson was a student at the University of Chicago. He was a bookish student. Many an hour he browsed among ancient tomes written by men whose names are lost, save to students of classics. The ancient volumes belonged to the late John H. Wrenn, a former Chicago broker. Mr. Wrenn, too, was bookish. As a lad he collected a library and kept it in a packing box under his bed. Then prosperity afforded him an opportunity to satisfy his collecting instinct.

He scoured England for the first copies of Chaucer, the original editions of Shakespeare, the first weighty discussions of Lord Bacon, the early witticisms of Dean Swift and Joseph Addison and his compatriot, Steele. He gathered many volumes unknown even in the British museum, had them rebound in finest vellum, and brought the collection together at 1500 Astor place, where his son-in-law, F. F. Norcross, lives with his children, who are Mr. Wrenn's grandchildren.

Old Treasures Secured.

Mr. Vinson, who is now president of the University of Texas, coveted that library from his student days. Yesterday he purchased it for the University of Texas for a consideration of $225,000. The gift to the university was made by Maj. George W. Littlefield, a regent of the university.

The library catalogue contains over 5,300 entries, representing, perhaps, twice that many volumes. Had the library been sold at auction, Mr. Vinson said he was credibly informed, it would have brought twice the sum paid for it. But it is to be maintained intact as a memorial to the collector.

Special fireproof rooms are being reconstructed in the university library at Austin to house the collection. Special bookcases are being built in Chicago to protect the works from the air. Only graduate students will lay hands on the sacred pages. A special catalogue of the books is being prepared by Harold B. Wrenn, son of the collector, copies of which will be sent to the great libraries and universities over the world as compliments of the University of Texas.

Escaped Local Bibliophiles.

That this collection of books was in Chicago was known to but few scholars. Mr. Vinson said that in his student days it was expected the collection would eventually come into the hands of the University of Chicago. Yesterday inquiries at the Chicago city library and the John Crerar library as to the whereabouts of the Wrenn library elicited the answer that, so far as they knew, no such library was in existence.

SHERIFF READY FOR REAL WAR WITH THE 'CAP'

Capt. George Wellington Streeter has risen and declared war all over again. Just the other day Judge Pinckney in the Circuit court decided that Streeter had no right to any of the "deestrick" and pretty soon a deputy sheriff or two are going down to the Streeter home and order him to clear off.

"And if they come when I am visiting somebody else'll meet 'em," asserts the angered "Cap'n." "There was a battle once before and I betcha they'll be another one. This is my property.

"Can't say that I like the idea much," said Sheriff Traeger yesterday. "But if the courts decide that he should move he shall move. First Deputy Peters and I will serve the writ ourselves. We'll try to be nice about it, but if the captain won't let us—well, there's liable to be plenty of shooting."

Election Judge's Wife Packs Up and Goes Away

Fertig was an election judge yesterday in the First precinct of the Eleventh ward. His three children by his first wife, who died three year ago, appeared at the polling place about 3 o'clock.

"Papa," said one, "mamma has packed up her clothes and gone away. She says she isn't coming back."

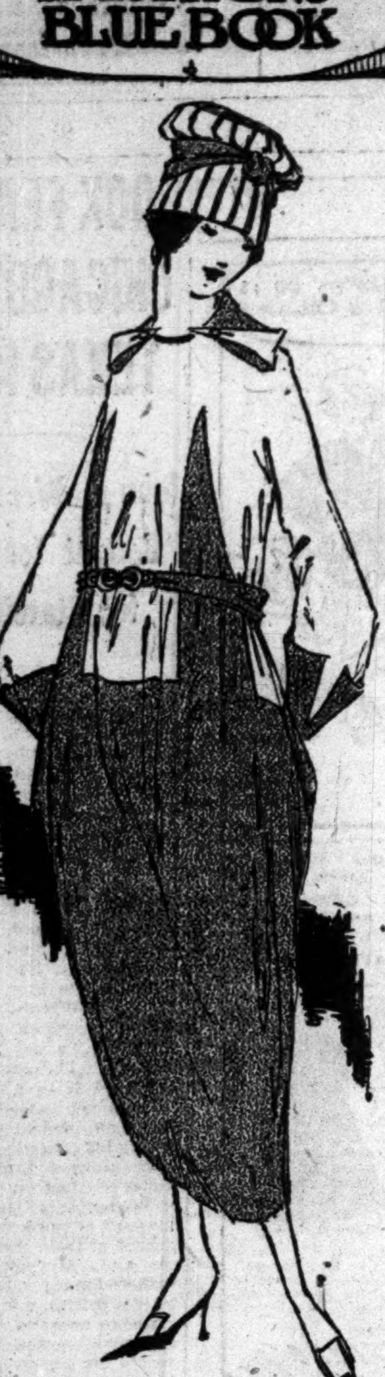
Here's a Grain Fire Not Thought Incendiary

Fire yesterday in the malt house of the Cragin Elevator company, Laramie avenue and Bloomingdale road, destroyed grain to the value of $5,000 and caused damage to the building estimated at $10,000. The fire was extinguished after a battle of an hour by firemen under command of Marshal Thomas O'Connor. J. J. Murphy, secretary of the company, was at a loss to account for the cause, but said he thought it was accidental and not incendiary.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK



BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—

Little grains of sand—Georgette,

After seeing more than 1,000 things of a certain kind we are generally prodded into parody. The above frock from Lanvin was the straw which turned a serious minded typewriter into gibbering rhyme. Here it is in all its mixed impulses of wool and the useful Georgette. The upper part is, of course, of the thin material trimmed with great cavalier cuffs of the tan cloth which forms the skirt. And in these sleeves, by the way, you will notice again Lanvin's temperamental partiality for things that full under the elbow.

Points of the tan cloth go up like swords under an original girdle of cloth fastening with a tan shell clasp. Most arresting of all, however, is a collar which, turning back in Georgette lined points, retires in the back to a round yoke.

Real Love Stories

His Little Assistant.

When I was 16 my aunt, with whom I made my home, died, leaving me alone in the world. I watched the daily paper for work, for I had only a few dollars after my aunt's funeral expenses were paid.

A photographer advertised for an assistant, and I got the position. My employer was a man twenty years my senior. He was always kind and considerate of me, but that was all. I was so lonely that my heart yearned for love, and after a year I was miserable, for I loved him dearly. He was a good employer, but I felt he did not care more for me than any other girl who might have worked for him.

A childhood friend seemed much in love with me and begged me to marry him. At last I was so miserable I consented. We left the city that night, and were married at a nearby town, then continued on to a large city, where my husband secured work. I sent a letter telling my employer I was married and thanking him for his kindness to me. In eight months my husband died under circumstances that were disgraceful. Three months later my baby girl was born.

As soon as I was strong enough to work I put an advertisement in the paper for a position as photographer's assistant, the only work I knew. I received an answer asking me to call at a certain downtown address. I did so, and was asked to wait in a small room at the side of the studio, as the man who wished to engage me had not yet come down.

In ten minutes the door was opened and a well known voice asked if I was ready to go to work. I could scarcely raise myself from the chair and could not speak, but it was not necessary, for when he saw my face he cried out, "Dot, Dot! Is it really you?" Somehow I was in his arms and he was telling me of his love for me; how he had not spoken of it to me, as I was so young.

We have been married four happy years now, and my baby girl is in her first year of school. She, too, has given her little heart into her dear daddy's keeping, and surely no happier home could be found than ours. B. M.

Bright Sayings of the Children

Tommy is a dear little toddler in the day nursery. His papa is helping over in France. Once a week I assist in caring for Tommy, so I thought that he might know my name.

"Tommy, do you know me? Who am I?"

My little girl, who has a baby sister, was asked if she would like a crying doll, and her reply was, "No, we have a baby at home." J. C. B.

One day I happened to be relating one of my childhood experiences to my daughter and son, 7 and 4, respectively, when Dick, hating to lose out on anything, chimed in and said, "And I was there, too, wasn't I, mamma?" Janice turned up her nose in utter disgust and scorn, exclaiming, "Why, Dick, you wasn't even fixed together yet!" B. O. H.

What Can the Poor Beauty Editor Do in a Case Like This?

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

WAS IT YOU?

"Speaking of street car manners," writes a reader, "will you kindly write about the woman who crosses her knees, thereby rubbing all the mud, etc., on her shoes on the garments of her neighbor? Have had several dresses spoiled beyond cleaning powers by just such procedure, and am in hopes one of your good articles on the subject may have some effect. I thank you."

Don't suppose a cleaning bill would solve this trouble, would it? You probably couldn't locate the offender with it, anyway. Why not call her down good and properly? Perhaps one good, stiff calldown from you would keep her feet on the floor for the rest of her journeys!

Anyway, who started this fashion of leg crossing? With the high cut of skirts, it isn't honestly necessary, think you, e'en though pretty hose runs into the dollar marks so riotously?

All those in favor of the movement, say "Aye."

ASK ME! ASK ME!

C. O. S.: What stunning stationery! Almost any of the companies might use a boy the age you mention at times. Don't you want to send me a stamped, addressed envelope? If you do this, I'll mail you the list of the various concerns and be glad to do it.

JOHANNA: Spizzerinktum means pep. Y'wekkum.

DENTIST: Thanks, awfully, but they're all right.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Making Maple Sirup.

We are likely to see a great many items in print this year about maple sugar and its making, most of them written by people who once saw a maple tree when they were riding through Vermont, New York, Ohio, or Canada.

The only state that has made a scientific study of the making of maple sirup, it has been stated on good authority, is Vermont, so any one interested should apply to the Vermont Experiment station, Burlington, for literature. Any one who has access to the files of the Country Gentleman will find there sound descriptions of the improved ways of making sirup. In an article headed "The Sugar Tree," printed Feb. 6, 1915, one of the most important statements made is: "The two prime essentials in making a high grade product are cleanliness and celerity in reducing the sap to sirup."

Celerity is necessary because the sap is as susceptible as milk to bacterial influence, and "no sooner does it leave the tree than both bacterial and chemical actions begin work."

In that same weekly for Jan. 17, 1914, there was an article, "When the Sap Begins," and again cleanliness or sanitation is particularly emphasized. Clean utensils, scalded daily to remove slimy deposits of yeast and bacteria, are highly essential. In the other article it says: "At least three different forms of bacteria stand ready to attack the sap if allowed even the slightest opportunity."

The cooking of sap—that is, the reduction to sirup—is careful work, because sugar caramelizes with long cooking or over too hot a fire. This makes the sirup darker than the light amber shade it should be. The sugar also should be of a rich cream color instead of near molasses shade. To quote: "The general impression prevails that maple sugar is dark in color, with a strong, rank flavor and a somewhat disagreeable smell. On the contrary, the high grade, genuine article is of a rich cream color with a delicately sweet flavor and a delicious aroma."

In the 1914 article it says:

> Sirup made in clean pans from fresh sap should be a light amber color. The appearence of red shades indicates either incipient burning in the pans or excessive bacterial development in the sap, or both. If the trouble is bacterial it soon becomes evident through a more or less pronounced cloudiness of the sap. It results from insanitary utensils and from too long storing.
>
> It is important to reduce sap to sirup as quickly as possible after beginning to heat it. Intermittent boiling is harmful. The scum with its inclusions of dirt should be removed at frequent intervals. Too much attention cannot be given to the condition of the spouts, buckets, gathering tubes, and holders. These should be provided with covers and should be of metal rather than wood, which furnishes a harboring place for microörganisms and is difficult to clean, particularly as it grows old.

Since it takes sixteen quarts or thirty-two pints of sap to make one pint of sirup the process of making this sweet is prolonged. The boiling point in an evaporator is equivalant to from 217 to 210 degrees Fahrenheit.

Maple sirup is "so skillfully mocked," says one of these articles, that "it is said that the quantity of so-called maple sugar manufactured in Chicago is annually greater than the total world's production of the genuine article."

Mr. Walthall Comes Back Big in a Good Picture

"HIS ROBE OF HONOR."
Produced by Paralta.
Directed by Rex Ingram.
Presented at the Pastime.

Million Mulligan	Fred Montagu

By Mae Tinée.

Henry B. Walthall, submerged for a time by circumstances — like Mae Marsh—has again emerged and is swimming bravely and well. He has without doubt one of the most magnetic personalities of the screen, and now that he has shaken off the coma that threatened to be his undoing we may look forward, I reckon, with joyful anticipation to releases featuring him.

Mr. Walthall had the good sense to take with him as partner in his new ventures Miss Mary Charleson, who so splendidly supported him in "The Truant Soul," by far the best picture he ever made for Essanay. She is no raving beauty, but she toils and spins expertly, furnishing a staple and effective background for Walthall rôles.

The robe referred to by the title is the mantle of a justice which Julian Randolph, a shyster lawyer, ominously suave and terrifyingly capable, wins by hook and by crook—principally crook. But, strange as it may seem, his motive is the highest. He has discovered that he loves a girl who stands far above him, morally and socially, and he has determined to put himself on an equal footing with her—morally and socially.

So he drives a hard bargain. When the robe is his, to the amazement of his co-conspirators, who had gloated in the thought that at last they had a judge who might be approached, he tells them his evil days are over and that his cloak of justice shall be for him a "robe of honor."

But the sloughing off of a past by mere words is not so easy. The new justice, endeavoring to extricate himself from the web of his own weaving, finds it a mesh of tough fiber. His conquest of self and circumstance makes the picture.

Mr. Walthall's reserve is his great stronghold. He never clogs his big moments with useless gesture or facial play. In this picture you are not conscious of the actor but you are poignantly conscious of a real man facing very human crises.

Mary Charleson as a woman perjurer, one of the attorney's best bets before his change of heart, is also real. She loves Randolph, and when she discovers his passion for the other girl she does her best to split up things. Then, because she's really such a decent being, she repents and undoes the mischief she has done.

Mr. Rice's Flags Are Your Flags and My Flags!

BY LOUISE JAMES BARGELT.

Wallace Rice spoke yesterday in Fullerton hall, Art institute, on the subject of flags—flags past and present.

Under the head of "flags present" he showed an example of the Chicago city flag, which he recently designed for this city. This flag shows three white stripes, one for the north side, one for the south side, and one for the west side, the west side stripe being the largest. There are two blue stripes, one for Lake Michigan and the other for the river.

There are two large red stars, six pointed each, on the white space in the center. These symbolize our two great events—the Chicago fire and the world's fair. Mr. Rice promises us that in case we have another great event, an earthquake or a volcano or a flood or even an event of our own making, such as another fair, he may add a star. Who knows but in time the entire space may be dotted with them?

The Illinois state banner Mr. Rice designed for the state centennial celebration presents stripes of red, white, and blue. Then there is a big star in the center—that star is for Illinois—our own star! About us are ten small stars, representing the southern states which came into the union before the war of the rebellion, and below us are ten other stars representing the ten northern states of the union before the same war.

According to Mr. Rice we contributed greatly to the union's preservation, not only in the giving of a large proportion of soldiers but also in furnishing Lincoln and Grant. Therefore we are in the center, with stars above and below us.

Both flags are striking in their design, and, according to Mr. Rice, adhere strictly to the rules and regulations of flagcraft. The platform of Fullerton hall was decorated with flags and formed an effective background for the speaker. The lecture was well attended and the ballads read by Mr. Rice were enthusiastically applauded.

ABOUT MUSIC

Leopold Auer is considering an offer to come to Chicago to teach in the summer, it is learned from New York City: he is in the United States for the first time. Heifetz and most of the other young somebodies of the violin were his pupils. Another of Auer boys is Max Rosen, who will play on March 10 for the first time in Chicago in the Grand opera-house. The offer to the distinguished tutor is from the Chicago Musical College, where the late Teresa Carreño was to have taught through last summer. It is not likely that, if Auer come to Chicago, his fee will be less than she was scheduled to charge—thirty dollars a lesson.

Warren Proctor, a resident tenor who took part in some Wagner with the Chicago Opera, is to give a recital—his first—on Monday night, March 11, in Central music-hall.

The Metropolitan, with Wagner out, has so far been reasonably busy with new operas and in reviving others old enough to be novel to a part of the clientèle. The new pieces so far staged are "Marouf," "St. Elizabeth," and Mascagni's "Lodoletta," which has, as a conduit for Caruso, caught on. The revivals include "The Prophet," also for Caruso; "I Puritani," for Maria Barrientos and Lazaro; and "Faust." Now Rimsky-Korsakoff's "The Golden Cock," composed to one of Pushkin's poems a year before his death, is to be mounted there.

Get Your Jinx Uses In This Week

The Champion Gobbler of the World's Dirt

LAST call for dollars.

On the 4th of March I'll have to say no more "A" uses.

What am I talking about?

Jinx — the gobbler of the world's dirt.

I'll explain.

You see it is this way: I clean anything and everything. There seems to be no limit.

Help Build the Jinx Dictionary

No one person knows all my uses, so we have decided to get up a dictionary of Jinx uses.

To save time we are asking you and all the other Jinx users to help.

So it is "A" uses we want first.

Automobiles start with "A," but automobiles are listed. The same is true of aprons and aluminum ware and art objects.

But there's hundreds of other things that need Jinx that are not listed.

How do you use Jinx—for what and how? That's all there is to it. Now start with "A" and go through your list of uses.

Art-square!

Don't fear trying me on delicate things—anything that water will not harm can be safely cleaned with Jinx.

When it comes to cleaning furniture and woodwork I certainly shine. I remove the dirt, dust, grime, grease, and give the varnish a new lease on life and it fairly sparkles.

Use Jinx Everywhere

Take me to the laundry on Monday. See how brighter, cleaner and fresher looking I make the clothes.

Give the cut glass a Jinx bath and see how it sparkles and glistens.

And so on throughout the house. I am the gobbler of dirt, and world's champion grease remover.

Have a can of Jinx in the car. When you change a tire and cover your hands with ground-in dirt and grease, use me.

And so and so on.

Get Your Uses in Now

Uses starting with "A." Get a dollar for every one not listed here.

It is like playing a game.

Much obliged.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed, and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?—Advertisement.

Prominent Men Meet Weekly for Red Cross Work

BY CINDERELLA.

How some of the men are laughing and amusing themselves in the clubs over their brethren who are helping out with the knitting and the surgical dressings!

They don't seem to see the serious side of the question at all. I for my part admire a man who takes up what is usually woman's work, in order to help win the war.

There's a class of prominent men who meet in a downtown workroom, one night a week, for Red Cross work. They put on the long white aprons and white surgical bonnets just the way the women workers do, roll up their sleeves, and go to work. They look perfectly fine, just like so many surgeons gathered together.

Baron Tramonti, who belongs to one of the north side Red Cross units meeting in a private house, and well known in Chicago musical circles, is quite something to see in his work room attire.

One of the best knitting stories up to date was one left here last week by some woman of the New York Security league contingent, apropos of men knitters. F. Egerton Webb, I think it was, opened a chest and showed some friends knitted socks stacked up beyond the dreams of avarice. He had been ill and with the assistance of an English valet had produced one thousand pairs of socks on the knitting machine by way of passing the time. And he who knits socks knits something, for socks are not easy.

James C. Hutchins and Robert Gardner, both of the last Fort Sheridan training camp, are having the good luck to keep together in their military career. For they are brothers-in-law, having married Chauncey Keep's two lovely daughters, Margaret and Katherine. Mrs. Hutchins and Mrs. Gardner left yesterday together for Des Moines to be near their husbands, who are at Camp Dodge.

Mrs. Hutchins, who is a very lovely, tall, slender woman, has two children, the elder, a boy, who although still quite small, has quite a military cut to his habiliments.

CLUB NOTES

"There are certain positions in Chicago which seem to be sacred to temporary employés," said Miss Amelia Sears yesterday in talking to a little meeting of the Chicago Equal Suffrage association at the residence of Miss Mary Rozet Smith. Then she went on to tell about the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium, which has, she declared, 231 temporary employés out of the 550 employed there.

"What is the reason that this is bad?" she asked.

"It is a violation of the civil service law," replied Mrs. James W. Morrisson, president of the association.

A little woman with gray feathers on her hat remarked naïvely, "I thought it was done to provide more plums."

"It is a violation of the civil service law," Miss Sears declared. "Ald. McCormick challenged Dr. Robertson on the subject and Dr. Robertson begged for time; said the sanitarium had been under civil service only since July. It was different in the time of Dr. Sachs."

The Medical Woman's club will meet for luncheon at Field's today in honor of Dr. Lilly Arnett of Cedar Rapids, on her way to France under the auspices of the American Woman's hospital; Dr. Constance Ellis, returning from France to Australia, and Dr. Emma Gillmer, member of the army medical staff, Chattanooga, Tenn.

A meeting was held at the Hamilton club yesterday at which plans were discussed for a federation of state societies.

The Purin festival to be given at the Chicago Hebrew institute today will take place at 4 p. m. instead of 2 p. m., as announced, in order not to interfere with the school hours of children expected to attend.

Spiritual Revival from War.

Prof. R. G. Moulton of the University of Chicago finds in the world war a premonition of a vast spiritual revival. He spoke at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Kimball, 1801 Prairie avenue, yesterday. He took for his text "Jeremiah," which he terms "a poem in rhapsody." He told his listeners the "book may be a source of dramatic and lyric inspiration, if they would allow their imaginations to evolve its meaning."

Mrs. George H. Dickerson, formerly Miss Annie Laurie Olander, is a sister of Mrs. Earl J. Gossett of 4732 South Michigan avenue. Her marriage to George H. Dickerson of Champaign was a recent event.

MRS. H.V. BURROWS

The auditorium of the Players' Workshop, which, under the patronage of the board of education, is housed in a school building at Kenwood avenue and East Fifty-fourth street, was filled last night with an appreciative audience.

Mrs. Arthur Aldis' "Unawakened," a "foodlet" dealing humorously with Hoover matters, is proving successful and entertaining. Its scene is laid in a tearoom in the loop. Mrs. Herbert Valentine Burrows of 5436 Eastview park is one of those acting in "Unawakened."

MISS DOROTHY PACKARD

Miss Dorothy Packard, who is assisting Miss Virginia Chandler in the information department of the woman's committee, must have had her dreams filled with digits and ciphers for the last few months, judging by the booklet of statistics which she has just finished compiling on "What Women Are Doing in the Great War." There are articles and sections of articles included in it, clipped from many different publications, and there are many quotations from letters written by American women now seeing service abroad.

The booklet takes up in turn the figures showing the work being done by women in France, England, Italy, Russia (including various accounts of the celebrated "Battalion of Death"), Turkey, Germany, Japan, and the United States.

Another busy little compiler is Miss Dorothy Deneen, daughter of former Gov. Deneen, who toils with paste pot and shears for the Red Cross.

Halsted street is all excitement over the news of a patriotic food show the conservation department of the woman's committee, in coöperation with the Fellowship House Woman's club and the Central Woman's club, will open on March 5 in Bolstein's furniture store, 3611 South Halsted street. Cornmeal and oatmeal muffins and breads, fish chowder, soups, and conservation cookies will be demonstrated. The work is being carried on under the direction of Mrs. John C. Bley and Mrs. Eaton A. Duff of the conservation committee, and Mrs. E. W. Ballinger, secretary of the Fellowship House Women's club.

The woman of forty is to be educated. The difficulty of placement has so often been due to the fact that the women have not had training for any particular work, according to the woman's committee, and Mrs. William S. Hefferan, chairman of the committee on courses of instruction, is making a special investigation now to find out what apprentice courses and other kinds of instruction are open.

The Red Cross naval auxiliary has formed a Red Cross committee at the Three Arts club, with Miss Mary Wedgwood as chairman. One hundred and seventeen girls work there.

LOOKY HERE!

Mrs. Edward Fifield, chairman of the stage women's war relief committee, and Mrs. Mortimer Singer, chairman of the entertainment committee, announce that the closing time of the county fair to be held on Friday and Saturday at the Auditorium hotel will be when the money stops coming in. Supper will be served from 5 p. m. until 4 a. m. The fair is open to the public.

Frances Ingram, the contralto, will sing. A number of autographed photographs will be sold, including President Wilson's, and there are to be many souvenirs for sale. Mrs. Mary Hight has given a brass candlestick 145 years old. It belonged to the Polish actress, Mme. Janauschek. George M. Cohan has sent the fountain pen with which he wrote "Little Johnny Jones," and B. L. T. has given a book of verses. Geraldine Farrar's husband has sent an antique ring.

There will be dancing both nights.

There are 500 of these prisoners of war incarcerated for no better reason than that they were discovered with guns upon their shoulders trying to protect their rapidly disappearing families. No food whatever is issued to them by the Austrians, it is said. They are turned into the fields and left to live as the cattle do, upon the scanty growth of roots and grass, or to die, as the case may be.

The war relief committee of the Brownleigh club in the Stevens building will give a fellowship dinner on March 8. Mrs. Rufus Dawes, chairman of the woman's committee on food conservation, is on the program as a speaker, as is also Mrs. J. C. Biggs.

The Illinois Colony clubs, which have been successful in raising money for two ambulances, one for service in France and one for home duty, will have a patriotic celebration this afternoon at the Morrison hotel.

22 Million Families in the United States

IF EACH FAMILY saved one cup of wheat flour it would amount to 5,500,000 pounds, or more than 28,000 barrels. If this saving was made three times a week, it would amount to 858,000,000 pounds, or 4,377,000 barrels in a year.

You can do your share in effecting this saving and really help to win the war by omitting white bread from one meal today and baking in its place muffins or corn bread made according to this recipe:

Corn Meal Muffins

1¼ cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons Dr. Price's Baking Powder
2 tablespoons sugar
No eggs
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons shortening

Sift dry ingredients together into bowl; add milk and melted shortening and beat well. Bake in greased muffin tins in hot oven about 20 minutes. Same batter may be baked as corn bread in greased shallow pan.

New Red, White and Blue booklet, "Best War Time Recipes," containing many other recipes for making delicious and wholesome wheat saving foods mailed free.

ERRATIC ACTION IN OATS MARKET; CLOSE IS LOWER

Oats futures were ⅛@⅝c lower at the close yesterday, but the market was an unsettled affair throughout the session and periods of dullness were frequent. Selling was fairly general at the outset, but led by local traders, and was chiefly in sympathy with the peace news. Commission houses took the offerings on the break, and there was a sharp rally, with shorts covering freely on the way up. The strength displayed at Minneapolis was a factor at this time.

Rumors that one of the leading crop experts here was about to issue a bearish report on farm reserves broke the market again, but this news was flatly denied by those most interested. In the final period the selling of oats by Logan & Bryan was the most conspicuous feature and served to depress prices.

Cash oats were steady to 1c higher, with local shipping sales 20,000 bu. Receipts here were disappointing at 126 cars, and the demand was good. Primary receipts totaled 1,305,000 bu. Outside cash markets averaged higher, with receipts generally moderate.

Light Trade in Corn Pit.

Corn futures were much neglected and finished where they left off the previous day. Prices were fractionally lower with oats during the early part of the session, but later showed independent strength. Cash corn was steady to 10c lower under receipts of 342 cars. Primary markets had a total of 1,936,000 bu. Weather conditions over the country were ideal for drying out and moving corn, although the predicted rise in temperatures may soften roads to an extent where farmers will find difficulty in hauling grain to loading stations. Country offerings of corn to arrive continue light.

Good commission house buying of product advanced prices for lard and ribs substantially, despite a lower hog market. The advance encouraged some realizing, and values reacted, although still showing fair gains at the close. Western markets received 150,800 hogs, compared with 103,720 a year ago. Local meat shipments were 2,290,000 lbs, and 294,000 lbs lard were shipped. Demand for pork was limited, and it finished lower.

Rye Prices Gain Sharply.

Rye was 3c higher. Cash No. 2 sold at $2.50. Receipts were 8 cars.

Barley ruled 2@3c higher. Malting was quoted $1.88@2.07 and sold over the same range; feed and mixing quotable $1.65@1.85, and screenings $1.00@1.73, with latter selling at $1.29@1.73. Receipts, 28 cars.

Timothy seed was easy; cash lots sold at $7.00@7.75; March closed $8.30 bid and $8.50 asked. Clover seed was weak; cash was quoted $22.00@32.00 and spot prime $32.50.

Flax closed 5¾c higher, with cash quoted $3.85¼@3.87¼.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—COFFEE—The market for coffee futures was quiet today, but showed a generally steady tone, with prices reaching the highest levels touched since the break which followed the announcement of maximum values. The opening was 1@5 points higher on scattered covering or a moderate demand from trade sources. The close was at the best point of the day, showing a net advance of 8@15 points. Brazil, believed to be close to the 8c basis, although no details of grade or prices were made public. The official cables showed no change in the Rio market. Santos futures were 50@100 reis lower. Rio reported a clearance of 15,000 bags for New York, and Santos 27,000 for New Orleans. Brazilian port receipts, 63,000 bags; Jundiahy receipts, 41,000 bags.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—SUGAR—No changes occurred in raw sugar prices, which were quoted at 4.985c for Cubas cost and freight, equal to 6.005c for centrifugal. The weekly Cuban cable showed receipts at all Cuban ports of 180,358 tons, against 132,192 the previous week; exports were 100,697 tons, against 46,333 a week ago, and the stock there, 554,897 tons against 515,236 last week. Business was again of fair proportion, the sales reported including 350,000 bags of Cuban and 30,000 Porto Rican. Business in refined is daily increasing with practically all refiners now in the market in a moderate way. Prices are unchanged at 7.45c for fine granulated.

PEERLESS OIL AND GAS.

The Peerless Oil and Gas company has struck oil lands over thirty-five feet thick on its lease six miles north of Ottawa, Kas. A well at the Ninth Producer was brought in flowing about 100 barrels a day from about the 600 foot level.

GOSSIP OF THE PIT

DIRECTORS of the board of trade have approved the plans of a special committee for new style trading in corn, under which No. 3 mixed corn and No. 4 mixed, containing not more than 15½ per cent moisture, will be the contract grades. No. 4 white and No. 4 yellow corn will bring 1c premium, No. 5 white and No. 5 yellow 4c discount, and No. 5 mixed corn 5c discount. No. 3 white and No. 3 yellow corn will be at 1c premium, No. 1 and No. 2 mixed 3c premium, and No. 1 and No. 2 white and yellow corn 4c premium.

This proposed change in the rules will be posted for ballot, but will not be voted upon until such time as President A. S. White of the board of trade decides. Under no circumstances will they become operative before June 1 and will not affect present contracts of corn for future delivery.

Officials of the board of trade were prompted to consider proposed changes in corn contracts by the fact that the quality of the corn crop this season was so poor that very little of the normal contract grain is available. Little of the corn coming to primary markets has graded better than No. 4 and market conditions so far this season have demonstrated that the No. 2 and 3 grades are not really the commercial standard and are more in the nature of a luxury. Under the proposed plan the futures maximum price of $1.28 would be more in line with cash corn, although still at material discounts, which, however, could easily be wiped out under continued liberal receipts.

Elevator men and owners of dryers have practically completed their organization for facilitating the securing and preparing of corn for the allies. It will be known as the Terminal Elevator Grain Men's association and will represent all primary markets. G. F. Ewe of Minneapolis has been elected president and G. A. Aylsworth of Kansas City and C. B. Pierce of Chicago vice presidents.

It was decided that the handling of corn could be done more economically and efficiently through regular grain organizations than otherwise and all efforts will be made to aid the food administration to supply promised supplies to the allies.

A request has been made to Director of Railways McAdoo to lift the eastern embargo to an extent where Buffalo, which has a large drying capacity, will be able to help in the work. Buffalo naturally draws grain supplies from Ohio and Indiana.

Conditions in the cash corn market were badly mixed yesterday owing to new methods employed to get all grain suitable for drying and shipping for the allies. Buyers, other than those owning drying plants, were much at sea, as all corn until March 10 is to go for export. Dryers were not disposed to pay existing premiums for white corn and took only yellow and mixed, with the result that the former was relatively weaker than other varieties. Low grades of corn were off as much as 10@15c, as the industries which have been taking this corn were practically out of the market. Considerable was carried over unsold.

"Understand order has been given that future government contracts for flour will be 100 per cent grind instead of 90 per cent as heretofore, meaning we will have whole wheat flour instead of 10 per cent offall," said a Minneapolis message to Thomson & McKinnon. "This is likely to be followed by an order for public consumption on same basis. Big demand for rye and barley."

Complaints of lack of cars are increasing again, many of the receiving houses getting advices from their shippers that grain is available but equipment to ship it in is not. A good percentage of the complaints come from stations on downstate roads. Some say that cars are being distributed so as to favor districts where vast quantities of soft corn await shipment.

A resolution was passed by the directors prohibiting further trading in corn for February delivery. A settlement price of $1.28 was fixed by a committee consisting of J. P. Griffin, R. A. Schuster, and A. V. Booth.

Herman B. Stultze was yesterday elected to membership on the board of trade.

Paperboard May Pay Common in Liberty Bonds

Stockholders of the United Paperboard company have been given to understand that the directors would declare a common dividend in Liberty loan bonds instead of cash. A former director said yesterday that such is the plan but that no action is expected until the May meeting of the board.

The company has in its treasury $300,000 of Liberty loan bonds, sufficient to pay 2.5 per cent on the stock. It has need for all of its cash at this time. Prices are high and profits on such business as it can do are large but lack of fuel and transportation is hampering and two mills are idle.

COTTON.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—COTTON—The cotton market showed increased firmness today with prices making new high ground for the movement on renewed covering and trade buying which seemed to extend into early new crop deliveries. The general list closed firm at a net advance of 32 to 54 points. The market opened steady at an advance of 14 to 22 points in response to the firm Liverpool cables. Only one March notice was issued and the strength of the near position was one of the early factors. Later March was relatively quiet and the feature of the day was the continued trade buying, particularly of October. There was enough realizing to cause reactions of 9 or 10 points after the call, but offerings were readily absorbed and buyers later found a small floating supply of contracts around the ring. May sold up to 31.15c, the highest price touched since the break of last month, and the general list showed net advances of 36 to 56 points in the late trading. Liverpool was a good early buyer. Hog prices at Chicago yesterday sold 10@15c lower than the previous day's average, which was 25@30c off from that day's best figures. Receipts were estimated at 53,000 head. Big packers were "slackers," Armour staying out of the market altogether and being satisfied with 700 hogs received direct. Cattle values held steady. Trade was slow, as packers made futile efforts to force lower costs. Best steers offered made $14.10 and several loads reached $14.00. Calves held on a steady basis, with prime vealers at $14.25.

Sheep sold on a strong to 25c higher basis, while lambs gained 15@25c. Receipts were estimated at 14,000. Fat Colorado lambs topped the market at $17.25, while fed westerns reached $16.75. Fat western yearlings reached $14.25 and shorn lots sold at $12.00. Ewe breeding lambs sold at $17.00.

FINANCIAL NOTES

THE prospect is for a large oversubscription of the Seventh federal reserve district's proportion of the offering of $500,000,000 of 4½ per cent treasury notes in anticipation of the third Liberty loan. Although the books do not open until today, the federal reserve bank had received subscriptions for $20,000,000 by noon yesterday. The district's apportionment is $50,000,000. Country bankers have been aroused by the criticism of the patriotism of those who have failed to subscribe, and it is expected that more than half of the 6,000 banks will participate in the sale.

At the annual meeting of the American Writing Paper company President Galliver told the shareholders that the report for the year 1917 had been delayed because the company was having made a complete appraisal of the property.

Directors of the New Haven at their meeting yesterday morning were said to have given careful consideration to the company's financial requirements for 1918. The company has $45,000,000 notes maturing on May 1, and in addition it has been estimated that $18,000,000 will be needed to cover absolute requirements. This would make a total around $63,000,000.

Plans are in the making for the reorganization of Ætna Explosives company. It is not expected there will be any material change in the present capitalization of Ætna. Representatives of the creditors, bondholders, and stockholders, along with an unnamed new interest, are working on the plan.

At the annual meetings of the Northwestern, Metropolitan, and South Side Elevated roads retiring directors were reëlected.

The American Linseed company again has advanced the price of linseed oil in barrels, this time 3c, to $1.38 a gallon.

A Coal Mine
In Every Factory's "Backyard"

Lincoln, Ill.—close to the great jobbing and distributing centers of the Middle West—invites you to locate your manufacturing plant, or a branch of same, in Lincoln. It offers many advantages, supreme among which is the fact that Lincoln is in the very heart of a great coal district, with coal mines in the "back yard" of every factory! Lincoln's mines produce over Thirty-Five Hundred Tons Per Day.

Lincoln is a thriving city of 12,000 inhabitants, midway between Chicago and St. Louis. It is on the Main Line of the Chicago & Alton Railroad and also is the "hub" of the Illinois Central Lines, five branches radiating therefrom. Its position on the Illinois Traction System is also a factor from a freight and transportation standpoint.

The labor supply is abundant. Lincoln is the "hub" of the rich corn belt of Illinois and can furnish thousands of able-bodied workers, both men and women. And these workers are country-bred—the type that is intelligent, energetic, loyal to both employer and nation.

Lincoln, Illinois
Offers Manufacturers Sure, Cheap Supply of Fuel—and Other Advantages

It is the chief city of one of the richest agricultural sections in Illinois. It is the County Seat of Logan County, the county first to subscribe its quota of Liberty Bonds — first to subscribe its quota of Red Cross funds. Both funds were, in fact, largely oversubscribed in this county.

Lincoln also offers many advantages to the workers.

This is a city of homes. Here fuel is cheap, to your workers as well as to you.

Lincoln's churches and schools are its pride. In addition to its fine system of Public and High Schools, it possesses a splendid Business College. Lincoln is one of the most beautiful and healthful cities in the country. An abundant supply of good water, excellent gas, electric and telephone systems, splendid police and fire departments, up-to-date stores, good parks, theaters and places of amusement, make it at once a safe, pleasant and economical place to live.

Here is a city located in the wealthiest section of the United States—far enough from big population centers to be free from labor troubles and near enough to the big cities to assure quick transportation and distribution for any manufactured article.

Write us and we will gladly assist you to ascertain how Lincoln can fit your requirements if you are looking for a good place to locate your factory or branch plant.

CHICAGO BANKS WORRIED OVER N. Y. RATE JUMP

Refuse to Increase the Interest Paid on Balances.

Western banks are manifesting considerable concern over the movement of some of the New York banks to increase the rate of increase paid on bank balances from 2 to 3 per cent. About two months ago large depositors in Chicago banks accustomed to receive 2 per cent on their balances were being sought by New York institutions, the bid being 3 per cent on such deposits. So far as learned at the time none of the local banks would meet the proposed increase.

Now the New York banks are bidding for bank deposits by offering 2½ and 3 per cent on balances. The object is to take from Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis, and other reserve cities the balances now carried there by country banks. The lending rate in New York on call funds has for some weeks been near 6 per cent. Time rates are 5½ and 6 per cent.

Regarded as Profitable.

In the present period of firm rates it is evidently regarded as profitable by the eastern banks to pay 3 per cent on deposits and lend at 5½ and 6 per cent. At the same time it is one method of increasing business at the expense of a long established banking practice.

There is some difference of policy on the part of Chicago banks with reference to this move by New York institutions. It is not generally regarded with favor for several reasons. Its tendency is to disturb the relations existing between Chicago banks and their correspondents in other cities. To protect these relations it might be necessary for local banks to increase the 2 per cent they now pay on balances to 2½ and 3 per cent. What Chicago banks will find it necessary to do St. Louis, Minneapolis, Kansas City, and New Orleans will also be obliged to do. The whole fabric of interest rates will be raised throughout the country from ½ to 1 per cent. all because a few New York banks have chosen to filch deposits from other banks during the present season of good rates.

Will Affect Other Securities.

If the banks increase the rate they pay on deposits they will correspondingly increase the amount they will charge borrowers. Next the borrowers finding they must pay either ½ or 1 per cent more on the money they borrow will seek investments returning a higher rate than those with which they are now satisfied. Automatically this will tend to lower prices for interest bearing bonds and other securities. As the process goes on the government will find that the new competition established will mean higher rates on Liberty loan and other issues to compete with the returns made by corporation bonds.

Within the last two years the banks have enjoyed profitable rates, the advance being from around 3½ per cent. It is the opinion of some of the larger institutions that this period of profits should be allowed to stand as a setoff against the low rates when 2 per cent on deposits is all the banks could stand. A few years ago they were lending at 3¼ and 3½ per cent. The margin of profit, after paying 2 per cent on deposits, was so small that a reduction of the rate paid on balances was considered. However, the 2 per cent level was maintained. Now it is argued that to raise the rate would mean a subsequent disturbance of banking relations when cheap money will necessitate a drop from 2½ and 3 per cent to the old 2 per cent figure.

Others Would Pay the Price.

Primarily the matter is a banker's proposition, but as indicated high rates would soon spread to all forms of business and eventually the public and the government would pay the price. So far as can be seen the only profit to come out of the new deal would be that enjoyed by the few banks seeking to gain extra deposits by buying them over the protest of competitors.

Some of the Chicago banks have received letters from their correspondents regretting the situation that is being brought about. While there must be some western institutions that favor the raise, they have not as yet been heard from.

COPPER REFINERS SAY HIGH COSTS MAY CLOSE THEM

New York, Feb. 26.—Copper refining companies have delivered an ultimatum to copper producing companies stating that unless the latter pay an increased charge for the handling of their product the refineries will have to shut down. Executive committees of the various refining companies have held sessions recently and the situation is so critical that it was deemed best to acquaint the producing companies with the real facts, accompanied with a demand that the refining charge be increased. It is expected that the copper mining companies will agree to the additional expense.

Refining costs have increased from ½ to ⅝c a pound. Last year the refining output was 2,350,340,600 pounds. The various mining companies have contracts with the refining corporations calling for a certain charge for treating metal, but on account of increased costs the refining companies claim that their expenses exceed the contract figures.

The smelting and refining companies are also threatened with strikes. The men employed at the various plants, especially in Perth Amboy, N. J., are demanding higher wages. Not only that but the cost of the various chemicals which enter into the refining of metals have soared to high levels ever since the war started.

Total sales of bonds [par value], $3,465,000.

LATE TRADING STRONG.

New York, Feb. 26.—Wall street's inability to draw any definite conclusions from the latest utterances of the German chancellor probably accounted for the uncertain trend of stocks during the early part of today's trading.

This feeling was thrown off later, however, representative rails, shippings, and industrials making substantial gains in the last hour and imparting additional strength to various specialties.

Pools enlivened the session by their sporadic activity in speculative issues. Baldwin Locomotive made up the greater part of its recent abrupt decline, gaining over six points. American Sumatra Tobacco also advanced almost five points, with another rout of the shorts.

Commission Houses Differ.

The commission houses that have an extensive wire service are in conflict as to the impulses behind the buying movement. The houses with southern connections today reported heavy accumulation of railroad and steel stocks.

Some of the western houses did a fairly heavy business, notwithstanding interrupted wire service, and their advices were that Cleveland, Toledo, and Chicago believe industries engaged in the manufacture of munitions and supplies will show an increased volume of business during the present year, and perhaps well into the succeeding twelve months.

No small part of the advance today was due to the hasty retreat of the shorts. Heavy lines were put out on Monday, when the market seemed to be riding to a fall, and when prices opened higher today there was a stampede in some quarters to get under cover.

Many Stocks Show Gains.

Included among the other two to four point gains were Texas company, Mercantile Marine preferred, Atlantic Gulf, Industrial Alcohol, American Locomotive, Westinghouse, Pacific Mail, Hide and Leather preferred, and Loose-Wiles common and preferred.

United States Steel guided the seasoned industrials, and Pacifics were strongest of the rails, Canadian Pacific gaining three points, with one to two points for prominent coalers.

Call money opened at 4 per cent, but soon rose to 6 on a broad demand. Time money was quoted at 6 per cent for all dates, but the supply was negligible.

French bonds were strong, but the general list, including Liberty issues, was inclined to ease. United States (old issues) were unchanged on call.

GARY TELLS OF LARGE INCREASE IN STEEL OUTPUT

New York, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—After the meeting of the United States Steel directors today Chairman Gary said there had been an unusually large increase in the operating ratio of the corporation during the last week, that ingot production was 75 per cent of normal, while finishing mills are operating at about 85 per cent.

Only a week ago the blast furnace production of the corporation was a little better than 50 per cent, while the ingot and finishing mills were producing at the rate of slightly below 60 per cent. The average gain for the week has been something like 25 per cent. This improvement has been due to the relief in the railroad congestion.

Mr. Gary said 43,251 employés of the corporation had taken 95,437 shares of common stock at $92 a share. Last year 39,230 employés took 67,711 shares. The employés have made high wages during the year.

UNITED CIGAR STORES EARNINGS SHOW DECREASE

New York, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—The annual report of the United Cigar Stores company for the year ended Dec. 31 last shows net profits after preferred dividends and war taxes equal to $9.41 per share on the $27,162,000 common stock outstanding. This is considerably less than the official expectations of a month ago and compares with $10.09 earned on the same amount of stock in 1916.

The company has made a reserve of $550,000 for war taxes. This is equal to 2 per cent on the outstanding common stock, which means that on the same basis of comparison as at the end of 1916 the company earned $11.45 a share for the junior issue.

Against earnings of $9.41 a share the company disbursed $7.75 a share in dividends on its junior issue, which leaves a surplus for the year after all dividends of $451,556. Total surplus as of Dec. 31, 1917, amounts to $3,683,217.

The company now has 1,231 stores and agencies in operation.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK.

The board of directors of the federal reserve bank of Chicago, at their monthly meeting yesterday, decided to make no change in rates of rediscount. The former schedule, ranging from 3½ to 5½ per cent, stands.

NEW LEAD PRICE ADVANCE.

ON THE BROAD STREET CURB

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—[Special.]—With the exception of the motor stocks a firm tone was presented in the market for curb securities today. Both peace and war stocks enjoyed substantial improvements in the early trading, with a fair outside demand being found for the lower priced issues.

Renewed selling in the Russian government securities was again the feature of the bond market, which generally was quiet. Both 5½s and 6½s fell to new low records, with losses of about three points from yesterday's closing levels.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The sales of national war bonds last week amounted to over £21,000,000, which, with the liquidation of some deceased estates, accounts for the dullness of gilt edged securities on the stock exchange. The market otherwise was steady today, with colonial bonds and rubber and shipping shares in good request, and there was continued buying of oil stocks and Australian mines. Money was in better demand and discount rates were steady. Bar silver, 42½d an oz. Money 3 per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 3⅝ per cent; three months, 3⅝ per cent.

PARIS, Feb. 26.—Trading on the bourse today was irregular. Rentes, 57 francs 50 centimes. Exchange on London, 27 francs 18½ centimes. Five per cent loan, 87 francs 85 centimes.

CANADA'S TRADE INCREASES.

Canada's trade passed the $2,000,000,000 mark in ten months, an increase of more than $350,000,000 over the same period of the last previous year. Domestic merchandise exported amounted to over $1,000,000,000, against more than $960,000,000.

TALK OF THE STREET

GENERAL MOTORS shares had an upturn in the last half hour of the session, advancing to 122. It appeared to be the notion in the market that the selling which has lasted for three or four days might be over. There was no news concerning the issue.

It is reported in the street that the Studebaker company will show $9 earned on the common stock. The annual report is expected shortly. The dividend rate is now 4 per cent. The stock was traded in moderately yesterday.

Willys-Overland shares have shown but small improvement since the reduction in the dividend rate. The stock has been holding at a little better than 18. There is an impression that a pool will be found operating the shares when general market conditions show broader improvement.

In the latter part of the session there was a general rally with prices closing around the top. U. S. Steel closed strong at 97½, a gain of 2⅜ points for the day. The wire service between New York and Chicago was greatly interrupted. There was no comment on Steel except that apparently shorts were being run in.

The market was rather stale in the matter of news, relying mostly for bull sentiment on the German chancellor's speech, which was taken to squint toward peace parleys. This did not appeal to all observers, since official utterances by representatives of the German government do not carry the conviction that once characterized them.

One market critic said: "Shorts are now pretty well covered around the room from the influence of what has been considered the slightly better chance for renewed peace talk. Traders who have been predicating their bullish position on the market on the hope of early peace developments have done most of the buying and have been really most active in bidding up prices. So far as I can see, this is all there has been in today's market."

Public buying has not developed to any extent, according to most commission houses. There is reported, however, a large volume of cash purchases ascribed in great part to large interests and to old holders of stocks who are able to take up their commitments.

Money developed an easier tendency on call in New York and ruled at 5 per cent. But time funds continue hard to get. The banks appear to be placing their surplus in Wall street in order to be able to get it back when needed in connection with the offerings of treasury certificates an dthe next Liberty loan.

Some of the market interests often active on the long side are holding to the view that the railroad stocks will be prominent late in the week after a vote is taken on the administration railroad bill. They think the passage of that measure will create a good demand for many of the railroad stocks as well as for the low priced bonds.

Baldwin Locomotive was in rather strong demand throughout the session. It had a 6¼ point advance for the day. The greatest improvement was shown in the last hour. Sumatra Tobacco was another feature scoring an advance of 4⅝ points. The equipment stocks were in moderate demand.

A big deal in Elston avenue manufacturing property, involving the payment of approximately $128,570 for the land and improvements to cost over $600,000, was reported yesterday. The purchase, which was made by the Ilg Electric Ventilating company, comprises 214,282 square feet at the southeast corner of Elston avenue and Snow street, being a part of the Joseph Lister homestead of twelve and one-half acres, which is understood to have been acquired by the Ilg company from the Lister estate at the rate of 60 cents a square foot, or a total of $128,570.

The purchasing company will improve, it is said, with a group of buildings, the plans for which are being prepared by Lebenbaum, Marx & Vigeant, which, together with the land, will represent an investment of $750,000, it is said. Thomas E. Sullivan & Co. represented all the parties to the transaction. Hugo Sonnenschein attended to the legal details.

Purchased in 1869.

The land, which has a frontage of 325 feet on Elston avenue by 710 feet on Snow street, extending to the Chicago and Northwestern railway right of way, was purchased in 1869 by Joseph Lister, a descendant of Lord Lister. The present homestead was erected before the Chicago fire, and in the early days was known as one of the show places of Chicago and was noted for its hospitality.

The remaining unsold land comprises 330,000 square feet, and, like that just sold, is restricted to high grade manufacturing concerns. In connection with the remainder of the land, it is said, the Lister estate will install a surface storage track to accommodate thirty cars, said to be an innovation in factory districts.

Will Be Built in Units.

The improvements to be erected by the Ilg company will be of the latest type of four story fireproof buildings, in units of 300x60 feet, ground dimensions, connected by passageways and eighty foot light courts. Much attention will be given to the comfort and health of employés, including rest rooms, shower baths, a completely furnished gymnasium, company dining and club room.

The rapid growth of the purchasing company has necessitated several changes involving more space during the last few years. It moved from small quarters on East Kinzie street in 1910 to its present location, on Whiting street, where it erected building "A." Building "B" was erected in 1915, and in 1917 building "C," fronting on Wells street, was erected. It is also one of the pioneers in profit sharing with employés.

Flat Building Sold.

The new eighteen apartment building at the southeast corner of Laflin and Sixty-first streets, lot 120 feet front, has been sold by De Forrest A. Matteson to Charlotte Warren of North Dakota for a reported consideration of $50,000, subject to an incumbrance of $32,500. The deal was negotiated by H. G. Howard & Co.

The same brokers sold for Benjamin L. Coolidge to Signa M. Johnson the business property, 48x125 feet, at the southwest corner of South Kedzie avenue and Fifty-seventh street, for a reported $8,000; also the ten room residence, lot 50x200 feet, at 334 North St. John's avenue, Highland Park, for Benjamin L. Coolidge, to W. Walker, for a reported $8,500.

Downtown Leases.

In a series of leases in the downtown district recently negotiated by J. G. Merk & Co., to take effect May 1, they leased for Frank Cuneo and S. C. Iverson to the Illinois Mantle and Lamp company the store and basement at 60-62 West Lake street at a term rental of $40,000; for Kate E. Roberts to the Coppersmith company the entire building at 215-217 North Dearborn street for a term rental of $25,000; for the Hoyne estate to Schoellkopf & Co. the entire building at 230 West Lake street for a term rental of $24,000; for Doris Wesseman to the Gorton-Pew Fisheries company the entire building at 443 North La Salle street for a term rental of $20,000.

Emil Matson has acquired from Henry W. Johnson the flat property in Vernon avenue 141 feet north of One Hundred and Eleventh street, lot 50x125 feet, east front, for an indicated consideration of $28,500, subject to an incumbrance of $25,000.

Armitage Corner Sold.

The property at the northeast corner of Armitage and Tripp avenues, lot 33x125 feet, with business improvements, was conveyed by Elias H. Levee to Max O. Bernhardt for an indicated consideration of $21,388, subject to an incumbrance of $18,388. It subsequently was conveyed by Bernhardt to Peter Einhorn.

John D. Engelbrecht has conveyed to Marion Sears the property at 6639-41 St. Lawrence avenue, lot 48x121 feet, west front, with flat improvements, for an indicated $17,500, subject to $12,500.

The Daniel Hayes company, said to be one of the largest farm land selling and development companies in the middle west, will move its general office from Rock Island to Chicago. The company will occupy the bank floor and a large amount of additional space in the thirteen story Daniel Hayes building (renamed in the company's [illegible]) at 108 North Dearborn street.

①

Vogue's Paris Letter

Let Vogue pay for itself this year by providing you with reliable, advance, money-saving Paris information. The woman who reads Vogue doubles her available capital by never buying a declining style.

With Paris style information, you can buy wisely, and in advance of the mode. The secret of economy in dress doesn't lie in cheaper designs, cheaper materials; it lies in the elimination of buying mistakes. The right frock is never an extravagance. The wrong frock is always an extravagance. Because you inevitably discard it before it has given you full service, and buy the frock you should have bought in the first place.

Vogue's "Seen in the Shops"

Let Vogue pay for itself this year by helping you with your shopping. In every issue you will find the most carefully chosen offerings of the smart shops. You will get original designs, and good values.

Vogue is an expert professional buyer, with all an expert's advantages. It shops for thousands of women where you shop for one. It has years of experience in selecting merchandise and judging values. It is conversant with the great department stores and specialty shops of Fifth Avenue, and is informed, far ahead of time, in regard to important sales.

Every bit of its knowledge and information is employed in choosing those frocks, suits, lingerie and accessories which appear every month in Vogue's "Seen in the Shops" pages. They are really new, they are really values, they are really smart; and Vogue will really buy them for you.

Vogue's New Department "Dressing on a War Income"

Let Vogue pay for itself this year by saving you money through its special war-time wardrobe counsel.

This new department will give in every issue two pages of the most practical, helpful, time-saving, money-saving, and fashion-conserving information and designs that can be found either in Paris or New York. Vogue secures for you, in New York, the counterpart of the famous "little dressmaker" who is the foundation of chic for the smart Parisienne. Vogue finds the furrier who will do out-of-season work reasonably; the designer of exquisite but inexpensive lingerie; the patient linen-worker from Europe.

This year, above all others, when extravagance and waste are to be avoided, you should have Vogue at hand. For now every woman must devote even more than her customary care to the selection of her wardrobe, so that not one hat, gown or wrap may remain unworn and its price wasted.

The gown you buy and never wear is the really expensive gown. Gloves, boots, hats, that miss being exactly what you want, are the ones that cost you more than you can afford.

Vogue suggests that before you spend a single penny on new clothes, before you even plan your wardrobe, you consult its great Spring and Summer Fashion Numbers. Begin with the Spring Patterns Number, ready now.

Vogue's Advertising Pages

If you look through the advertising pages of any issue of Vogue, you are sure to find a bargain that will save you the cost of your year's subscription.

Vogue's great body of women readers is considered by merchants of women's wear the most desirable buying public in America. In order to establish relations with this public these merchants make a point of offering to Vogue readers their choicest articles of merchandise, both as to quality and as to price. If you will take the time to examine carefully the advertising pages of the first issue of Vogue which you receive, you will find in its pages a bargain that will save you—on your very first number—the price of the entire year.

Vogue's Wool Saving Models

Let Vogue pay for itself this year by providing you with ease of conscience in addition to distinction of appearance. Vogue's original designs, obtainable nowhere else, reconcile Washington and wearability.

Not only does Vogue show Paris creations. Vogue itself designs. Also Vogue chooses most carefully and shows in every issue models that substitute other materials for wool, or are designed for a minimum of woolen material. In this War-year, these designs provide a practical solution of the wool-saving problem, without the sacrifice of smartness. The latest two-material frock; the new silk suit; the 4½ yard model for woolen goods; inexpensive models for the tub frock—these are all to be found in Vogue, designed by experts for the woman who is fastidious as well as patriotic. You may have two frocks, this season, from the material that last season you needed for one.

Vogue Pattern Service

20 N. Wabash Avenue

Let Vogue earn its way by providing you with patterns. You will save enough on your first frock to pay for the whole magazine three or four times over.

A home seamstress plus a Vogue Pattern equals a smart frock at a nominal cost. Vogue Patterns are designed in advance of the mode for the woman who is hard to please. They are absolutely new but never outré; correct but never commonplace. Their very simplicity and distinction of line ensure them against duplication by the manufacturer of cheap clothing. Color schemes and combinations of materials are suggested that eliminate even the possibility of any failure.

IN the next few months, during the very period in which Vogue's special Fashion Numbers appear, you will be selecting your entire wardrobe for the coming Spring and Summer, and spending hundreds of dollars for the suits, hats, gowns and accessories that you select.

CONSIDER, then, that for $2, a tiny fraction of your loss on one ill-chosen hat or gown, you may secure ten issues of Vogue—an assurance of valuable new ideas and an insurance against costly failures. These 10 issues of Vogue bought separately, would cost you $2.50. Mail the coupon now!

*Special Offer—Don't Send Money Now!

If you mail the coupon at once, we will begin your subscription with the Spring Patterns Number, thus giving you TEN numbers of Vogue instead of NINE, without extra charge. You need not bother to inclose a cheque, or even write a letter; the coupon will do.

You will get the Spring Patterns Number at once

VOGUE, 19 West 44th Street, New York City

Send me NINE numbers of Vogue, beginning with the Spring Fashions Number, and I will remit $2 on receipt of bill. (OR) I inclose $2 herewith. It is understood that if this order reaches you in time you will send me a copy of the Spring Patterns Number without extra charge, making TEN numbers in all.

The time comes when, whether we like to or not, we must say good-bye to winter apparel.

The Spring Suit is being given a very hearty welcome in the Matthews Shop for several reasons, chief of which is the Matthews unique interpretation of advance styles.

These suits are different and look the part. Furthermore, to be able at this time and season to get the snappier things in the realm of dress at these prices is quite a feat. They are smart and yet modestly priced.
